"A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION!"

(The six men and women shown above are typical of Kodak people who devote many hours of their leisure time to volunteer community service in the Rochester area. They are, left to right: Mrs. Liame Priny, Kodak Office, a Red Cross Home Nurse; Mr. William Blake, Kodak Park Works, a longtime member of the First Aid Water Safety Program; Miss Mary Kay McStravich, Hawk-Eye Works, a volunteer driver for the Red Cross Motor Service; Mr. Jack Freese, Distillation Products Industries, a member of the Community Chest Plant Solicitation Committee; Miss Ida Evans, Navy Ordnance Division, a member of the USO Hostess Committee; and Mr. Carl Progrove, Camera Works, a member of the Auditing Division of the Community Chest.)

• The step? Sharing with others... helping the less fortunate. The right direction? Toward a finer community. These are only six of thousands of Kodak men and women who—this year, as in the past—join with neighbors and friends in the Community Chest-Red Cross campaign. In fact, this kind of personal support of worthwhile community projects has been characteristic of Kodak men and women through the years. It is one of the qualities of Kodak people of which the company is most proud.
