Circus Brings Variety Bill To Aquinas Stadium

Mills Bros. Three Ring Circus, which the Aquinas Men's Club brings to Aquinas Stadium, corner of Mt. Read Blvd. and Ridgeway Ave., for two performances on June 9th, promises a diversified program ranging from musical spectacles to a 40-ton revue of elephants.

The world's largest motorized circus comes to Rochester for 2 and 8 p.m. performances the one day only to aid the Aquinas Men' Club in raising money for their Scholarship Fund.

CIRCUS CHAMPIONS from 18 nations give Mills Bros. a wide variety of aerial, ground and animal features. Foreign importations, making their first American tour include the Flying Rudis, Czechoslovakian aerial troupe; the Great Grecos from Greece, who balance on one finger; Jesus Cordona, South American cloud swing artist; Rudolph Jung, Austrian juggler; and the Gaona Troupe, Spanish casting stars.

Also appearing here with the 17th anniversary edition of Mills Bros. will be the Four Namedils, French perch act; Seven Hungarians, risley wonders; 12 Melitts, English acrobats; Teresa Palencia, Argentine head balancer; the Droguettes, Chilian hat jugglers; and the Four Dubskys, German equilibrists.

In addition to the wide assortment of human performers, Mills Bros. offers a diversified group of animal displays including three rings of liberty horses trained by Equestrain director Paul Nelson, military drills of ponies, trained dogs, educated menage horses and 40 tons of elephants presented by Capt. Virgil Sagraves.

MAJOR BIG TOP productions will include the opening musical spectacle "Fiesta", "Can-Can Coquettes," a French aerial ballet, and "Sailing in the Sky."

A congress of clowns from several nations will include Harry Baker, master mirth maker from London, and Pipo the hilarious Chilean marvel.

Aquinas Men's Club members have reduced price advance tickets, from which come greatest proceeds to the Scholarship Fund on sale now.

Trouble Shooters

These men are ready for trouble at any time. You see, they are Albert A. Newman (in truck) and Raymond B. Luft of the Rochester Gas and Electric's Transportation Department. The emergency truck which they operate is probably the most completely equipped one of its kind in the country. This specially-designed unit carries, among other things, manhole blowers, portable suction pumps, portable two-way telephones, a portable electric generator, searchlights, carbon dioxide and powder fire extinguishers, gas masks, a stretcher, first aid equipment and an inhalator with oxygen breathing apparatus. The RG&E has placed this emergency truck in Monroe County's Mutual Aid System, making it available whenever and wherever it is needed.
