3 Priest Sons Offer Mass For Jubilarians

St. Stanislaus Church was the scene of the 50th golden wedding anniversary observed by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Matuszewski, Sunday, Sept. 2.

The Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving was offered by their sons, the Rev. Leo J. Matuszewski, celebrant; the Rev. Stanley J. Matuszewski, deacon; and the Rev. Eugene J. Matuszewski, sub-deacon.
The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. Balcerak received the renewal of the marriage vows preceding the Mass and preached the sermon. In his discourse, Monsignor Balcerak said that this was the first time in the history of the parish, in fact, an event that did not happen nor will ever occur in most parishes throughout the country, that golden jubilarians renewed their marriage vows with three priest-sons offering Mass at the altar of God.
"It is," he said, "our privilege to witness this anniversary observance, an observance that could only happen once in the lives of most people." At the conclusion of his sermon, Monsignor Balcerak administered the Apostolic Blessing bestowed on the couple by His Holiness, Pope Pius XII.

Present in the sanctuary were: Monsignor Balcerak, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Wenceslaus A. Losiencki of Wilkes-Barre, Penna., Rev. Andrew Bocianski of Scranton, Penna., Rev. Stanislaus Janczewski, Rev. Matthew A. Sludarski and Rev. Chester M. Kloczek.
The Rev. Leo V. Smith, pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, attended the dinner which was held at Powers Hotel.
Miss Angela Losiencki who was the maid of honor 50 years ago was also present. Mary Frances Matuszewski and Carol Ann Matuszewski, granddaughters, served in the capacity of ring and cane-bearers at the church ceremony.

Besides their priest sons, Father Leo, Father Stanley, and Father Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Matuszewski have one daughter, Eugenia, and three other sons, Valerian, Bernard, and Aloysius. Five grandchildren were also present.
Mr. and Mrs. Matuszewski reside at 29 Zygmunt St., Rochester.

He Watches TM Instead of TV
While these may look like TV sets, they are actually TM sets. This man is Frank W. Dries, who has worked at the ROCHESTER GAS AND ELECTRIC for more than 15 years. Part of his job in RG&E's Gas Distribution Department is to keep an experienced eye on these telemetric charts. They automatically record pressures in gas distribution mains in all parts of the system. These pressures are transmitted through telephone lines from those distant locations by electrical impulses. If trouble should develop in any area, a noticeable change in pressure would immediately register on one of these charts. Frank would then dispatch a radio truck to that location and repairs would be made quickly. Experienced employes and modern equipment are necessary to bring you the most dependable gas and electric service possible.
