Newspaper Threatens Ban On Movie Ads

A threat to ban all theatre advertising layouts unless there is an improvement over the present "filthy" motion picture ads was announced this week by New Hampshire's leading daily leading newspaper, the Manchester Union-Leader.

A typical example of the insidious advertising used by Hollywod promoters was that given on theatre pages to the recent Warner Brothers film "The Bad Seed."

One nationally-used layout consisted of a drawing of a female figure in a flimsy gown standing in a darkened doorway.

The lines read: "A hidden shame out in the open — and the most terrifying rock-bottom a woman ever hit for love."

THE "HIDDEN SHAME" referred to was a ten-year-old child in the film who is a murderess. The "rock-bottom hit for love" is the high point in the movie wherein the half-crazed mother of the demented child decides that the only solution to the problem is to give an overdose of sleeping tablets to the little girl and then kill herself.

Another advertising line reads: "This picture would not have been made ten years ago! Many story themes once considered taboo have become wonderfully thrilling motion pictures. And among the most daring of them all, this one is perhaps the boldest!"

NO WONDER the movie-goer was surprised to see the Courier-Journal's Legion of Decency give "The Bad Seed" an A-2, or Unobjectionable for Adults rating.

True, "The Bad Seed" is a shocking story. A ten-year-old committing murders is far from a common event. But the insidious and salacious advertising completely ignored the movie story.

The advertising copy was aimed at only one thing — to have the reader believe that the "immorality" of the film had to do with sex.

THE TRUTH IS that the film was extremely "moral" in its handling and made for exciting entertainment. It was not a film for children, but not for the reason that the advertising inferred.

Neither the murders nor the attempted murder and suicide were justified in the movie script and the final outcome of the story was resolved by "an act of God."

In an editorial announcing its position, the Manchester paper said: "Hollywood seems to have gone beserk and is under the mistaken impression that only the depraved, only the unnatural, only the obscene in moving pictures is attractive to U. S. citizens. This is an insult to the men and women and children of this nation."

Priest OK's Rock-n-roll, Prefers Pilgrimages

London, — (NC) — Father Gordon Albion, popular broadcaster and London pastor, told a Catholic youth rally here that he is all for rock-and-roll —"at least in principle if not in practice."

Such outbursts as rock-and roll are part of the natural effervescence of youth and are therefore good, he said.

There is no need to analyze all this business into some extraordinary manifestation of evil, still less of satanic possession," he added. "It is merely an outlet, conceived in atomage times," for the natural exurberance of youth. God gave youth its vitality, its lack of inhibitions, its irresponsible inquisitiveness.

ALL THESE are very attractive qualities but they boomerang back on you unless they are restrained by the intelligence and will God gave you precisely to control them."

Father Albion urged his audience, members of the Catholic Youth Federation, to work off their exuberance by seizing their opportunities to travel with the energy and enterprise of Robert Louis Stevenson and Hilaire Belloc.

Pilgrimages could be an adventure, and all traval — if undertaken properly wth an eye to the Catholics shrines, centers and other places of worship could be a pilgrimage, he said.

He suggested that Catholic teenagers who wanted to go somewhere on their bicycles or motorscooters could tour all the churches of their local area.

Montreal Priest Raps Rock-n-roll

Montreal —(RNS)—The staging of a rock 'n roll dance show in the Montreal Forum on a Sunday afternoon was criticized here by the leader of a French-Canadian Catholic youth organization.

Jacques Levesque, president of L'Association de la Jeunesse Canadienne-Francaise, urged authorities to ban such demonstrations in the future.

"It was discouraging to note the material success of such spectacles when youth appeared disinterested in more serious sociological, religious and economic problems," he said.

He called upon all associations, especially the parents' groups, to combat rock 'n roll.

Gets Education 'The Hard Way'

Pittsburgh — (NC) — Richard Dwyer, "Mr. Big" of the Ice Follies of 1956, is getting a Catholic education the hard way. He has attended 22 schools on his travels with the ice show troupe.

The Ice Follies is tentatively scheduled at Rochester's Community War Memorial, March 18-24.

From 1951 to 1953, Dick attended Central Catholic High School here—one week a year. It was part of a program designed to enable the 20-year-old skating star to obtain a Catholic high school education while performing with the touring Ice Follies.

HE EVENTUALLY was graduated from Loyola High School in San Francisco. At present he is a freshman at the University of San Francisco. He has received high praise wherever he has appeared with the ice show.
