Drama Opens Tonight At Nazareth

What happens when the spirit of Satan takes hold in the soul of a young girl and she becomes possessed with the devil? What effect can diabolic possession have on those persons who come in close contact with such a girl so mortally oppressed. And what can these effects mean to a priest of God who is called upon to drive the devil from her?

These are the major issues confronting the characters in Frank Carney's "THE RIGHTEOUS ARE BOLD" which will be offered tonight (Friday) and Saturday evening by the Dramatic Association of Nazareth College. Curtain will be at 8:30 both evenings in the college auditorium, 4245 East Ave. Tickets are $1.00 and may be purchased at the door or from any Nazareth student. A matinee performance for religious, clergy and seminarians will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

THIS EVENING'S performance of "THE RIGHTEOUS ARE BOLD" will be the first off-Broadway presentation of the play since its closing in New York. Through special arrangement with the play's publishers, Nazareth has been granted such rights, according to Alan Stambusky, director of drama at the women's college, who is staging the work. Performances are being coached by Rita Trojan Stambusky.

The play is a story of diabolic possession and exorcism. It was first produced at the famed Abbey Theatre in Dublin where it ran for an unprecedented sixteen weeks and was revived three times. Eddie Dowling, noted New York producer-director, successfully staged "The Righteous Are Bold" on Broadway last spring with a cast composed largely of distinguished Irish players from the Dublin Abbey and Dublin Gate Theatres.

NAZARETH STUDENTS in the cast are Candida Pilla of Trenton, N.J., who plays the lead role of Nora Geraty; Mary Ann Handlan of Geneva who portrays Mary Kate, her mother; Stephanie Sullivan of Windham, who plays Nellie the Post; Mary Samway of Schenectary as Mother Benedict; and Sally Denvir of Boston as Sister Mary of the Rosary.

Also in the cast are: James Mead of Victor (St. John Fisher College) as Nora's father, Michael Martin Geraty; Bernard Hall of Victor (St. John Fisher College) as Anthony Costello, Nora's close friend; Mark Bonsignore (St. John Fisher) as Doctor Moran; and Craig MacNab (Brighton High School) as Nora's brother Patrick.

LIGHT MOMENTS give contrast to a tense drama of diabolic possession. Comedy relief in Nazareth College's current production of "The Righteous Are Bold" gives the stage to (from left) Mary Ann Handlan, James Mead and Stephanie Sullivan. Performances are set for tonight and Saturday night at 8:30. Alan Stambusky is director.

LIFE Slates 'Special' On Hungary Story

New York — "Hungary's Fight for Freedom", a depiction of the tragic recent events in Hungary, reconstructed through photographs and eye-witness accounts, will appear nationally on newsstands Tuesday, December 4th. Prepared by the editors of LIFE Magazine, the 100-page publication will sell for 50c.

All LIFE profits will go to the International Rescue Committee, non-profit organization which was set up to aid refugees from totalitarianism and currently helping to care for the scores of thousands of Hungarian refugees who have been crossing Hungary's borders into the free West.

THE UNIQUE publication grew out of the Hungarian coverage by a six-man TIME and LIFE editorial team, headed by correspondent Tim Foote, who were in Budapest from the moments of first angry public protest through the final clampdown by Soviet armor.

The work of many U. S. and foreign photographers is included. Many of the photographs have not previously been published.

Text includes the eye-witness accounts of correspondents, photographers and resistance fighters as well as special background material prepared by members of the LIFE text staff.

Copies of "Hungary's Fight for Freedom" will be made available through major newsstands throughout the country. They can also be obtained by writing directly to LIFE Magazine, 9 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City.

Priest Plays Piano With Symphony

Cincinnati, O. — (RNS) — A Jesuit priest made musical history here when he played a piano concerto with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

The Rev. John H. Reinke, S.J., professor of psychology at Xavier University, is the first American Jesuit — and probably the first priest in the U. S. — to be a soloist with a major symphony orchestra.

At a concert in Xavier Fieldhouse marking the 125th anniversary of the university, he played Gershwin's Piano Concerto in F.

With Peter Paul Loyanich, a concert pianist, the priest also performed "Xaverjani," a fantasy for two pianos and orchestra composed by Dr. Felix Labunski, a Cincinnati composer, from the themes of three Xavier University songs.

Priest, Lay Leader Freed By Reds

Berlin — (NC) — Father Hermann Jansen, pastor of the Catholic Church of Warnemunde, near Rostock, has been released after seven years in Red Prisons.

He was jailed on trumped-up charges and temporarily deported to a place of detention in the Soviet Union.

Also released is former Berlin Catholic youth leader, Manfred Klein, who suffered the same fate as Father Jansen except that he was in jail for nine years.

The two men have reported that there are still hundreds of innocent victims of communism in jails in Soviet-controlled areas.

Church Choirs— Throughout the country parishes and schools are in rehearsal for the feast of Christmas. A program of Christmas hymns prior to Midnight Mass is a tradition in most parishes.

Carols Herald Yule Season

Christmas is a singing time and throughout the world from palace to foxhole the new-born Babe is still greeted with song as He was in Bethlehem by angel choirs.

Radio and television stations as well as concert houses across the country are planning Christmas programs to herald the yuletide season.

Parish choirs, schools, parochial and diocesan organizations are in rehearsal to give Christmas performances for their own groups or charity benefits.

ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI

Music has become an integral part of the holy season and ranges from the ancient plain chant of the Mass to popular ditties.

THE BELOVED and traditional hymns and carols of other centuries return each year with their familiar verses and ageless appeal.

In the early years of the Church most Christmas songs were sung in Latin, even though the somewhat impersonal plain chant had given way to popular ideas of melody and rhythm.

A need was felt, however, for the vernacular. Where or by whom it was used for the first time is not known, but if one person may be singled out for the popularization of Christmas he is St. Francis of Assisi.

Whether his influence on musicians was direct or not, the fact remains that from his time on the common language appeared in songs, dividing honors with Latin, but soon taking full possession of the lyrics.

CHRISTMAS WAS something to be lived and enjoyed every day and not a formal rite reserved to Mass on holydays. Men were intensely interested in all that God had done and was to do for them.

The birth of Jesus was not merely a great, incomprehensible mystery. It was an event worth preparing for, talking about, commemorating in carols.

Carols kept alive and added to the already existing Christmas traditions. They were a vital source of medieval religious enthusiasm, bringing all men in a very natural way to participate in the liturgical life of the Church.

Carols died with the liturgical drama from which they derived their charm. Christian hymns gradually took their place, catering to a world which thought so much of its own pleasure that it could not bear the sight of a crude stable.

DURING THE last century carol singing has seen a revival, evoking an interest that has steadily increased. Catholic schools and groups of various kinds are helping in this revival of not only the music but the spirit of the carols.
