In the same Messianic psalm in which he laments the sorrows of Christ David also sales out confidently; "O Lord make haste to belp me."

This, too, forecasts the spirit of the dying Christ, His divine ure and divine confience throughout the entire ordeal of the cross. Almost as moon as He laments His sufferings, Christ prayerfully and confidently intrusts Himself to His Father . . Father, into poirit." (Luice 23:46)

Here on the cross Christ speaks in the person of His Mystical Body which is His Church Way, asks Ameustine. should we distain to hear the water of the Church speaking with the lips of Christ?

The Church suffers in Christ when He suffers for that Church even as He suffers in the Church when the Chauch suffers for Him.

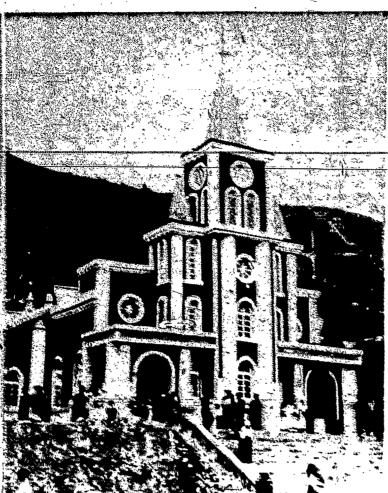

We hear the voice of the Church suffering in Carist when He says: "My God, my God. why hant thou formicen me?" And so also we hear the woice of Christ suffering in the hurch when He caries out: "Saul Saul why persecutest thou me?"

THE DESOLATION of the dying Christ on the cross is part of the great mayslery of God's limitless love for man. "My God, My God, why hast thou forsalen me?" Only God's love can give us the key to the mystery of these words. Only Gods' love for man can explain why God's Son is on the altar of the cross.

"My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" These words proclaim God's love from the cross. "Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his dife for his friends." (John 15:13 Here on Calvary God's own Son gives His life for the world. God dies for His friends'
