Mercy Orchestra, Glee Club Set Spring Concert Program

As part of the centennial celebration of the Sisters of Mercy in Rochester, the orchestra and glee club of Our Lady of Mercy High School are preparing their annual spring concert scheduled for Sunday, May 5 at 3 p.m. and Monday, May 6 at 8:30 p.m.

Glee Club will be under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Tetzlaff Besek, a graduate of Mercy High and Misericordia College. Sister Mary Margaret, Glee Club director, has prepared the group.

Program will begin with the "Ave Maria" by Montani and "O Bone Jesu." As a special feature the Glee Club will render the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

A MEDLEY of folk songs will be sung including: "Galway Piper", "Wake Thee, Now, Dearest", and an arrangement of "O Dear What Can the Matter Be?"

Included on the program will be two selections by Tschaikowsky: "Pilgrim's Song" and "Legend." A medley of Victor Herbert favorites, "September Song," and selections from "The King and I" will comprise the second half of the program. "This Is My Country" will be heard at the close.

Duet "In My Garden" will be sung by junior Mary Kay Siebold and senior Pat Griffith, accompanied by senior Diane Doran. Accompanists for the Glee Club are Georgianne Quinn and Pat Russell who will also play a duet, "Donkey Serenade" and "Promenade" by Leroy Anderson.

St. Clare Patron Of Italian TV

Vatican City (NC) — St. Clare of Assisi has been chosen as the patron saint of television in Spain and Italy.

This choice was made because of a miraculous event in the saint's life. On Christmas Day in 1252, St. Clare was too sick and weak to leave her chamber in the Convent of St. Damiano. It is said, however, that through the grace of God, she was able to follow the ceremonies in St. Francis of Assisi's church as though she were present—a kind of supernatural television.

DOINGS AT THE DALY'S

By Mary Tinley Daly

The scent of orange blossoms-to-come has been discernable around our house for quite some time. Last Christmas, we found, it dominated the holly in the living room, permeated the poinsettias on the piano and the mistletoe in the doorway.

Mary Daly

For Eileen, Christmas, 1956 meant far more than just a vacation from college and the usual festivities with many dates. Tony Brennan was THE date, as he has been for months. Not exactly guessing what was in the offing, nevertheless we were not particularly surprised when they told us the news of their decision.

No announcement at that time, of course. They'd wait until Easter and "nobody but family" would know until then.

At least, that's the way it was supposed to be . . . But, as we say in the newspaper business, "there was a leak" so that close friends for the past several weeks have been offering Eileen and Tony good wishes — and that's fine, just fine!

July is the month selected by the young couple for the wedding, July 13th the day, and the church is reserved for 10 o'clock in the morning. Aside from that, few definite plans have been made. A simple wedding is planned, one that can be handled easily and happily, for we are not geared temperamentally nor financially for a de-luxe production.

REMEMBER "FATHER of the Bride"? We loved the book, and the movie, but we're in no mood to go through a like experience. The Head of the House would have a nervous breakdown at the very thought! (If Eileen and I didn't beat him to it.)

With Eileen home for Easter vacation, we can get down to concrete planning of details that have been only conversation pieces in letters back and forth: celebrant of the Mass, bridal gown, what all the rest of us will wear, attendant (or attendants), ushers, music, flowers, invitations, trousseau . . .

Markie to be maid-of-honor, that's settled. Eileen has written to her 16-month-younger sister and Markie gladly accepted — after receiving permission from the Supervisor of Student Nurses to get that day off.

"I'll probably smell like disinfectants," Markie wrote Eileen, "so have plenty of Chanel No. 5, or 6 and 7 if you can get 'em!"

Inevitably, in Eileen's mind, arose the question: "Should all my sisters, and all of Tony's be in the wedding party?" We began counting, and it required the fingers of both hands. So, no de-luxe production!

SEEMS STRANGE that one can go to so many weddings, notice that everything goes smoothly, with an almost monotonous repetition, yet when you're planning one, especially if it's your first, you puzzle over the minutest detail.

Technically speaking, of course, when our Johnny married five years ago, it was the "first" for this family. However, all we had to do was submit a list of "to be inviteds", get ourselves dressed and GO, and to a really lovely wedding. Now, we're counting heavily on Lady Lu (as Johnny calls her) for advice and million-to-one Lady Lu will come through with the best ideas possible.

Right now, the first step is merely to mail the engagement notice to the newspapers. Accustomed as we are to writing for publication, both the Head of the House and I wrote and re-wrote that short, routine piece three different times!

Somehow, it's different when it's a personal matter . . . "Could have had a feature story half done" the Head of the House sighed. "Matter of fact, the only part of a newspaper I never worked in was the woman's section." He may not be "working in it" now, but he is a contributer—of one inch of space.

Finally we finished it—by copying a similar one in the morning paper and substituting names and dates.

AND SO IT goes:

"Mr. and Mrs. John Jay Daly announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Eileen to Mr. Anthony B. Brennan, Jr., son of Mr. Anthony B. Brennan and the late Mrs. Brennan. Miss Daly is a graduate of Georgetown Visitation Convent and is at present attending Regis College, Weston, Massachusetts. Her fiance is a graduate of Georgetown University and is employed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. A July 13 wedding is planned."
