

Hornell Play Cast, Director Receive Awards At St. Ann's

Hornell — "Oscars" were presented this week to all members of the cast of St. Ann's recent parish production of "Career Angel" at a dinner party given for the participants by the Rev. Joseph E. Smith, assistant pastor and director of the group.

Dinner was held in the Pine Room of St. Ann School and was followed by dancing.

Sherrites and adults who assisted in the presentation on April 25 and 26 in Hornell High School auditorium were guests. "Oscars" were in the form of statuettes of simulated ivory topped by bronze figurines. On the base of each was an engraved plate bearing the name of the recipient, the character he portrayed in the play and the date of the presentation.

FATHER SMITH explained to the group that each member of the cast performed his part with fidelity and skill and each contributed to the success of the play. Sherrites were presented with novelty hats that they wore during performances.

In return the cast presented Father Smith with a silver bowl engraved with his name and the production name and dates.

Guests included Mrs. Robert Pehlf, who did choreography for the comedy; Miss Josephine Ciancaglini, makeup; Miss Margaret Ann Haggerty and Miss Virginia Hussong, Hornell High School faculty assistants.

Mothers who assisted in setting the dinner were Mrs. C. E. Pam, Mrs. J. Gerald Griffin, Mrs. Harry Sherman, Mrs. Matthew Delany and Mrs. Anthony Parlay.

MEMBERS OF THE cast of "Career Angel" were Eugene Burns, Harvey Evland, James Patti, Sandra Beckerman, Matthew DeLany, Evelyn McLean, Ann Lisa, Sally Vainie, Louis Busch, Anthony Paulave, Donald Kelley, Kathleen McKay, David Coogan, Helen Marengo.
