Priest Installed In Mayor Post

The first priest in modern times to become a town mayor in Britain, Father Stanley J. Vince, was ceremoniously in-stalled in this heart of Noncomformist Wales.

A Methodist minister who protested the installation was ruled out of order by the town council which had elected Father Vince as mayor. The priest was invested in the furtrimmed scarlet robes of of fice. The whole town council agreed to attend an official Mass to mark the occasion the following Sunday.

As Father Vince's Little church of Our Lady holds only 30 people, the Mass was of-Zered by a visiting Redemptorist in the auditorium of the town hall, with Carmelite Fathers from nearby Llandilo forming the choir.

Father Vince, who has been stationed here only three years, was elected to the town council last year. He has designated Mrs. Elizabeth Rees, wife of the outgoing mayor and a non-Catholic, to continue her ceremonial functions as "mayoress."

College Honors Bishop

LE MOYNE COLLEGE

Syracuse, New York

To All Persons To Whom These Presents May Come sented his credentials to I is Holiness Pope Plus XII in a Greetings In Our Lord

Le Moyne College is honored today to welcome the Most Reverend James Edward Kearney, Bishop of Rochester, post since January, 1954. and on this occasion of its seventh commencement is privileged to add him to the growing ranks of its distinguished alumni.

As Priest and Bishop he has followed closely in the footsteps of Christ, the Good Shepherd, in providing for the spiritual growth and development of his flock. Early in his priesthood he was made curate of St. Cecilia's Church in New York, and later was entrusted with the charge of establishing a new parish in the Bronx. God later called him to be Bishop of the Diocese of Salt Lake City whence he was summoned after a few years to administer the Diocese of Rochester. His profound personal interest in the spiritual life of his people is reflected in the two retreat houses he established, the eight new parishes he founded, and in the welcome he extended to Benedictines, Carmelites, Dominican Contemplative Nuns, Franciscans Jesuits, Trappists, and Friars of the Atonement, to make their home in his Diocese in order to enrich the life of

His concern for the educational needs of his children led him to the teacher's platform of several colleges, guided him in his supervision of the Parochial School System of the Borough of the Bronx, and spurred him on to assume the role of Episcopal Moderator of the Newman Clubs Federation. Under his direction more than twenty-five parochial schools have been erected or enlarged, the facilities of three existing high schools have been expanded, four new high schools and one college for men have been established. Truly, he has been a loyal and faithful servant of the Lord and an inspiring leader of his people.

Wherefore, by these presents, we the Trustees of Le Moyne College, authorized to that purpose by the authority of New York State, bear witness that
