

Prosy, God's Will Leaves Priest Victim

(N.C.) — "How does it feel to have the rarest disease in Canada?" a reporter asked a quiet Franciscan at first, but he smiled and said "I feel the will of God." The priest replied "I feel the will of God."

Modern methods of treatment can arrest the progress of physical degeneration which characterizes leprosy, he said. "Are you happy here in the hospital?" the reporter asked. "First of all, I must pay tribute to the nurse here," Father Courvoisier replied. "They have done so much to comfort a missionary who has suddenly been removed from the work he loves, and thrust into a hospital without any means of communication except the postal service."

"My day begins with a Mass for the missions celebrated on a portable altar. The rest of my time I am busy with prayers, reading, writing letters and taking walks on the grounds."

Father Courvoisier looked sad for a moment, then breaking into a smile he added: "I am comforted by the thought that the apostolate may take different forms and that which seems most profitable for my soul is what is imposed upon me by Divine Providence."

Mute Marine Weeps On Visit To Pope

(N.C.) — At 5,000 people shouted in His Holiness Pope Pius XII during his first audience of the year here, a moving drama unfolded.

Paul J. Brennan of Miami, Fla., was the first to speak, read or write, and inspired his hearing. Gradually as partial ability to speak was regained, he kept one idea before him: to see the Pope and to visit Lourdes.

Capt. Preston was only one of 5,000 people who had crowded the way through the narrow gates of the papal residence to attend the papal audience and receive the Pope's blessing.

Lithuanians Ask U.S. Aid To Baltics

(Los Angeles) — (RNS) — A resolution calling on the United States to take a "more active and direct role" in the campaign for freedom it said is being waged by the Soviet-controlled Baltic States of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, was adopted here by the 44th annual convention of the Knights of Lithuania, a Roman Catholic group.

Copies were sent to President Eisenhower, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Sen. William F. Knowland and Sen. Thomas Kuchel, both of California.

THE RESOLUTION said that the fight for freedom within those countries is continuing "as in Hungary, but without attendant publicity." It urged American support for freedom fighters within Iron Curtain captive countries.

In his welcome to the convention, Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles said that "the principles of your organization make a marked impression upon your membership, and it is our hope and prayer that your noble contribution to American life will ever be sustained. We join with you in expressing sympathy to your brothers in the homeland."

THE SENATE vote places the U. S. in an embarrassing position. We have complained about the need of free elections in Hungary, Poland and the occupied countries. We have encouraged the natives of Asia and Africa in their demands for independence and the right to vote. Yet the Senate on August 2nd in effect said that we want to give officials in the South the privilege of blocking free elections.

Of course, the Senate did not openly proclaim to the Negroes: "Thou shalt not vote!" They recognized the right to vote and then proceeded to throw a roadblock in the path of the enforcement of the right. The amendment adopted by the Senate requires a jury trial in cases of criminal contempt of a Judge's order.

Substantially this is the way in which the Senate amendment to the civil rights bill would work. Suppose a registrar of voters in Mississippi would attempt to prevent a Negro from registering to vote. The Federal Government would step in and a Federal Judge would order the registrar to let the Negro register.

If the registrar failed to do so, the Judge could jail him until he obeyed the order. Yet this might not be very successful as the registrar could resign his post and start proceedings all over again against his successor.

Or the registrar might choose to stay in jail until after the election. Meanwhile the Negro would be without the vote.

NOW SUPPOSE the Judge were to say to himself: "This registrar is a slippery fellow. He's outsmarting me but I'll teach him a lesson. I'll punish him for criminal contempt of court." But here again, under the Senate amendment of August 2nd, the Judge would have his hands tied. He cannot punish for criminal contempt without giving the registrar a jury trial. The jury will inevitably be predominantly white.

Will a predominantly white jury convict the white registrar? That's a rhetorical question. Some states have a good record in this regard but by and large the record of white juries in the South is bad. In brief, the Senate paid lip service to the Fifteenth Amendment and then made it almost impossible for Federal judges to protect the voting right that is guaranteed by the Amendment.

Pope's Islanders See Pope

(Rome) — (NC) — Bishop George Calavassy, Exarch of Byzantine Catholics in Greece, visits Pope Pius XII with seminarians of St. Athanasios Greek College in Rome. Bishop Calavassy and three seminarians are natives of Syra, Aegean Sea Island, called "Pope's Island" because of its strong Catholic population.

Tips To Remember On Teenage Dates

(Cleveland) — (RNS) — A class of 250 high school boys and girls at the Summer School of Catholic Action here agreed that you would be a pleasant dating companion if you:

1. Carry with you an air of friendliness.
2. Consider your companion's interests as well as your own.
3. Follow the moral code.
4. Watch your spending money.
5. Be sincere.

Keep in mind these five points, the young people held, and you'll not only provide the way for a happy dating experience; you'll show the way to a happy marriage as well.

"To me, its been of interest to see the agreement of the young people on these questions," said Rev. Joseph A. Sommer, S.J., of St. Louis, leader of the teenagers.

"Each of them seemed to feel that if you follow these rules you're certain to prove a popular date."

The youngsters made it clear they were against "going steady." If high school pupils do, they said, it is certain to interfere with their school work and might lead to breaches in the moral code and a premature marriage.

The boys and girls met in groups of six to eight and then reported their conclusions at a general session.

Plan Prayers For Pope

(Kane, Pa.) — (NC) — The Catholic Daughters of America are organizing a spiritual bouquet of Masses to be offered for the intention of His Holiness Pope Pius XII.

PIONEERS NEED CHAPEL

home 1,000 Indian Catholics in Aranyakuru are real torchbearers of the Faith. They're part of an Indian Government mass resettlement to develop uninhabited areas. From the land allotted the village they cause first the chapel site and cemetery. They gave some materials and will do all the work. We need $1,000 to buy all the materials. Won't you help us move the Lord from a shed?

ONLY BY A WILL DO YOU SAFEGUARD YOUR RIGHT TO DISPOSE OF YOUR LIFE'S SAVINGS YOUR OWN WAY. DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH AN INVALID WILL. GET GOOD LEGAL ADVICE. REMEMBER GOD.

MEDICAL MISSIONARIES The missionaries who can cure the pagan's ill is preaching the Gospel in language the pagan understands. That's why we're so anxious to retain the services who have just begun two years' training. SISTERS JANE, PATIENCE and JULIANA in India; in Lebanon SISTER NICOLE and in Egypt SISTER MARIE of ST. ROSE. We need $100 a year for each.

TRIO TRYING Trying to qualify for Christ's army of native missionaries, these three lads are without the means the seminary needs to keep and train them during six years—BERNARD in Lebanon and SAMUEL and MATTHEW in India. Can you "adopt" one by sending, in any payments, the $100 he needs each year?

"LORD, WHEN DID WE SEE THEE . . ." Our Lord replied: "I give a new one to a needy priest. The Lord will look upon it as done to Himself. Also, we must clothe and feed our orphans. New outfit $3. We keep one on $7 a month."

UNTIE HIS HANDS With your wonderful STRINGLESS GIFTS you untie the Holy Father's hands when he receives urgent appeals for help in emergencies in Near East missions. They are tied unless you put the means in his hands. Your MEMBERSHIP OFFERINGS are also "stringless." You may enroll friends and relatives, living or dead ($1 a year; $5 for a family); they will share in rich spiritual benefits, including 15,000 Masses during the year.

OPERATION D.D. What's D.D.? Well, that's how we describe the tremendous work of our Good Shepherd Sisters in Lebanon — "Delinquency Diverted." This part of the world knows no mercy for a misguided or disillusioned girl. She's doomed to a lifetime as an outcast. We've seen the Sisters save hundreds of wonderful girls. Can you spare a mite to help them pay a heavy debt?

OUR PRIESTS GRATEFULLY ACCEPT YOUR MASS OFFERINGS. DON'T FORGET YOURSELF. Others will. Arrange now Masses for your own soul when you'll need them. Ask about "Suspense Card."

Near East Missions FRANCIS CARDINAL SPELLMAN, President. Magr. Peter P. Tushy, Nat'l Sec'y. Send all communications to: CATHOLIC NEAR EAST WELFARE ASSOCIATION 480 Lexington Ave. at 46th St. New York 17, N. Y.

New Hospital 'Too High' For Village

(Chicago) — (NC) — A new site is being sought for St. Joseph's Hospital. Plans to move it from Chicago to suburban Glenview had to be canceled when the village board voted against amending zoning ordinances to permit construction.

The hospital sought a permit for a seven-story, 350-bed structure on a 31-acre site. The village zoning ordinance prohibits buildings over four stories high.

Jack Mackley, village president who cast the deciding vote said afterward, "It is not that we are against the hospital. But we are against raising the building height rule. If we permit one high structure to be built, there will be others who would want to build high."

Melbourne — The family of a small Melbourne girl, called "the girl who died twice," hope to accompany her soon on a thanksgiving pilgrimage to the shrine of St. Anthony of Padua, Italy.

There at the foot of the Saint's altar they will place a small parcel of charred clothing. Then they will thank the Saint for his intercession in saving the girl, from almost certain death.

The little girl is six-year-old Maria Toffolon. She was severely burned when her dress caught fire while she was watching her brothers burn some kerosene-soaked hedge clippings in May.

Doctors decided she needed skin-grafting. During the first operation, Maria's heart stopped, and it took 12 minutes of massaging by the doctors before it resumed beating by itself. Five days later, during a second similar operation, her heart stopped again, and the attending doctor had to massage it for 25 minutes before it beat independently of his action.

BROWN-EYED MARIA, only daughter of an Italian-born market gardener, told reporters who interviewed her after her ordeal: "I am in the hands of Jesus. He looks after me."

Maria's mother, Mrs. Caterina Toffolon, spent almost every day at her bedside. She said the whole family often said the Rosary together and added: "But it is at times like these that we really come close to God. I am sure He sends us crises like these to enable us really to know Him. I just know that Maria will get well again."

"It is a pity that we only turn to God when we really need Him. I will never again

Jury Trial Cripples Civil Rights Bill

By REV. JOHN B. SHEERIN, PAULIST (Editor, The Catholic World)

August 2nd was a bleak day in American history. On that day, the Senate wrote the right to jury trial provision into the civil rights bill. That provision, in the opinion of many Washington experts, effectively bars the Negro from voting in the South, or at least in certain sections of the South.

Vice President Nixon summed it up tersely when he said: "This is one of the sadder days in the history of the Senate because it was a vote against the right to vote."

Some say that the emasculated civil rights bill at least represents a tiny step forward. It seems to me that the long Senate debate on the bill simply means that the Senate took down the Fifteenth Amendment from the shelf for a few days, dusted it off, then put it back on the shelf again to gather dust for another year or two.

THE SENATE vote places the U. S. in an embarrassing position. We have complained about the need of free elections in Hungary, Poland and the occupied countries. We have encouraged the natives of Asia and Africa in their demands for independence and the right to vote. Yet the Senate on August 2nd in effect said that we want to give officials in the South the privilege of blocking free elections.

Of course, the Senate did not openly proclaim to the Negroes: "Thou shalt not vote!" They recognized the right to vote and then proceeded to throw a roadblock in the path of the enforcement of the right. The amendment adopted by the Senate requires a jury trial in cases of criminal contempt of a Judge's order.

Substantially this is the way in which the Senate amendment to the civil rights bill would work. Suppose a registrar of voters in Mississippi would attempt to prevent a Negro from registering to vote. The Federal Government would step in and a Federal Judge would order the registrar to let the Negro register.

If the registrar failed to do so, the Judge could jail him until he obeyed the order. Yet this might not be very successful as the registrar could resign his post and start proceedings all over again against his successor.

Or the registrar might choose to stay in jail until after the election. Meanwhile the Negro would be without the vote.

NOW SUPPOSE the Judge were to say to himself: "This registrar is a slippery fellow. He's outsmarting me but I'll teach him a lesson. I'll punish him for criminal contempt of court." But here again, under the Senate amendment of August 2nd, the Judge would have his hands tied. He cannot punish for criminal contempt without giving the registrar a jury trial. The jury will inevitably be predominantly white.

Will a predominantly white jury convict the white registrar? That's a rhetorical question. Some states have a good record in this regard but by and large the record of white juries in the South is bad. In brief, the Senate paid lip service to the Fifteenth Amendment and then made it almost impossible for Federal judges to protect the voting right that is guaranteed by the Amendment.

THE SENATE vote places the U. S. in an embarrassing position. We have complained about the need of free elections in Hungary, Poland and the occupied countries. We have encouraged the natives of Asia and Africa in their demands for independence and the right to vote. Yet the Senate on August 2nd in effect said that we want to give officials in the South the privilege of blocking free elections.

Of course, the Senate did not openly proclaim to the Negroes: "Thou shalt not vote!" They recognized the right to vote and then proceeded to throw a roadblock in the path of the enforcement of the right. The amendment adopted by the Senate requires a jury trial in cases of criminal contempt of a Judge's order.

Substantially this is the way in which the Senate amendment to the civil rights bill would work. Suppose a registrar of voters in Mississippi would attempt to prevent a Negro from registering to vote. The Federal Government would step in and a Federal Judge would order the registrar to let the Negro register.

If the registrar failed to do so, the Judge could jail him until he obeyed the order. Yet this might not be very successful as the registrar could resign his post and start proceedings all over again against his successor.

Or the registrar might choose to stay in jail until after the election. Meanwhile the Negro would be without the vote.

NOW SUPPOSE the Judge were to say to himself: "This registrar is a slippery fellow. He's outsmarting me but I'll teach him a lesson. I'll punish him for criminal contempt of court." But here again, under the Senate amendment of August 2nd, the Judge would have his hands tied. He cannot punish for criminal contempt without giving the registrar a jury trial. The jury will inevitably be predominantly white.

Will a predominantly white jury convict the white registrar? That's a rhetorical question. Some states have a good record in this regard but by and large the record of white juries in the South is bad. In brief, the Senate paid lip service to the Fifteenth Amendment and then made it almost impossible for Federal judges to protect the voting right that is guaranteed by the Amendment.

THE SENATE vote places the U. S. in an embarrassing position. We have complained about the need of free elections in Hungary, Poland and the occupied countries. We have encouraged the natives of Asia and Africa in their demands for independence and the right to vote. Yet the Senate on August 2nd in effect said that we want to give officials in the South the privilege of blocking free elections.

Of course, the Senate did not openly proclaim to the Negroes: "Thou shalt not vote!" They recognized the right to vote and then proceeded to throw a roadblock in the path of the enforcement of the right. The amendment adopted by the Senate requires a jury trial in cases of criminal contempt of a Judge's order.

Substantially this is the way in which the Senate amendment to the civil rights bill would work. Suppose a registrar of voters in Mississippi would attempt to prevent a Negro from registering to vote. The Federal Government would step in and a Federal Judge would order the registrar to let the Negro register.

If the registrar failed to do so, the Judge could jail him until he obeyed the order. Yet this might not be very successful as the registrar could resign his post and start proceedings all over again against his successor.

Or the registrar might choose to stay in jail until after the election. Meanwhile the Negro would be without the vote.

NOW SUPPOSE the Judge were to say to himself: "This registrar is a slippery fellow. He's outsmarting me but I'll teach him a lesson. I'll punish him for criminal contempt of court." But here again, under the Senate amendment of August 2nd, the Judge would have his hands tied. He cannot punish for criminal contempt without giving the registrar a jury trial. The jury will inevitably be predominantly white.

Will a predominantly white jury convict the white registrar? That's a rhetorical question. Some states have a good record in this regard but by and large the record of white juries in the South is bad. In brief, the Senate paid lip service to the Fifteenth Amendment and then made it almost impossible for Federal judges to protect the voting right that is guaranteed by the Amendment.

THE SENATE vote places the U. S. in an embarrassing position. We have complained about the need of free elections in Hungary, Poland and the occupied countries. We have encouraged the natives of Asia and Africa in their demands for independence and the right to vote. Yet the Senate on August 2nd in effect said that we want to give officials in the South the privilege of blocking free elections.

Of course, the Senate did not openly proclaim to the Negroes: "Thou shalt not vote!" They recognized the right to vote and then proceeded to throw a roadblock in the path of the enforcement of the right. The amendment adopted by the Senate requires a jury trial in cases of criminal contempt of a Judge's order.

Substantially this is the way in which the Senate amendment to the civil rights bill would work. Suppose a registrar of voters in Mississippi would attempt to prevent a Negro from registering to vote. The Federal Government would step in and a Federal Judge would order the registrar to let the Negro register.

air-conditioned C.O.O.L.

B. Forman Co.

the campus clan is mad about PLAID!

and how verra, verra brrright we look in our new, bold tartans with the authentic Scotch burr! We love our plaids mixed with new sweaters that come by the bulk! It's a bonnie air and it's no wonder we're mad for plaid! For example:

Slim-tapered slacks in bold-and-bonnie plaids of St. Marys-pure wool. Sizes 10 to 16. 12.95
Bulky-knit sweater of imported Shetland wool. In grey or taupe. 34 to 40. 14.95

FORMAN'S SECOND FLOOR

Forman's "campus clan" of counselors for 1957 college fashions

PIONEERS NEED CHAPEL

home 1,000 Indian Catholics in Aranyakuru are real torchbearers of the Faith. They're part of an Indian Government mass resettlement to develop uninhabited areas. From the land allotted the village they cause first the chapel site and cemetery. They gave some materials and will do all the work. We need $1,000 to buy all the materials. Won't you help us move the Lord from a shed?

ONLY BY A WILL DO YOU SAFEGUARD YOUR RIGHT TO DISPOSE OF YOUR LIFE'S SAVINGS YOUR OWN WAY. DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH AN INVALID WILL. GET GOOD LEGAL ADVICE. REMEMBER GOD.

MEDICAL MISSIONARIES The missionaries who can cure the pagan's ill is preaching the Gospel in language the pagan understands. That's why we're so anxious to retain the services who have just begun two years' training. SISTERS JANE, PATIENCE and JULIANA in India; in Lebanon SISTER NICOLE and in Egypt SISTER MARIE of ST. ROSE. We need $100 a year for each.

TRIO TRYING Trying to qualify for Christ's army of native missionaries, these three lads are without the means the seminary needs to keep and train them during six years—BERNARD in Lebanon and SAMUEL and MATTHEW in India. Can you "adopt" one by sending, in any payments, the $100 he needs each year?

"LORD, WHEN DID WE SEE THEE . . ." Our Lord replied: "I give a new one to a needy priest. The Lord will look upon it as done to Himself. Also, we must clothe and feed our orphans. New outfit $3. We keep one on $7 a month."

UNTIE HIS HANDS With your wonderful STRINGLESS GIFTS you untie the Holy Father's hands when he receives urgent appeals for help in emergencies in Near East missions. They are tied unless you put the means in his hands. Your MEMBERSHIP OFFERINGS are also "stringless." You may enroll friends and relatives, living or dead ($1 a year; $5 for a family); they will share in rich spiritual benefits, including 15,000 Masses during the year.

OPERATION D.D. What's D.D.? Well, that's how we describe the tremendous work of our Good Shepherd Sisters in Lebanon — "Delinquency Diverted." This part of the world knows no mercy for a misguided or disillusioned girl. She's doomed to a lifetime as an outcast. We've seen the Sisters save hundreds of wonderful girls. Can you spare a mite to help them pay a heavy debt?

OUR PRIESTS GRATEFULLY ACCEPT YOUR MASS OFFERINGS. DON'T FORGET YOURSELF. Others will. Arrange now Masses for your own soul when you'll need them. Ask about "Suspense Card."

Near East Missions FRANCIS CARDINAL SPELLMAN, President. Magr. Peter P. Tushy, Nat'l Sec'y. Send all communications to: CATHOLIC NEAR EAST WELFARE ASSOCIATION 480 Lexington Ave. at 46th St. New York 17, N. Y.

Trant's

Rochester's Oldest and Largest Religious Goods Store

... have every need for the Seminary Student

+ CASSOCKS	+ SURPLICES
+ BIRETTAS	+ MISSALS
+ BIBLES	+ RABBI VESTS

THE NEW ST. ANDREW MISSAL

Trant's reputation for fine merchandise is again demonstrated in these essentials for the new or advancing seminary student. Only highest quality materials and workmanship used in vestments and cassocks. All of Trant's articles for school or worship are very moderately priced. Make Trant's your headquarters for student needs.

Trant's Clerical Discount Applies for all Seminary Students

ORDER CASSOCKS NOW—BE SURE OF DELIVERY BY SEPTEMBER

While we may have your size cassock in stock, come in and make sure rather than wait until the Seminary opens . . . Three to four weeks are required for delivery if we happen not to be able to fit your size.

Trant's THE CATHOLIC SUPPLY STORE 2 ENTRANCES 96 Clinton Ave. N., 115 Franklin St. Alter 5-5620 Rochester, N. Y. Closed Saturday During August — Open Thursday 'til 9 P. M.

Relics of Ukranian League of Action held this were treated to dagger story of stole the body of under the noses in Austria.

The priest is J. Nuwer, a for general in the U. S. Army. The body of St. Josaphat as the "Saint of It happened related, in the fa. both U.S. and F. occupied Vienna. He said he w. the ecclesiastical there and given dor: "Recover th Josaphat"

The body of St. Ba in the Russian city, he said, and were bent on d saint's relics.

Msr. Nuwer trusted band of who disguised coal carriers across the Iron C