T. S. Eliot Symposium Set At Nazareth College Campus

The Nazareth College Literary Forum in conjunction with the National Catholic Theatre Conference will present the first in a series of Great Playwrights Symposiums on Saturday, Sept. 21 at 2 p. m.

First of the annual symposiums will be devoted to playwright T. S. Eliot. The Nazareth College Theatre of Rochester will present "The Fourth Temptation" and "The Christmas Sermon" from Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral." Student chairman is Estelle D'Agostino, president of Nazareth's Literary Forum.

Members of the Catholic Theatre of Rochester will present "The Fourth Temptation" and "The Christmas Sermon" from Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral." Student chairman is Estelle D'Agostino, president of Nazareth's Literary Forum.

Program will begin with registration at 2 p. m. followed by a welcoming address by Sister Rose Angela, dean of Nazareth College. SISTER THOMAS Marion, S.J. will deliver her theme on Eliot as a poet which was her Gullford Prize last year at Cornell University.

An introduction to Eliot as a playwright will be given by Miss Rosemary White of Nazareth's English Literature department. Dramatic presentations will include selections from Eliot's "Four Quartets" and "Ash Wed-"
Catholic Theatre Slates Meeting
 Members and prospective members of the Catholic Theatre of Rochester will meet this Sunday, Sept. 5 in Holy Redeemer Hall, Hudson Ave. at 1 p. m. according to Frank Risenberger, president, current ticket sale drive and program. A report will be made on the production of "The Lark," the Jean Anouilh play on St. Joan of Arc, now in production.

NEW PRINCIPAL — NEW STUDENTS meet on opening day of school at Our Lady of Mercy High School, Freshman Judy Achter (seated) of St. John the Evangelist Parish, Hambleton St. and Roberta Conway of St. James Parish, discuss their study programs with new principal, Sister M. Florence, R.S.M.

New Principals Take Over At Mercy, DeSales High

The face was familiar, but the setting was new. Last week, Sister Mary Florence, R.S.M. sat in the principal's chair at Our Lady of Mercy High School, vacated this year for 29 years.

FATHER MORGAN mentary and high school during her varied career in the profession. Prior to her term at Mercy, she served on the parochial school staffs at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, St. Andrew, Old St. Mary's and Holy Cross in Rochester.

As a teacher of Journalism and Creative Writing, she founded the school's "publications" — the "Quill," biweekly newspaper; "Vignettes," annual senior publication; "Cold Frame," annual student verse anthology; and "Mercedes," a semiannual yearbook. Besides her other academic degrees, Sister Florence holds scholastic honors in library science and was Mercy's first librarian. It was also under her guidance that the school's Mission Society was formed.

Death Row Padre Named Pastor

Huntsville — (NC) — Father Francis Duffy, "the padre of death row," has left his chaplain's post at the Texas state penitentiary here to become pastor of St. Mary's church in San Antonio. In his nine years at the penitentiary Father Duffy comforted more than 60 men just before they died in the electric chair. Father Duffy said that watching men walk to the death chair became "harder and harder each time."
