Pastor's 'Gimmicks' Give Chill Church 'Triple Threat Room'

Because Chill's new St. Pius X Church will eventually become the auditorium of a parish school, it does not include all the usual features found separately in a church, such as confessional, baptistry and crying room. The pastor Father Donald Murphy became inventor and devised his "Triple Threat Room." adjacent to the body of the church. The same room works Sunday mornings as a crying room, Sunday afternoons as a baptistry and Saturday afternoons and evenings as a confessional. As a confessional, folding doors made especially to provide a strong sound barrier, are pulled into place. If penitents use both sides of the confessional, a plastic panel in the door is used.

Miss Arloha McVinnie will conduct the classes with the following guest instructors: Miss Gloria Kolb, Carl Zollo, Larry Bates, Willford Scott, Miss Calista Esterguard, and Miss Jean Strachan.

Because of limited space, only the first 30 applicants can be accepted for the course.

Burglar Alarm Proves Worth

Hartford — (NC) — It didn't take long for a new burglar alarm system in St. Augustine's Church here to catch its first customer.

Father Martin T. Keane, assistant pastor, heard the sound of the alarm — installed only a few weeks ago — while he was sitting in his rectory study one night. In the church he apprehended a man who was charged by police with breaking and entering and possession of burglary tools.
