Religious Orders Of Men In Our Diocese

Father Alexander Eaton, S.A.

FRANCISCAN FRIARS OF THE ATONEMENT

Atonement Friars came to the Rochester Diocese in 1948 to found St. John's Atonement Seminary in Mount Eaur Falls to train young men of the order for the priesthood. The order's American headquarters is in Graymoor, N. Y. Atonement Friars were originally a Protestant religious community which entered the Church in 1909. Friars wear a "salt and pepper" gray habit with hood and a Star of David embroidered on the breast. A cross is suspended from the neck. (One of a series).

Catholic Theatre Auditorium

'The Lark' Opens Tonight

The drama of Joan of Arc takes the stage tonight at the Catholic Theatre Auditorium, Clifford and Hudson Aves., with repeat performances on Saturday and Sunday evenings, Oct. 12 and 13, at 8:30.

Under the direction of Wilford Scott and against the setting of Carl Zollo, Anouilh's "The Lark" is the story of Joan of Arc told in flashbacks against the background of her trial.

The compelling re-creation of Joan's visions, military mission and execution combined to make "The Lark" a recent and outstanding success on Broadway.

Ronald Pedrone heads the production unit, with costumes created by Callista Esterguard and Priscilla Parker. Properties are the charge of Agnes Marie Coon and Rosemary Petrossi.

PIVOTAL ROLE of Joan is enacted by Joy Pedrone. Prominent parts in the large cast are taken by Eugene Eckert, Joseph Baranowski, Peter Tubiolo, Bill White, Ronald Pedrone, Lorraine Smith, Patricia Farrell, Elizabeth Studier, Roy Combs, Jr., Patrick Suraci, Virginia Primer, Dan Morgan and William Ball.

CARL ZOLLO

Role of Charles, the Dauphin, will be played by Robert Smett; Ronald Clawson appears as Brother Ladvenu, defender of the Maid; Robert Napier will be seen in the role of the Archbishop of Rheims, and Frank Riesenberger as the Bishop of Beauvais.

Sisters of the area and their drivers are invited to attend a matinee performance of "The Lark" on Saturday, Oct. 12 at 2:30 p.m.

PATRONS ARE reminded that season subscriptions are good for admittance to any of the three performances.

Tickets are available prior to and during performances at the box office.

Military Recruits Lack Moral Sense, Says Priest

Cleveland — (NC) — Too many youths in military life believe "There ain't no Ten Commandments," a Catholic Navy chaplain said here in an address to some 1,200 members of the Catholic Laymen's Retreat League.

The statement was made by Father (Lt.) John J. O'Connor of the Chief of Chaplains' Office, U. S. Navy. He declared that the number of youths who enter the Navy with no sense of moral responsibility is unbelievable.

And he attributed the situation to influences outside the Navy, principally the materialism and secularism of homes and schools.

He said the primary responsibility for the moral training of youth rests on the home, school and church, but that the Navy has a special program to aid in training.

Called the Character Education Program, it attempts to inculcate into Navy youths some of the basic truths. The course of study is nondenominational and nonsectarian, Father O'Connor said, and the "program cannot be called a strictly religious one."

He said its primary purpose is to instill in the youths basic moral principles they should have learned in the home or school.

Golden Anniversary

Whooski, Vt. — (NC) Father Victor F. Nicolle, Superior General of the Society of St. Edmund from 1930 to 1946, observed the golden jubilee of his ordination in Joigny, Yonne, France, according to word received here.

Guidepost To Perfection

By Mary Lennon Snyder

While preparing last Sunday's dinner I had my little kitchen radio tuned to Rochester's WHAM and Father Tormey's broadcast; for this is almost as regular a part of my Sunday program as attendance at Mass. As I listen to Father's comments, I always hope that many thousands of other people are also hearing him.

Mrs. Snyder

Although Father Tormey's listening audience is large, his calm presentation of important news as evaluated by an educated Catholic should win him many more hearers of every faith, because he has the gift of cutting through confusing details and presenting the problem in a most interesting and enlightening manner.

FOR EXAMPLE, all of us have been concerned with the Little Rock situation, and the plethora of news stories and interpretations showered upon us almost to engulf rather than to enlighten us.

On Sunday Father simply quoted some of the headlines which had appeared in Arkansas papers prior to the opening of Central High School to illustrate the point that the mob which so shocked us all was not born, like Minerva fully armed, but carefully indoctrinated and whipped into an almost insensate fury by those agencies we like to consider molders of opinion.

Following his custom of discussing more than one topic during a broadcast, Father Tormey then turned to comment on the recently observed Feast Day of St. Therese of the Child Jesus.

Father Tormey discussed briefly the "Little Way" of St. Therese and reminded his hearers that as far as can be ascertained, St. Therese never added any penitential practice or devotions to her way of life dictated by the strict rule of the cloistered Carmelite order of which she was a member. Her simple and perfect obedience to the Rule and its austerities is the key to her way of life.

THIS REMINDER, coming at the beginning of a new year of social and organization activity should be a guide post to us, particularly mothers, as we strive for perfection in our own way of life.

It is a practical reminder that, after the primary duties of home and family, our first interest should be in those organizations designed to help our children. This clearly indicates that we should be faithful and loyal members and supporters of Mothers Clubs and other home-school associations. The interest of these clubs are our interests. They are designed to work with our pastor or school principal to help our children.

If we are already loyal members, perhaps we should also remind ourselves that St. Therese indulged in no works of supererogation. Likewise for us to join a club need not mean we must re-make it.

THE POLICY has been established by careful work in the past, its present is under the watchful eye of the priest moderator; all that is asked of us is to join the group, attend the meetings faithfully, and work cheerfully where and when we are requested to.

Honored For Radio Work

Receiving this year's St. Francis statuette from Father Hugh Noonan, O.F.M., is Danny Thomas, named as the entertainment personality who has contributed most to the cause of Catholic broadcasting. The statuette is an annual award given by "The Hour of St. Francis" radio program, which is heard on 625 stations throughout the world, and now is in its 12th year. Father Noonan is director of the program which has been praised for its entertainment value and effectiveness in presenting Catholic truth. (NC Photos)
