Do You Use Money Orders?

SEE WHAT YOU'D SAVE BY USING SECURITY TRUST SPECIAL CHECKS

AMOUNT	COST OF MONEY ORDERS	COST OF OUR SPECIAL CHECKS	YOU SAVE
Up to $5	15c	10c	5c
$5.01 to $10	20c	10c	10c
$10.01 to $100	30c	10c	20c

(Post Office Money Orders Are Only Written Up to $100)

In addition to the cost of money orders themselves, is the time involved in going to the post office—making out an application—sometimes waiting in line until the clerk can make out your money order.

Most money orders that we receive here at the bank, for instance, run from $25 to $100—meaning a cost of 30c for each money order.

Now, if you have a Special Check Account at the Security, no matter what amount your check is for—$3, $300, $3000—the cost is only 10c per check—that's all! There are NO OTHER CHARGES!

To this small cost think of the time and trouble saved—the prestige of a check imprinted with your name—the safety of having your money in the bank, etc.—and you'll agree a Security Trust Special Check Account is quite a bargain!

JUBILEE RITES — Cardinal Spellman with Bishop Kearney and Auxiliary Bishop Casey await start of procession to begin Pontifical Mass yesterday in Sacred Heart Cathedral marking the silver anniversary of the Bishop of Rochester. Both the Cardinal and Bishop Kearney were raised to the hierarchy in 1932 and are marking their jubilees this year.

Press Tributes To Bishop Kearney

Following is the text of an article written by Patrick F. Scanlan, managing editor of the Brooklyn Tablet in last week's issue of that paper:

A BISHOP'S JUBILEE

We are happy to join the many friends of Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester, N.Y., who will celebrate the silver jubilee of his consecration as a bishop next week, in congratulating this outstanding prelate.

In the many years we have known His Excellency, going all the way back to his days as a curate in St. Cecilia's Church, E. 10th St. Manhattan, we have admired his very able and friendly manner as a distinguished priest, a genuine scholar, an able speaker, and a most attractive personality.

THE POPULARITY he enjoyed in his days as a curate followed him as a young pastor of St. Francis Xavier's Church in the Bronx, then as Bishop of Salt Lake, Utah, and finally as Bishop of Rochester. The admiration of his friends and associates has been throughout his career, akin to his disposition and his discharge of duty, uniform. He has made and kept friends because he has been the best type of salesman for the Church.

His only adopted three B's—religion, reverence and refinement—have stood out in his career and, when added to the warmth of his friendship, have made his mission both happy and successful.

Bishop Kearney is a commanding figure in the pulpit, with a very cultured voice. His eloquence has left its mark among thousands. Seldom missing an opportunity to encourage and inspire, he has spoken all over New York State and by the simplicity of his language the proximity of his thought and his ready humor wrought good has been done.

Children as well as adults, the learned as well as those not so well-informed, have been drawn to his appeals to adhere to the fundamental tenets of our religion and the dictates of patriotism. In a charitable appeal he stresses the importance of the individual making a personal sacrifice, not dispatching the obligation to those in need by sending a contribution to an organization and then forgetting about the matter.

Rather has he invariably counseled giving oneself, and he has pointed to the mistake of Sir Launfal, who received no blessing for his gift to the beggar, for to him the beggar:

"Seemed the one blot on the Summer moon.
"So he tossed him a bit of gold in scorn."

Bishop Kearney likes to drive home this lesson of "true giving" by quoting the words which the poet James Russell Lowell puts on the lips of Christ:

"Not what we give, but what we share
"For the gift, without the giver, is bare.
"Who gives himself with his aims feeds three—
"Himself, his hungering neighbor and Me."

THE TREMENDOUS success Bishop Kearney has enjoyed in Rochester has won him both congratulations and occasional admiration throughout the State.

On the occasion of his jubilee Mass next Thursday, Nov. 7, those in the Diocese of Rochester, as well as beyond its boundaries, will express the hope that his fruitful episcopate may continue for many days and his work in the future, as it has in the past, may enjoy God's blessing.

Text of an editorial in the Nov. 3, 1937 edition of the North Country Catholic, newspaper of the Ogdensburg diocese:

BISHOP KEARNEY
His many friends in the North Country join with thousands of others in congratulating His Excellency, the Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester, on his jubilee.
