Christmas Plays Readied By Catholic Theatre

Catholic Theatre of Rochester announced this week their two annual Christmas plays in rehearsal for "touring" the parish circuit.

During the month of December these plays are available to a list of diocesan organizations who wish to have a Christmas entertainment at their holiday meetings.

Signor Vincent Bonet's "A Child Is Born" will be directed by Wayne Audia and "Man Was Promised Hope" by Wilford Scott under the direction of Callista Livingston.

THE SCOTT PLAY was presented for the first time last CYO drama season and, according to CYO president Frank Riesenberger, met with such success that it is now being repeated this year.

Bonet's play was popularized by Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne and has been performed by Helen Hayes. It is traditionally shown each Christmas on television.

Groups interested in engaging these plays are asked to contact Mr. Lawrence McVinnie, GEnesee 5-6067-W or write to Catholic Theatre of Rochester, P.O. Box 2470.
