By TONETTE TOTTA and PATRICK SANE

The Postscripts, a newly formed waters group, has come in to being through the efforts and interest of hard working freshmen. Moderated by Sister Marie Raymond, the club was open to all those who obtained above 90% in English in the January exams.

The purpose of the Postscripts is to encourage creative writing and to take advantage of the many available courses of that nature. At their first meeting, the following officers were elected: chairman, Robert Griffin, who already has had an essay published in Young America Speaks, the National High School Essay Anthology and is school editor in the Optimist; treasurer, Kathleen Moran; secretary, Kathleen Moran; secretary of attendance, Patrick Agan. "The pen is mightier than the sword" as their password.

The results of the January exams showed several perfect marks among the students. Joseph Griffin brought home a 100% in his regents. Eve Motte and Janice Mayshak did likewise in algebra last year. Several perfect marks were earned by Sharon Thompson in geometry and Jim Bauer, Edward DeLaney and Kathleen Hoffman in algebra. Dan Dean in French I and Julie Loughlin in biology received perfect marks.

The Bells

By Margene Betts

ALTHOUGH the bells of the world are not as loud as they once were, they still ring in the hearts of many people. The bells of the world are the bells of the human spirit, and they ring in the hearts of all who are true to their faith.
