Missions Win Again At Fight Finals: Telerico, Middleweights Get Awards

Catholic Missions were the big winner in the annual Mission Bouts held at the Community War Memorial last Saturday as the bouts brought in a total of $11,339.50, according to Rev. John W. Wilson, C.S.B., bout moderator.

Senior Dick Telerico was voted the outstanding fighter of the night. As a result, Telerico was awarded the "St. Rae Hook Trophy." He won the junior welterweight title from Bob Hogan, the defending champion in an exciting match.

The "Abe Raff Trophy" was awarded for the first time. It is named in honor of the gentleman who has given so much time in working with the Aquinas boys in preparation for the bouts.

THE TROPHY was won by Joe Camilla and Tom Enright for putting on the night's most exciting bout. Camilla won the middleweight crown away from Enright by a decision, after flooring his opponent in the last round.

The only knockout of the night came in the bantamweight match between George Marinucci and Kerry Finger. Marinucci KO'd Finger with a flurry of punches in the second round.

Another bout featuring two returning champions, Tom Camilla and Bob Mignuet, was also close and exciting. Mignuet was

Cavaliers Win Inspection

Cadets of Nazareth Hall competed for honors at the annual Spring inspection held in the school gymnasium on March 23. The inspection is conducted as a contest between the Cavaliers, who won, and the Musketeers, two divisions within the school battalion. Each division is given points based on its military appearance, drilling and alertness.

When the Battalion Review is held in May, the division which has scored the highest number of points in all fields of competition during the year is named honor division.

INSPECTING officers, invited from the University of Rochester N.Y. O.C. program, were Col. N. J. Rodenhoffer, U.S.M.C., Lt. Henry B. Nix, U.S.N., and Lt. James Bates, U.S.N.

In announcing the winning division, Col. Rodenhoffer complimented the cadets on their fine demonstration and urged them to continue to strive for perfection in every phase of the program.
