

DOINGS AT THE DALY'S

By Mary Thiney Daly

A serious Lent, and then joyful preparation for Easter... those were the plans at our house.

Mary Daly It all started with a two-enthusiastic approach to spring cleaning about a month ago.

"Oh, dear," we murmured, "we must get that fixed."

"Fixed!" he exploded from his undignified position amidst the ruins. "It's been fixed a dozen times. Let's replace it."

"It's no worse than this," Pat punched the broken springs of the 30-year-old sofa.

"WELL," we got into the act. Card Of Thanks The family of the late Rev. Michael P. O'Brien...

Annual Art Exhibit

Art Students Display Work

By LARRY PATRICK

The future Rembrandts of Nazareth College's art department will display their creations next weekend.

The exhibit, under the direction of Sister Magdalen, chairman of the college's art department, is done annually to show the work of Nazareth graduates, but will also include the work of some promising undergraduates.

Among the exhibitors will be Aljean Lemke, Moya Neville, Carol Srokose and Sister M. Margella Connorton, S.S.J. All four will receive their B.S. degree in Art in June.

In addition to the paintings, the exhibit will also display drawings, crafts, jewelry, ceramics, prints, design, fabrics and sculpture.

THE NAZARETH art students in their four-year college course take not only the theory, philosophy and history of art, but also studio courses providing practical experience and experimentation in all the major art areas.

These include both two and three dimensional design, painting in water color, oil and oil, graphic arts with experience in wood cuts, serigraphy and etching.

Nazareth art graduates are prepared and eligible for New York State certification to teach art on either the elementary, junior high or senior high school level, or to accept positions in the field of commercial art.

Movies, TV Seen Delinquency Factor San Francisco - (RNS) A citizens committee appointed by the governor has charged that crime movies, comic books and violent television shows are contributing factors in juvenile delinquency.

The advisory committee submitted a 93-page report to state Attorney General Edmund G. Brown. It cited "the number of hours devoted to serious crime, aggressive behavior and over-emphasis of sex" put on television among the sources of delinquency.

The 50-member committee said "the television industry has a greater obligation to the public to maintain high standards because of its access to millions of homes." The group recommended a legislative investigation of TV crime pictures.

A TYPICAL SPRING scene at Nazareth College. Art Department students doing practical work toward the obtaining of their degree. The department's annual art exhibit will be held at the College next weekend.

Demand for art teachers is very high at the present time. The demand far exceeds the supply in New York State, especially in the Rochester area, as well as in central New York State and the capital area. This year, for example, Nazareth has about 10 positions available for each graduate.

Learning To Knit

By Mary Lennon Snyder

As I wrote in last week's column of the importance of teaching girls to knit, my mind traveled back to my first lesson. In a most interesting manner, I learned to knit at my grandmother's knee for she settled herself comfortably in a large chair near a fireplace.

LET ME HASTEN to state that my first effort was not as ambitious as the socks of the little French and German girls I learned to knit first of all with a string of cord. I think the finished product was supposed to be a wash cloth. For years it was around my house because my mother could not bear to discard it.

I still recall how eager I was to start knitting with woolen yarn; and how disillusioned I was to discover that yarn is composed of two or three yarn strands, called piles, which separate in the hands of the inexperienced knitter.

Also around our house for years was a bright red sweater which I had started for myself, but to which I had unintentionally kept adding stitches until, when finished, it fit my mother.

These examples are mentioned to remind parents that perfection or even a reasonably efficient performance is not arrived at in one's first efforts at knitting.

That, to return to last week's column, is my reason for recommending...

Scout Capades, a Scout arena show will open April 18 and 19 at the Community War Memorial. With a cast of nearly ten thousand Cubs, Boy Scouts, and teen-age Explorers, the show is designed to inform the public of the effect Scouting has on America's youth in building for a better tomorrow.

Tickets for the three performances will be available at the door.

menting so highly the bandage project. It is done with a cord, like thread and a few twisted or pick up stitches will not mar the completed project.

In last week's column I incorrectly stated the price of the Knit-Crochet as thirty-nine cents. It is actually twenty-nine cents. Prices may vary slightly in different localities but the size ball needed has 250 yards of thread.
