When it comes to baking...

Hardwick Takes The Cake!
Here's The Reason

One reason your new HARDWICK gas range gives you superior baking results is the unique design of its oven burner. In ordinary ranges the oven burner is usually shaped in a rectangle. But in your new HARDWICK range the oven burner and broiler is shaped like a "figure 8" or butterfly. This design assures you of steady even temperatures in all parts of the oven. No more "hot spots" or "cold spots" to give you uneven baking or browning.

The Hardwick EquaFlo burner isn't a feature that is found only on the most expensive models. You'll find the famous EquaFlo burner on every single HARDWICK range, even the lowest priced models. It's just one of many exclusive HARDWICK features.
