Girls To Receive Marian Awards

By PAUL CONTESTABLE and FRANK KELLY

What is the Marian Award?

This is a question that has entered the minds of many parents of Catholic Girl Scouts of Monroe County, to whom the award will be given for the first time on May 13 at Sacred Heart Cathedral.

Similar to the Boy Scout's "Ad Altare Dei" award, the Marian Award was developed by the youth department of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

THE AWARD was created specifically for presentation to members of the Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls and was extended to include members of the Junior Catholic Daughters and Junior Daughters of Isabella, to help girls in all four programs to become better members of their faith and to recognize in all they do the opportunities for living the teachings of the Church and the principles of the organization to which they belong.

To get the award, the girls have to go through an extensive program, after first passing the requirements that have been set up.

These requirements include, in addition to being a member of one of the four groups, leading an exemplary Catholic life, be 12 years of age or be in the seventh grade; attend a Catholic School or attend instruction classes, and have a knowledge of the fundamentals of her religion.

A Catholic Girl Scout must have been a scout for one year and must be at least a second class scout.

These are just the basic requirements. The program they must follow after that is very difficult — which is appropriate because of the award's nature.

Included in the program is the study of the girl's parish church; be able to tell about its architecture, painting, sculpture or symbols; be able to demonstrate the use of the Sunday Missal; know and explain the customs of Christmas as celebrated in three foreign countries, and learn the significance of the nature of symbols used in Christian art.

PRACTICAL things are also stated in the requirements. They include preparing the home when the priest comes to give the Sacraments, building an "outdoor shrine" or tell the story of the girl's patron saint; know how to give spiritual first aid in case of an accident, and be able to promote, discuss and practice Christian ideals in dress at church and in leisure time activities.

DONNA DUSTS off the vestment case at the Cathedral as part of her duty to qualify for the Marian Award.

The third step in preparation for the award is to make a pilgrimage, preferably in uniform with the girl's troop or group to a Catholic convent, monastery, shrine, grotto or cathedral, and present a log of the place visited, which includes the place's history and its religious significance.

The second part of the third step requires the girl to do one of the following: provide supplies for a home foreign mission; participate in or help plan a period of devotion for recreation in the parish or group for one-half hour each week on a day other than the regular meeting for one month period; assist in the work in the sanctuary or sacristy once a week for six months; assist in the care of the aged or sick for one-half day a week for six months; assist in the work of a religious institution for one-half day each week for six months, or help sit during Mass or a parents' parish meeting at least 12 times.

The girls must also write a composition telling the spiritual advantages in obtaining the award. A priest examiner has to approve the girl's work and application before the award can be given.

HIS EXCELLENCY, Bishop Kearney, will bless and present the Marian Medal awards at Sacred Heart Cathedral at 7:45 p.m. May 13, assisted by Bishop Casey.

Preparing the presentation of the awards are Father Eugene McFarland, diocesan scout chaplain; Mary Elinchey, chairman, and Mrs. Howard Attridge, co-chairman. They are being assisted by the Mesdames Theodore Strohmeyer, John Conway, James Chatterton, John D. Fleming and Richard J. Spellman.

Post Office Speeds Action On Fraud, Smut Operators

Washington — (NC) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced the establishment of a new Post Office executive position designed to give postal officials "more effective means of dealing with" persons who use the mails for obscenity or fraud.

The position of judicial officer has been created in the Post Office department to speed up obscenity and mail fraud cases, he said.

APPOINTED to the post was Charles Abland, 27, of Enid, Okla., former special assistant to the Post Office department's general counsel.

All stages in proceedings against persons charged with using the mails for obscenity or fraud were conducted formerly by the general counsel.

Under the new setup, the handling of these complaints will be started by the general counsel. However, the hearings will be conducted by the judicial officer or his staff of hearing examiners.

THE JUDICIAL officer's decisions as to what constitutes obscenity and fraud will be appealable to the Post Office department's general counsel, he said. In these cases, however, in the past.

Herbert B. Warburton, acting general counsel of the department, said the organizational move was also aimed to provide legal safeguards for the rights of persons charged with obscenity or fraud by establishing an office which will deal solely with such cases, and to speed decisions in such cases.

MR. SUMMERFIELD said the Post Office department plans "more vigorous" use of a 1955 law which permits it to place an interim 20-day ban on mail deliveries to persons sending allegedly obscene material through the mails, while postal proceedings are being carried out.

Three such bans have been imposed in recent months by postal officials and upheld by Federal District Courts.

New Church Work Totals $61 Millions

Washington, DC. (INS) — Church construction, continuing under moderate pressure from the economic recession, totaled $61,000,000 during April, the same level as for March, the Departments of Commerce and Labor reported here.

Usually, there is a seasonal upswing in construction during April, but this did not occur in church building activity. Construction during the month was $3,000,000 less than in April, 1957.

Construction put in place has amounted to $254,000,000 during the first four months of 1958, according to the government estimate, a decline of two per cent from the same period in 1957.

Construction activity by the non-public schools and colleges held steady at $40,000,000 for the third consecutive month. The four-month total in this field is estimated at $163,000,000, only $1,000,000 less than for the same period of 1957.

$250,000 Given Nuns' Hospital

Dallas, Tex. (NC) — Karl Holzella, a non-Catholic, has given $250,000 to the building fund of St. Paul's Hospital here. The philanthropist's gift brings the total contributed to the fund so far to more than $1,350,000, or more than one-fourth of a $1 million goal.

The hospital is operated by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul. It was founded in 1856.

Washington — (NC) — A jarring picture of communist actions in this country is painted by testimony released by the House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities.

A journalist of international experience, Edward Hunter, told the lawmakers that he sees emerging in this country the same developments he witnessed in other countries which the Reds came to dominate.

The testimony of the journalist, Mr. Hunter, was released some time after he had sat in consultation with the committee staff.

Mr. Hunter's newspaper experience extending back over more than 20 years, includes work as a reporter and editor in Europe, Africa, Japan, China, Manchuria, and two years service with the U.S. Office of Strategic Services.

HE SAID HE has spent 20 years in countries under various forms of "communist pressure and attack."

"I have been watching developments under communism in other parts of the world," he told the committee staff, "and now I see exactly the same developments here in America."

These developments, he explained, "include, first of all, the penetration of our leadership circles by a softening up, and creating a defeatist state of mind.

"This includes penetration of our educational circles by a similar state of mind, in addition to one other thing—the long-range perspective of the professor who is above any thing that is happening here and now, and considers himself an objective spectator in a long, long vista of history.

Main feature of the Red "softening up process in America," the journalist said, is "the liquidation of our attitudes on what we used to recognize as right and wrong, what we used to accept as absolute moral standards.

"We now confuse moral standards with the sophistication of dialectical materialism, with a communist crackpot theology which teaches that everything changes, and that what is right or wrong, good or bad, changes as well. So nothing, they say, is really good or bad."

GOAL OF COMMUNIST propaganda among Americans, Hunter told the congressional probers, is to convince us that "there is no such thing as truth or a lie, and my belief, we actually held was simply our being un-epochalized."
