Livingston Deanery Holds Report Meeting

Mt. Morris — The three Catholic Women's Societies of Dansville, St. Patrick's Rosary of St. Mary's, and the K. of C. Auxiliary acted as hostesses to the members of the Livingston County Deanery of the N.C.C.W. on April 21 at the Hotel Dansville.

Mrs. William Ryan of Lima, president of the Deanery introduced Mrs. John McKiernan of Geneva who gave a report of the meetings of the Institute of the Lay Apostolate held in March. Mrs. Gordon Guenther of the St. Michael's Rosary Society of Livonia Center explained how her society made bandages that are sent to the Medical Missions.

MRS. JOHN WELSH, president of the St. Mary's Christian Mothers, Dansville, told how her organization entertained the graduates of the Dansville Catholic Schools at a banquet each year and Mrs. Vincent Owen, K. of C. Auxiliary president told about the party the auxiliary gave at the Veterans' Hospital in Bath and helped the Maryknoll Sisters.

Finger Lakes Deanery Holds Spring Conference

Geneva — Seventy women attended a Spring conference of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women for the Ontario-Seneca-Yates Deanery in St. Stephen's parish hall.

The program included an explanation of the council, advantages of membership, suggested programming to strengthen parish groups, and a panel discussion, "Does All This Theory Really Work?"

REV. E. LEO McMANUS, moderator of the council, opened the meeting and Rev. Robert Smith of St. Francis de Sales parish, moderator of Geneva Deanery, gave the prayers.

Deanery president, Mrs. Leo Genesee of Canandaigua, welcomed the members and turned over to diocesan president Mrs. Theodora Strohmeier.

First speaker was Father McManus who gave an explanation of the workings and program of the National Council of Catholic Women.

Mrs. Charles Haight of Rochester, chairman of the organization and development committee, spoke of the duties of her committee and Sophie Cuzillo of Rochester, chairman of public relations, talked on the public relations facet of the organization.

Mrs. James Connolly of Rochester, chairman of Family Life and Mothers' Circles, discussed the object of her committee and Mrs. Michael Culhane of Rochester, diocesan chairman of spiritual development, also spoke.

Mrs. Scott had on display the Vision Books for children. She suggested that the members "do some spiritual reading" every day. Final speaker was Mrs. James Krechmire of Rochester, chairman of foreign relations.

A panel of three members summed up the materials presented proving that "this theory really does work." Panelists were Mrs. Leon Stanziano, Clyde; Mrs. Louis Saura, Mount Morris; and Josephine Fitzgerald, Hornell. Father McManus acted as moderator.

A tea was held after the program. Mrs. Fay Wetherbee of Geneva was chairman of the committee.

Holy Name Members Hear Steuben Judge

Steuben County Judge Dominick Gabrielli of Bath was the guest speaker at the Communion Breakfast of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary of Mt. Carmel Church in Utica last Sunday.

Rev. John C. O'Donnell, pastor of St. Patrick's parish, Dansville, and the Rev. J. Joseph O'Connell, pastor of St. Michael's, Livonia, Rochester, chairman and moderator of the Livingston Deanery addressed the meeting

Mrs. Grace Walker, president of the St. Patrick's Rosary Society, Dansville, related how her organization made layettes for the Pope's Store House and helped to build a library of Catholic Books for the school children. Mrs. Lawrence Weis of Rochester was guest speaker. Her topic was "Are you hearing Fallma?"

Rev. John C. O'Donnell, pastor of St. Patrick's parish, Dansville, and the Rev. J. Joseph O'Connell, pastor of St. Michael's, Livonia, Rochester, chairman and moderator of the Livingston Deanery addressed the meeting.

Mrs. Ryan announced that the First Saturday Luncheon will be held at the Levee-Casino, Saturday, May 3 at 1 p.m. It will be sponsored by the St. Ann's Society, Assumption and the Rosary Society, St. Patrick's, Mt. Morris; Holy Angels, Rosary Society, Nunda, and the St. Thomas Aquinas Rosary Society of Leicester.

Rev. Raymond Hesel of Nunda will be the guest speaker and Mrs. Dolores Seura, St. Ann's Society of Mt. Morris, will act as toastmistress.
