DOINGS AT THE DALY'S

By Mary Tinley Daly

No matter where you live, you are undoubtedly playing the necktie-and-white-glove circuit, just as we are.
Did you ever see week-ends like these? Not since last May, at any rate.
The sodality you belong to is having its own breakfast; your club is having its fund-raising fair, or whatever; there is a tea for this, a luncheon for that, a May festival...

And these are just your own window activities for the year. There are also your husbands and your children's.

This was Ginny's week-end. In necktie and white gloves, respectively we went on Saturday afternoon to the open house at her grammar school, saw the school papers—some good, some bad—talked to the teacher, met the other parents.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON: don't the regalia again for the awarding of medals to the Catholic Girl Scouts of the area. That Sunday afternoon service was an example of good programming if ever we saw it—and we have attended more Scout "do's" than we'd ever like to attend again!

We were skeptical at first, we admit, because, of course, we had to be in our places a half-hour ahead of time—and had left the Sunday roast in a slow oven.

"We shall give out the 260 individual awards," came the announcement after the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." The Head of the House and I glanced at each other dimly. Other sets of parents exchanged similar glances. We'd all seen the length of the printed program...

The Merry, Merry Month...

"Plus a sermon, yet," grudgingly murmured the Head of the House, pointing to the program. Somehow, though those 260 had their individual moments in the sun, it didn't take too long. Each set of parents, like ourselves, awaited just one or two or possibly three names. It was the "sermon" that had us scared as we thought of that roast in the oven.

But what a sermon! It couldn't have taken more than seven minutes but we could have let the roast dry-up, listening for longer. Aimed right straight at his audience of Girl Scouts, not over their heads at the parents, Rev. Edward J. Stokes, S.J., told of his "girl friend," Little Lulu. "She's a Lulu, all right," he smiled, and his listeners smiled with him.

"She wanted to be a Girl Scout," Father Stokes said, "but her mother wouldn't let her because she wasn't ready. And do you know why?"

"Why?" came the whispered response from the rows of green-uniformed figures.

"She told me the reason herself," Father Stokes went on. "She said, 'Father, I got so interested in the jelly beans that I forgot the soup!'"

The Girl Scouts perked up and giggled, every pair of eyes on the speaker.

"You see," Father Stokes said, "Lulu went to the store to buy soup for lunch; she bought and paid for it, then she bought some jelly beans and began sorting them out—the green ones here, the red ones there... And she walked home without the soup!"

"God expects you to have fun," Father became serious. "He knows you like jelly beans. He wants you to like them. He wants you to play and to laugh—He even wants little girls to giggle... But He also wants you to remember the soup!"

IN A FEW more brief sentences, Father Stokes noted that Girl Scouts are trustworthy and growing toward maturity; that they must not only be "jelly bean" but "soup" conscious and that his little friend Lulu was not yet ready to be Scout.

"Am I a jelly bean or a souper?" our Scout asked as we met her outside, in the pouring rain.

"You're super!" we hustled her to the car parked down the street.

Then a dash home, rescue the roast, a quick dinner and a once-over with the curling iron to Ginny's now-straightened hair, a quick-change for her into a pink dress and over to school for the year's end "recital."

Came the singalongs at the piano, then the duets, interspersed with "Selections from the Glee Club"—that's where Ginny plus 119 others came in.

"Back into the drenching rain, and home. Off with the white gloves, off with the necktie, Ginny's pink dress replaced by a bathrobe as homework started...

"Why, you're not even keeping your columns of figures straight, Ginny," we remonstrated. "Tired? Want to get up early and finish?"

"Guess I'm tired," Ginny yawned, "but my eyes hurt so!"

We glanced at our youngest. The normally pink cheeks were almost scarlet, the forehead—splotchy. We gave her the once-over.

Measles! No doubt about it. Three-day—we hope. And how many "has she infected"...

Ah, May!

Answering a call for volunteer assistance from our local Catho-

Mercy High Alumnae Annual Breakfast Sunday

The Class of 1958 will be officially received into the alumnae association of Our Lady of Mercy High School at the annual alumnae Communion Breakfast, to be held in the gym on Sunday, May 25.

Father Richard Tormey will celebrate Mass at 9 a.m. in the Motherhouse Chapel, preceding the breakfast.

Elaine Rayercroft '56 is general chairman, assisted by the following: committees: decorations: Carol McEneaney '56; reservations: Eileen Murphy '56, who will be assisted by Therese Austin Dieter '43, Bernice Renaud Gottry '32, Eileen O'Meara '56, and Bette Allison '57; publicity: Jacqueline Galland '56. Reservations must be made by Tuesday, May 20, by contacting Miss Rayercroft, 36 Elm Dr. or any one of the reservation committee.

Congratulations will be extended to Carolyn Knipper, president of the class of '58, and her assistants for signing up 100 per cent membership for the senior class in the association.

Announcement of new officers will also be made at the breakfast. Retiring officers are Jeanette Thomas Cullross '53, president, and Alice Berdel '52, treasurer.

Among Women

Feminine Stamina

By Mary Lennon Snyder

If any proof is needed to demonstrate the indelible qualities of the average modern woman in a study of her schedule at any time should be sufficient to observe this energetic mortal during the months of May and June is almost to strain one's powers of belief.

As I glanced over the group, I was impressed by its heterogeneity: there were those who, with families grown, could quite easily give volunteer service; and there were those whose families were literally babes-in-arms.

There were those in whose homes great sorrow had been a recent visitor, and others apparently light-hearted and gay.

The group was truly representative of our community, and it is heartening to live in a community where the wives, daughters, and mothers, the keystones of the family, answer promptly and generously the call to serve.

FURTHER evidence of the fact that though we are varied in our backgrounds and interests, we are one in our desire to serve the community, was the presence of the Director of Volunteer Services from Auburn Memorial Hospital.

She gave us helpful suggestions, and by her very presence emphasized the need and importance of volunteer service.

We elected as our president, Mrs. Thomas Stapleton, a busy mother of four children.

We are confident that she will assist us to continue in the best traditions of womanhood, working under the guidance of properly constituted authority wherever and whenever we are needed, performing to the best of our time and ability, the Spiritual and Corporal Works of Mercy.

Rebecca Merkel Wins Nursing Scholarship

Geneva—Geneva Chapter of Catholic Nurses has awarded the 1958 Nursing Scholarship to Rebecca Merkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Merkel of Geneva. She is a senior in De Sales High School.

The award, the Bishop Kearney Nursing Scholarship, entitles Miss Merkel to a three-year nursing course, leading to an R.N. degree. She will begin her career in St. Mary's School of Nursing, Rochester, this fall.

MISS MERKEL has been an honor roll student at De Sales, is active in the Sodality, and was highly recommended by De Sales faculty as possessing outstanding qualifications.

This is the third nursing scholarship awarded by Geneva Chapter of the annual raffle sale sponsored by the Catholic Nurses.

MEMBERS of the scholarship committee are Rev. John Loughlin, moderator of Geneva Chapter; Rev. John Morgan, principal of De Sales High School, who act as advisors with no vote; Mrs. Loretta Linahan, president of the Geneva chapter, Mrs. Catherine

Nazareth Names New Instructor

Marie A. Fragola was appointed to the Nazareth College faculty as instructor of Maternal-child health. Her appointment was effective May 1.

She received her B.S. in Nursing from Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C. in 1954 and did graduate work in the maternal-child health program at Teachers College, Columbia University. In 1956 she received her M.A. in Nursing Education from Columbia.

Miss Fragola's experience includes nursing of children as a staff nurse, clinical instructor and pediatric supervisor-instructor in hospitals and schools of nursing in Rochester and Syracuse.

Miss Fragola will be located at the Syracuse Memorial Hospital as instructor of the Nazareth College students obstetric and pediatric nursing.

Couple Wed in Geneva

Geneva — Miss Bertha Mary Haberfield of Dundee and Harry Duffy of Geneva were married in St. Stephen Church on May 10 by the Rev. Raymond P. Nolan, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roscombe Haberfield of Penn Yan. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Duffy of Dundee.

The bride was given in marriage by George Fulton of Geneva. Mrs. George Fulton was matron of honor and Miss Alva Haberfield, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. John Doyle of Lyons was best man and Robert Fulton, usher.

A reception was held at LaFayette Inn. Following a wedding trip, the couple will live at 29 Elmwood Pl.

She Will Wear 46-Year-Old Veil

Wayland — Carol Cole, daughter of Chad and Mrs. Nathan V. Cole of Wayland will marry her first Communion, Sunday, May 18, wearing a 46 year old veil.

The veil was made for Carol's great-aunt, Mrs. John J. Hoffman of Tonawanda. The veil has been worn in succession by each girl member of the family. It has been worn for First Communion, Confirmations and various professions over the years.

Carol will make her First Communion at St. Joseph's Church.

Future Nurses In Pinning Ceremony
