Telecast Featuring Nun To Continue

Philadelphia (AP)—A Sunday morning live telecast in color, believed to be the only one featuring a Catholic nun, has completed a year's successful run here and will be continued another year.

Called "Come Little Children," it is a half-hour program on WRCV, an NBC station, on which Mother Mary Urban, a Sister of the Holy Child and teacher at St. Leonard's Academy, tells Biblical stories to groups of children and asks them questions. Other nuns will substitute for her this summer, while she takes graduate study at Fordham University.

2,500,000 Call Lives Of Saints' In First Year

Chicago (NC)—More than 2,500,000 calls were placed to the recorded "Lives of the Saints" during the first year of the telephone service here and in several other mid-western communities.

The "Lives of the Saints" service offers a daily 15-minute recording about each day's saint. In Chicago the service is reached by dialing Webster 9-1515. The brief saints' lives are written by Chicago priests.

Response to the service has prompted its founder, Robert W. Ward, to set up the "Lives of the Saints" service in several Chicago suburbs and later in Kankakee, Elgin, Joliet, Rockford and Peoria, all in Illinois, Madison, Wis., Kalamazoo, Mich., and most recently Detroit, Mich.

Song of Bernadette

Educators Asked To Support Film

New York (NC)—A Catholic educational association has urged Catholic educators to help obtain bookings for a rereleased Hollywood film which deals with the apparitions of the Blessed Virgin at Lourdes.

Father Michael F. Muller, C.M., vice president of the Catholic Audio Visual Educators Association which has headquarters here, asked support for the 15-year-old movie "The Song of Bernadette," which has been rereleased by 20th Century-Fox for the Lourdes centennial year.
