Trieste Adventure

By Sister Margaret Teresa, Nazareth College

March The Ninth, by R. C. Hutchinson. Elmhurst '68, 371 pp. $4.50.

A story of Trieste, an adventure story, fast-moving and full of peril, that moves behind the Iron Curtain and ends truly, that is, in outward tragedy, in inward victory.

The first fine novel to reach us since World War II opened the Iron Curtain and the world to the story of a young Jewish doctor in Nazi-land, 1938. Nobody that read it ever forgot it. Maybe the author was somewhat forgotten; events grew terrible as to furnish a brutal and compelling substitute for reading-pleasure.

Hutchinson has gone on with his story, however, and the connoisseurs have supported him.

THIS TIME his hero is a naturalized American serving his country in Trieste, and he is also a surgeon who loves his job. He is a Prussian escapee, wounded, guilty of a war crime suggested in the war-pleasure title.

The heroine and her father are avarian Catholics of simple faith, deep faith, noblesse.

The villain is a Prussian escapee, wounded, guilty of a war crime suggested in the war-pleasure title.

Eugen, the hero, doctors him secretly — but you know how it is about "secrets." The villain has enemies who keep good track of him.

Here is Eugen talking to Frank, the escapee's wife:

"A debt to be paid, yes," I said. "It's his, it's Siegfried's."

"It's mine as well."

GOD LOVE YOU!

By MOST REV. FULTON J. SHEEN

THE SEMINARIANS in the United States have over two months vacation from their philosophical and theological studies every summer. In a six year course this represents more than a year's vacation.

IN MISSION LANDS, such as Vietnam, the seminarians go out to the poor villages in teams, several in each team, with a professor as their guide. Some live in a Christian community organizing Christian life. Others live among pagans, in the most difficult circumstances praying and working for conversions. For five hours each day the seminarians teach catechism to both groups. In many instances whole villages are reached late in the Church.

INASMUCH AS ALL THE seminarians are native, the people no longer fear Christianity as a Western religion. Inasmuch as these seminarians live in the same or worse economic conditions than those they teach, the poor people are immediately convinced of their sincerity and love. Inasmuch as many of them are helping the poor in areas where the Communists destroyed property and life, there is an immediate recognition of the superiority of Christianity.

THE DIFFICULTY IS THAT about 80% of all the seminarians who apply for admission in our mission seminaries are turned away because there are no funds to educate them. Our American priests could make no better sacrifices than to create a priest; and our American Catholics who have no priest in the family would have a priest to pray for them for the rest of their lives, if by their sacrifices they would help to pay for education.

ABOUT $250 A YEAR would pay for the education of a priest in mission land. Your sacrifice will be sent to the Holy Father who, in his superior wisdom, will make the allocation of your gift. If these seminarians do so much for the glory of God, let not we who have so many material blessings make sacrifices day for the spread of His Love. Send your sacrifices to the Father through his Society for the Propagation of the Faith let him distribute it to those he knows are most in need.

GOD LOVE YOU TO Miss E.H. for $21.10 "I started to go beauty school in October 1957 to become a beautician. I finished yesterday. This is all the money I received in tips while there." . . . to W.S. for $15. "Here is fifteen dollars I have saved from sacrifices during my first three months in the army." . . . to J.L.C. for $10. . . to Miss J.V. for $1 "I am 30 years old and I have a patch of strawberries. The crop has been much larger than expected so here's a little sacrifice in thanksgiving."

DO YOU EVER SEE RED as you pray? If you used a WORLD MISSION ROSARY you would see it as one decade of the multiplied beads and would pray for the Missions in the Americas. A WORLD MISSION ROSARY just send your request and a nice offering of $2 and we will send the rosary to you.

Cut out this column, pin your sacrifice to it and mail it to Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 365 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, N.Y., or your diocesan Director, Rev. George S. Wood, 30 Chestnut Street, Rochester 4, New York.

$39,000 Reported As Mission Gifts Of School Children

Parochial school children in the Diocese of Rochester gave a total of $39,000 to the Missions of the World during the past school year, according to a report released this week by Rev. George S. Wood, diocesan director of the Propagation of the Faith.

The report also indicated that 2,160 pagan children were ransomed for the church by the Catholic children of the diocese. Father Wood reported that there are 24 secondary schools active in this missionary program.

Ohio Citizens Battle Smut Sales

Ashland—(NC)—Citizens for Decent Literature from all over Ohio met here to form a statewide unit of the civic organization and lay plans for a national group.

In an all-day meeting the 60 CDL representatives adopted a resolution dting the extent of the pornography trade and calling for the banding together of organizations which oppose its spread.

THE RESOLUTION pointed out that in recent years there has been "an ever-increasing number of low, base and pornographic magazines on our newsstands." Estimates of the number of indecent publications issued in this country run as high as 10 million copies monthly, it said.

The resolution added that the "principal theme of these magazines is sex, with no restrictions or limitations" and asserted that most of them find their way into the hands of college age or younger youths.

"We believe in and cherish the freedom of the press," the resolution declared, "but believe the material to which we have referred . . . falls outside of the purview of this freedom."
