Corning Parochial School Remodeling Scheduled

Corning — Work on remodeling and renovating of the north building of St. Mary's ...entary school is expected to start in the near fu-tu... ...ject to approval of bids opened last week and signing of contracts, according to the Rev. Thomas F. Brennan, pastor.

The low bid for the general contract was entered by W. E. Granger & Sons of Elmira. Other low bids came from John C. Dineen of Corning, plumbing; Harry E. Rising of Corning, electrical work; and C. R. Evans Corporation of Elmira, heating.

The bids were opened at the office of the architects, Constine & Haskell, at Elmira. Amounts of the low bids and the names of those entering higher bids were not made public.

The bids must be reviewed and approved by the Building Commission of the Diocese of Rochester, before contracts can be awarded. This, Father Brennan said, is not expected to require a great deal of time.

FIRST PHASE of the construction program, which is covered by the bids opened Thursday, consists of remodeling the north building and installing complete new electrical, heating, and plumbing systems. New windows through the building are also planned.

No date has been set for the completion of this phase of the project. When it is completed pupils from the oldest building will take temporary quarters in the north building, and the older structure will be razed. Under another contract, a new building with an eight-room L-shaped wing will be erected on the site.

AS ANNOUNCED previously, the first phase is to consist of remodeling and renovation of the north building of St. Mary's School, the main floor of which is occupied by a gymnasium with an entrance on West First Street. Complete new electrical, heating, and plumbing systems are planned, as well as new windows throughout the building and an entire modernization on this wing.

When the first phase is completed the second phase of the program will be started under another contract to be awarded later. This phase will consist of razing the original school building, which faces State Street, and the construction of a new building on its site. The latter will be an eight-room L-shaped wing. It is planned to provide temporary class rooms in a large hall in the north building and in the basement, and pupils who have been using the oldest building will move into these when the remodeling phase is completed.
