Nazareth Grad Wins Music Prize

Candida Pilla, a 1958 graduate of the music department of Nazareth College, was winner of the first award of $1000 in the sixth annual competition for the Anna B. Stokes music scholarships held recently in Trenton, N.J.

This year's auditions were limited to vocalists and all candidates were known to the judges by number only.

Miss Pilla, who was a pupil of Mrs. Vlada Sabalis at Nazareth, is continuing her vocal studies at Villa Schisanoia in Italy, on a scholarship which she won from LaRinascita in Chicago, last spring. She also won a first prize in voice and musicianship at the National Catholic Music Educators conference in Pittsburgh in May, which entitles her to a semester's concert tour. She will undertake the tour after completing her studies in Florence.

Family Honors Sacred Heart

A shrine in honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus was put up in the backyard of the Pipani family at 29 Mayfair Dr. by Tony Paris recently, at the request of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lipani to help spread devotion to the Sacred Heart to help bring peace to the world. The shrine was blessed by Father Robert Dahlkertin, assistant pastor of St. Margaret Mary's Parish. The public is welcome to visit the shrine at any time. (Photo by Harry Belkin.)

Bishop Casey Lauds Hospital Nuns Spirit

Sisters' Day, on Sept. 27 concluded a week of observance of the golden jubilee of St. Joseph's Hospital.

About 140 nuns including sisters formerly stationed at the hospital and sister alumnae joined with the 35 hospital sisters on their home-coming day.

Auxiliary Bishop Lawrence B. Casey offered a Mass of Thanksgiving in the Little Flower Chapel at 11 a.m. Rev. Philip E. McGhan, hospital chaplain and Rev. Michael Hynes, chaplain of the Dominican Monastery, Elmira, were in the sanctuary assisting Bishop Casey.

A luncheon in the Dunn Memorial followed the Mass.

GUEST OF HONOR at the luncheon was Sister M. Ruth, who is on the staff at St. Ann's Home in Rochester. She was honored as the only living member of the original group of sisters which began work at the hospital in 1908.

Other guests included Reverend Mother M. Helene, superior general of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Rochester, and Sister Florentine, assistant superior general, both of Nazareth Convent in Rochester.

Bishop Casey in his address extolled the spirit of Christian charity at St. Joseph's Hospital.

"Each year I receive the annual report of the hospital and each year read it with increasing admiration for the Sisters who direct and staff this institution."

Behind all the figures and statistics, "one knows there is an intangible something, a spirit," Bishop Casey said. He explained that all who enter this hospital, Protestants, Catholics, Jews alike experience it.

"Walk along the corridors," Bishop Casey said "talking with the Sisters and nurses and the lay help, observing the general atmosphere and you can feel the pulse of the place and realize that the morale is high. Superadded to medical competence is the charity of Christ. It makes a good combination."

CITING THE PIONEERS who laid the hospital's foundation, 50 years ago, Bishop Casey said "who can begin to estimate the part they continue to play in developing the spirit which pervades at St. Joseph's?"

"These pioneers," he said from Purgatory and later from Heaven have continued to intercede for us and our work. They are not dead nations but living forces for good in your scheme of salvation."

THE SISTERS' annual report Bishop Casey said, does not mention "the miracles of grace which have taken place within the walls of this hospital, the patients who have entered here sick in soul as in body."

"Then some Nun came along with deep insight into human frailty, and by her patience and love and her prayers, led that soul back to the priest and the friendship of Christ," Bishop Casey said.

He urged the nuns to preserve and intensify their "tradition of service to the sick of the Elmira area" during the years ahead.
