

'Living Rosary' Marks Youth Week

The Brownies, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts of St. Stanislaus Parish participated in the "Living Rosary" Sunday with Rev. Chesler M. Klocik officiating in observance of Catholic Youth Week.

Father Klocik gave the sermon. He challenged the Girl Scouts to spread devotion to Our Lady by doing something positive. He suggested making rosaries out of coral and giving them to all the school children in the parish so that there would be no one in school without a rosary.

Catholic investment ceremony for the new Brownies and Girl Scouts was also held. The leaders of the Brownie Troops are Mrs. Edward Labadie and Mrs. Theodora Kapinski. The leaders of the Girl Scout Troops are Mrs. Robert Wark and Mrs. Oscar Toman.

Sisters Attend Annual Meeting

Attending the annual Fall Junior Red Cross Teacher-Sponsor supper meeting in the Rochester-Monroe County Red Cross Chapter canteen Oct. 21 were Sister Jean Clare and Sister William Michael representing St. Margaret Mary's School. More than 100 teachers from Monroe County public, private and parochial schools attended the meeting to learn about the program. Here the Sisters look over an exhibit of items made by Junior Red Cross volunteers.

Secretary Mitchell

Against 'Right-To-Work Laws'

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell opposes the so-called "right-to-work laws" which have figured prominently in this Fall's elections in many states.

Mitchell was in Rochester Sunday to address the City Club and was interviewed at the Hotel Manger prior to his address.

"PERSONALLY, I oppose any such Federal or state enactment of 'right-to-work' legislation," he said. "But state legislatures have the constitutional right to pass these laws," he admitted.

Passage of the "right-to-work" laws would deal a serious blow to all unions. The laws would eliminate a local share of the process made by unions in obtaining higher wages and just working conditions. This would also stifle any future progress by the unions.

A prominent Catholic leader, Mitchell joined President Eisenhower's cabinet in 1953 as an assistant of the Army. Later that year he was named Secretary of Labor.

MITCHELL ALSO stated that there is too much centralization of power in the unions and he believes:

"I think that the local union should have more to say in negotiations with their employers."

"When you have a monopoly on the matter of labor, you are eliminating the individual rights of the employee," he said. "These problems can only be decided on a local level," he added.

COMMENTING ON discrimination against workers because of race, age and because of a physical handicap, Mitchell stated that President Eisenhower issued an executive order that forbids discrimination against a worker because of his race, creed or color.

"Congress has also allocated funds that the Labor Department is using to train older people and the handicapped for jobs," he said.

"Actually, this problem of discrimination can only be solved on the community level," he added. "This can only be done through the education of the people by the community. It cannot be done solely by passing laws."

SECRETARY MITCHELL also stated that records of his department and his personal trips

Frosh Class Less Than Capacity

Registrars at both Nazareth and St. John Fisher College said today that they could have admitted additional freshmen this Fall.

Nazareth College admitted 197 freshmen this year, an increase of 15 over 1957, but Sister Josephine Louise, said that although dormitory capacity was taxed to the limit, many additional day-hop students could have enrolled in the incoming class.

GERARD H. TUCKER, registrar at St. John Fisher College, reported that 214 men were accepted into the freshman class in September, but said that an additional 50 students could have been handled.

Both registrars said that when present construction is completed in February, 1959, both schools will be able to accept more students.

Nazareth College is presently constructing a new dormitory which will handle about 75 more students. The Basilian college now has a new chemistry building under construction, which will enable the school to accommodate an additional 200 students.

NO HEARDOWN figures were available, however, as to how many new freshman students will be admitted.

Gets Franchise

Rochester Business Institute has now franchised to set up the Automation Institute of Rochester, a training school to provide instruction in the latest technical jobs in business office automation.

The survey at Nazareth and St. John Fisher corresponds to state figures which indicated that the 51 privately-endowed colleges could have accepted at least 2,500 additional freshmen this Fall.

FRANK S. HOGAN

Frank Hogan has earned the praise of every newspaper in New York City—and dozens outside. Here are excerpts from typical editorials:

The New York Times: "His record is unique. Mr. Hogan has come to be regarded as a symbol of integrity in public office."

The New York Herald Tribune: "... a tower of vigilance, a relentless check on wrong-doing, the organized enforcement of conscience."

The Daily News: "... an enviable reputation as District Attorney, by and large a solid citizen."

The Daily Mirror: "Hogan is an honest guy, a hard worker, owned by no one, scared of nobody."

what the press thinks of Hogan

The New York Post: "The stands he has enunciated identify him with the liberal wing of the party."

The Journal-American: "Frank Hogan rates consideration for all the major offices, Mayor, Governor or Senator."

The World-Telegram and Sun: "He has heaved to the line regardless of where the chips might fall. Consequently, he has grown constantly in the esteem of his fellow New Yorkers."

The Progress: "He has been stamped as a man of destiny, who places his service to the public above any personal gain."

The Civil Service Leader: "A breath of fresh air flows from the office of District Attorney Hogan."
