DOINGS AT THE DALY'S November: Requiem Sempternam

By Mary Tinley Daly
During November, "The Month of the Holy Souls," we are reminded of those who have passed on. And at the Agnus Dei, instead of seeing the Lamb of God to give us mercy on us, the words are: "Dona eis requiem." Give them rest. repeated seven times. "Dona eis requiem sempiternam." Give them eternal rest.

In these Masses, the Church concentrates on fervent petitions for the eternal welfare of the departed, setting a pattern to be followed by all who remember the one who has gone. As to "keeping the memory green," there are many things that families can do - far better than frequent visits to the cemetery or paying for "perpetual care." Among these are Masses, prayers and special devotions.

As a child, we used to wonder whether our prayers for the nearest soul in purgatory were a soul within sight of the Pearly Gates. And perhaps our small prayers would, perhaps, be pushed up or did it go for a soul somewhere in the world and at the bottom of the ocean? Perhaps he had just died the day before.

AMONG WOMEN Notes From Fiji

By Mary Lennon Snyder
This week I shall return to the subject of knitted bandages because I believe the readers of this column will be interested in some of the results of our writing on this subject. Along in the early autumn I wrote about a "nun in Fiji" and identified her as Nancy Kennedy now known as Sister Siena S.M.S.M. This led to my receiving a letter from the editor of the Marist-Missionary published in Framingham Center, Massachusetts. In the letter the editor pointed out that the initials S.M.S.M. are not so well known as the term, Marist by which the order is popularly known.

Her real purpose in writing, however, Mother Augustine very graciously pointed out was that she wanted a copy of this column for her files, as she had sent her copy to a woman in Florida who was looking for ways in which to help the missions. THIS LED to my receiving in a few days a letter from the woman in Orlando, Florida. She asked for specific instructions, mailing addresses and the like. Since I am my own secretary, I saved time by forwarding to her copies of the letters from various missionaries to Miss Katherine Lechleiter of Rochester whose group has done so much with this project.

My Florida correspondent recently returned the copies and noted: "I have made copies of the instructions and postal information and am returning the enclosed you sent me. Again thank you very much for your prompt answer to my letter. I hope we will be able to encourage a number of ladies in making these very necessary bandages."
