Aquinas, McQuaid Start Hoop Season

By FRANK KELLY

The varsity basketball season starts this week at both Rochester, Catholic high schools. McQuaid High School's "Knights" got the season underway Wednesday against East Rochester and the Little Irish of Aquinas Institute will begin its schedule tomorrow.

Starting his seventh year as coach of the Little Irish hoopsters will be Ed Basile, who shows an enviable 78-17 record for the previous six seasons. Including a perfect 18-0 mark in the 1953-54 season.

BASILE HAS never come close to a losing season at Aquinas and with six remaining lettersmen he can look forward again to another good year.

Heading the returning veterans will be guards Jim Albano and Fred Postorius and centers Bob and Ralph Yahn, who are the tall men on the team at 6'4" and 6'4", respectively.

Other returnees include Ed Casella, up from the JV, who played in a few games in the end of last season, and Greg Rily, who will return to action after he recovers from a football injury.

AMONG THE fine prospects turned out by the Aquinas Institute are: Ron Chatterton, Dick Aasoti, Mike Kehoe, Chuck Bartash, John McGrath, Al Hoyt, Bob Gears, George Mook, Bill Brown and Dick Olas round out the squad.

Other returnees include Ed Casella, up from the JV, who played in a few games in the end of last season, and Greg Rily, who will return to action after he recovers from a football injury.

North Pole News Report: Temperature Low; Morale High

Although the temperature is getting home after putting in a year's tour, morale is very good and the gun-house is empty.

FATHER WARD also stated that of the four women at the base three of them, all nurses, are Catholic.

"We have made these three nurses, Lieutenants Jones, Freitas and King, presidents of the three traditional parish societies: Christian Mothers, Young Ladies Society and Rosary and Altar Society, respectively. Of course they are also the only members," he added.

Father Ward also reported that there were many confessions and Communion at the base.

Both he and Father Emile A. Verbrugge, a fellow Catholic chaplain who comes from Chicago, said that a mission held on the base was an overwhelming success.

"We have completed the month's Communion Sunday practice. Started by our predecessors, Father Ward said. "Every man that receives Our Lord is given the Our Lady of Thy and to sign which we will hold to their family."

FATHER WARD is the second member of his family to serve as a chaplain with the U. S. Armed Forces. His brother, Chaplain Leo D. Ward is serving aboard the USS Remington (CV-20) and can be reached by writing him in care of the Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif.

Father Lawrence Ward's address is Office of the Catholic Chaplain, Headquarters, 4084d Air Base Group, USAF, APO 23, New York, N. Y.
