

Father Muckle Funeral Mass This Morning

from its original few hundred families to become one of the largest parishes in the Rochester Diocese.

Father Muckle purchased the property on which the parish church, school, convent and rectory now stand.

He supervised construction of the combination church and school and expanded it in 1938.

He also built a new convent for the Sisters of Mercy who staff the school and completely renovated a house purchased in 1922 and converted it into the present rectory at the corner of St. Paul Blvd. and Cobleskill Dr. He retired as pastor in 1954, due to failing health.

FATHER MUCKLE was ordained to the priesthood on June 6, 1905 after completing his theological training at St. Andrew's and St. Bernard's Seminaries.

He received his early schooling in Yates County public schools and Dansville High School. He also attended Keuka College, St. Hyacinth College, Quebec, and St. Michael's College, Toronto.

After being ordained to the priesthood, Father Muckle served as procurator at St. Bernard's Seminary for three years. In 1911, he was named assistant pastor of Holy Rosary Church, Rochester, and two years later was named principal of St. Charles High School, Geneva, which being attached to St. Francis DeSales Church. He held this post for several years.

FATHER MUCKLE was the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Muckle of Stanley. His priest-brothers are Father Charles Muckle of Avon, Father Joseph T. Muckle, C.S.B., of Toronto, and Father William Muckle, also of Toronto.

His nun-sister is Sister Mary Charles Muckle who is at St. John the Evangelist convent, Rochester. Father Muckle was the last surviving member of the 1908 class ordained for the Rochester Diocese.

In addition to his priest-brothers and his nun-sister, Father Muckle is survived by another brother, Andrew of Stanley and two other sisters, Mrs. John E. McWilliams and Mrs. George D. McWilliams, both of Stanley.

Communist Barrage
Berlin—(RNS)—Josef Cardinal Frings, Archbishop of Cologne, was the target of a new barrage of denunciations in West Germany as "a rigid advocate of West German atomic armament."

Carmelite Christmas Mass A TV 'Scoop'

A "television scoop" will be made when WROC-TV telecasts Christmas morning Mass from the Carmelite Monastery, Rochester. It will be the first such program in the United States to originate "live" from a chapel of these cloistered nuns. Photo shows Sister Elizabeth, extern nun, arranging altar candles for the 10 to 11 a.m. telecast.

Priest Replaces Red In Parliament

Paris—(NC)—Escorted by a military guard an old man in the simple cassock of a priest entered the French National Assembly and prayed to God for aid in restoring the destiny of France.

General Charles de Gaulle rose from his official place as Premier to welcome him. He replaces a communist.

Father Felix Kir, mayor of Dijon, as the oldest member of the French Parliament, had the duty of reading the first message of the newly elected National Assembly.

Father Kir, 84, had the obligation to pursue a fruitful path in a world threatened by materialism. He said that he has often contemplated a world in which the divine message would actually be applied and men would serve their neighbors, even though their neighbors are not friendly toward them. This is the ideal toward which France must move in the world he said.

Father George McCall

Following is the text of the sermon given by Very Rev. Msgr. Joseph J. Sullivan at the funeral Mass of Father George T. McCall, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Waterloo, Father McCall died Wednesday, Dec. 10, 1958, and his funeral was Saturday, Dec. 13.

It is truly meet and just, right and availing unto salvation, that we should at all times, and in all places give thanks to Thee almighty and eternal God.

Requiem Preface

Pope Urges Catholics To Politics Role

Vatican City—(RNS)—Pope John XXIII said Catholics should take an active part in politics and it is the "right and duty" of the Church to give them moral guidance in such activities.

The Pontiff spoke at an audience to delegates attending the ninth national meeting of the Union of Italian Catholic Laymen.

HE CAUTIONED that while differences of opinion may exist among Catholics in regard to merely political questions, there should be unanimity concerning matters of social and religious interest.

Pope John said Catholics engaged in working for political or social purposes should always do so in a spirit of mutual understanding.

He said that if such efforts are to be successful, it is obvious that all internal discord must be eliminated and a common united stand taken instead.

At all times, he added, the Catholic hierarchy has the right and duty to speak faithfully in the interest of souls, to defend the Church and Christian principles.

Brothers Flee Fire

Laval, Que.—(NC)—A fatal fire on the fourth floor of the Christian Brothers' educational house and seminary here killed 25 Brothers and several boys out into sub-zero cold.

No one was reported injured in the fire, which raged for more than four hours, starting from the aid of local firemen. The blaze was believed to have started in a hotel on the top floor of the four-story building.

nothing short of a sensation in its singleness of purpose, its dedication, devotion, to what he knew was right.

Wherever he walked, wherever he worked, in his overalls in his garden, in his hunting clothes in the field, in his vestments at the altar, at the bedside of the sick in the rectory parlor or in the classroom with his children, he was always priest and man, father and friend.

THE PATH HE TROD took him in his earliest years to Auburn where the people of Holy Family parish, and even the unfortunate in its prison, knew his priestly heart and hand. Later, it was St. Mary's parish Rochester.

For 15 years his path made him a familiar figure across the beautiful hills and valleys of Livingston County near Livonia and Honeyey.

It was a commonplace wonder of the people of the countryside where he found his energy. For those who knew him well, it was a continuing marvel that there could be so much of so many things in that tiny frame—energy, vitality, spirit, personality.

We could even say that he died of good health—he almost always felt so well, lived life and people and enjoyed the things of nature so much that he could not learn to slow down and rest things in that tiny frame—energy, large as himself.

And now, after 50 years of walking he has reached the end of the road—his eternal home. There was something symbolic in the way he walked, and who had walked so long and so far alone with only God as companion.

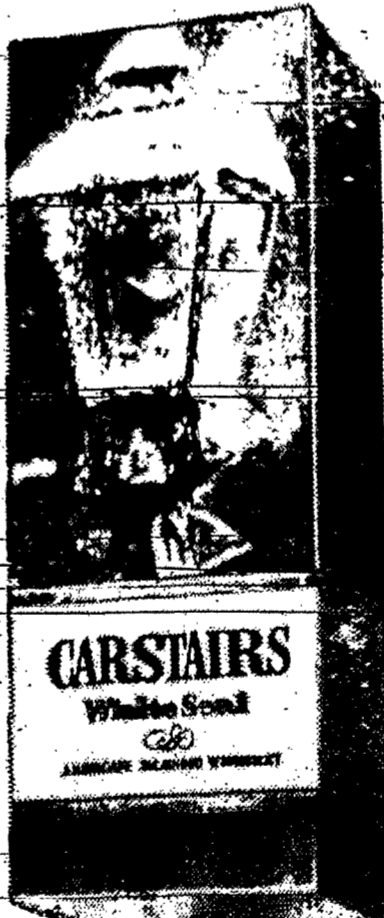

There was another possible grace in that passing. He so attracted attention, recognition, honors that he almost feared his coming jubilee.

He seriously threatened to take a long vacation at the time of his golden jubilee to avoid the embarrassment of a celebration of honors of attention. And Almightly God spared him the trouble by calling him to his eternal jubilee.

For a brother and uncle than which there never was a better, for a friend and neighbor who enriched every place he stepped, for a father and pastor according to the heart of Christ, for a man and a priest of God, for 50 years of Father McCall. Thanks Thanks. Thanks be to God.
