

Educators Warned

Don't Try To Run Lives Of Others

Toronto—Teachers must be careful not to glibly try to run the lives of others, Rev. John Sheehan, C.S.B., of Aquinas Institute said in a paper on "How the Classroom Teacher Views Guidance" read at the twelfth annual Christmas Educational Conference of the Basilian Fathers.

The student is not a statistic on a chart or graph or marks sheet," he continued. "He is a person, enveloped in mystery. A teacher needs a reverence for the mystery of the person and with it a sense of humor."

In another paper read at the conference, Rev. E. P. Magee, C.S.B., principal of Aquinas, said that "Vocations come as God's answer to prayer and hard work."

Rev. W. Oscar Regan, C.S.B., principal of St. Joseph's High School, Ottawa, Canada, and formerly in charge of guidance at Aquinas Institute, gave a paper on the organization of the guidance program in the high school.

Rev. Brother Philip, F.S.C., head of the department of psychology at Assumption University of Windsor, closed the two-day conference with a paper on the future possibilities of guidance.

One hundred priests and scholars from Basilian Houses in the United States and Canada attended the conference in Carr Hall, University of St. Michael's College, Toronto.

Rev. Anthony Lococo, C.S.B., principal of St. Charles College, Sudbury, Canada, and Rev. William Duggan, C.S.B., principal of St. Thomas High School, Houston, Texas, both former staff members at Aquinas Institute, were chairmen of the meetings. Representing St. John Fisher College were Rev. Robert Fischette, C.S.B., and Rev. Russell Pendergast, C.S.B., Rev. Leon Hart, C.S.B., and Rev. Peter Billings, C.S.B., of Aquinas also attended the meeting.

Mid-Term Examinations Start Tuesday

This week young lads laid away their formal and suburban cowboys slashed away their holsters. It was time to forget dates and Indian wars to concentrate on studies for exams will begin in diocesan schools this Tuesday. Patrick
