Perosian Choir Lists Performances

Nazareth Academy's Perosian Choir will present "Love From Judy," the London song hit version of "Daddy Long Legs" on Sunday and Monday, Feb. 8 and 9, at 8:15 p.m.

Sister Rose Teresa, moderator, said that the performance is a mixture of "contagious melodies, clever dialogue, charming romance, and spectular ballet."

Soprano Janet Miller, a four-year voice student, has the lead role as "Judy." The role of "Grace Pritchard" will be portrayed by soprano Lucyanne Conte, president of the Perosians.

THE LEADING male role, "Jim Pendleton," will be handled by baritone Philip Fallon, a West High School graduate.

Other character roles are played by Jerry Campo, baritone of the St. John Fisher College Glee Club and the Rochester Music Theater; Frank Iacavangelo, of St. John Fisher College, tenor of the Rochester Music Theater; Michael Bellinger, baritone, a member of Community Playhouse; Lucretia Bucci, mezzo soprano, private voice student and second year Voice Class student at Nazareth; and Sharon Shea, contralto, fourth year Voice Class student and dancer in "Love from Judy" ballet.

Patricia Di Cesare, Eleanor Chechak, and Patricia Heberger, Mercury Ballet members, are performers and dancing instructors for the production.

NAZARETH ACADEMY orchestra members and guest players will accompany the Perosian musical. Jo Ann Weiss is pianist.

The business staff includes Ann Laramie, Lucretia Bucci, Mary Ann Szeles and Beverly Di Sano, publicity; Joan Orlowsky and Joan Libertore, posters; and Patricia Zannie, program cover artist.

Salon of Photography

Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences will exhibit the 24th Kodak International Salon of Photography through Feb. 15. The salon is sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company for its employees in all parts of the world. It is rotated each year among its four major plants and last year was held in Australia.

Stage Show, Dance Set By Letter Carriers

A two-hour stage show headlining the highly-popular Poni Tails — comes to Rochester on Feb. 7 at the War Memorial sponsored by the Rochester Letter Carriers Benevolent Assn.

Dancing to the music of Lee Hawley and his orchestra will begin at 8:30 p.m. and will continue until 2 a.m. The stage show takes over at 9 p.m. Five headline acts, including the Poni Tails, have been promised by the show's producer and director, Art Argyris.

Also scheduled to appear are comedian Van Harris and The Wazzan Troupe, a European acrobatic tumbling act which received rave notices from their appearance recently on the Ed Sullivan TV show.

Tickets are now on sale — $4.50 per couple — at the Memorial box office. All proceeds will be used for financial assistance to active and retired letter carriers and an increased aid program for their widows.

AMONG WOMEN

The Catholic Press

By Mary Lennon Snyder

In preparation for Catholic Press Month, I received recently some very interesting material about the Catholic Press in the U.S.A. and Canada. Grouping the press into four divisions the Catholic Press Association describes Catholic newspapers in this manner:

Mrs. Snyder

"Most Catholic newspapers are published under the auspices of the Bishop of the diocese. Catholic diocesan weekly newspapers help instruct the faithful, and in addition they publish news about local and national developments, as well as disseminating special feature material columns, book reviews and cartoons."

Going on through the fact-sheet from the CPA, I have selected this information as of particular interest. The latest issue of the Catholic Press Directory shows 107 diocesan newspapers, two national newspapers (The Register and Our Sunday Visitor) and 21 foreign language newspapers in the U.S. for a total of 130 United States newspapers.

IN CANADA nine weekly newspapers make the North American total 139. A newcomer into the field since the publication of the Directory rounds the number out to 140.

"Today's American Catholic newspapers perform an indispensable service in bringing into Catholic homes the words of the Holy Father, the guidance of our Bishops, and a wide range of instruction on matters of faith and morals.

"Beyond this service, as newspapers of high professional ability they bring to Catholics news of importance that they can't get anywhere else. Catholics get from their Catholic newspapers — the complete story on many events and they can read the Catholic view on these events. To be fully informed on current events, today's Catholic needs to get — and read — his own diocesan newspaper."

Although I should not be, I was amazed that there are nearly 500 Catholic Magazines or Periodicals published in the United States and Canada.

THE FACT SHEET reports that most Catholic magazines are published by religious orders; only a few by laymen. The largest group of Catholic magazines are the mission magazines, disseminating knowledge of, and raising funds, for missionary purposes.

Some of these come into our home, and among them are publications which have a professional polish and excellence of photography and copy that is not to be excelled in secular magazines. The young people pass Maryknoll and the Marist Missions from one to another, and days pass sometimes before I can lay a hand on a copy.

NEXT IN SIZE are the devotional magazines — spreading devotion to the Sacred Heart, the Blessed Sacrament, particular Saints or particular devotions. Among these I believe The Scapular is the favorite at our house. The others are leafed through, but The Scapular gets a more careful reading.

Space is keeping me from listing today all the interests of the magazines. Almost all the trades and professions, sciences and arts in which the Church's spiritual mission is involved are represented. There are magazines on theology, philosophy, liberal and fine arts, sociology politics, history, music, economics and anthropology.

In circulation they range from ones to close to a million subscribers to professional publications which may circulate to only a few hundred. The 1958-59 Catholic Press Directory reports over 25 million subscribers to 473 North American magazines. Every one of us should be represented among that number.

Nothing Alarming

A boy called up a doctor and asked excitedly. "You'd better come quickly. My little brother just swallowed my pen."

"I'll be right there," said the doctor. "But what are you doing meantime?"

"Using my pencil," was the answer.

'Smilin' Through'

Mercy Seniors Ready Play

Alice Langdon Martin's romantic comedy, "Smilin' Through" will be presented in the auditorium of Our Lady of Mercy High School on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 6 and 7 at 8:15 p.m.

Cast in the lead role of the senior play is Elaine Klingler as Kathleen Dungannon with Joyce Fiano as understudy.

The story, a combination Brigadoon-Annie Laurie type, according to Sister Mary Pius, director, is laid in England about 1914 and concerns itself with the romance between Kathleen and Kenneth Wayne, and the opposition they encountered on the part of her guardian, Uncle John.

A SECOND ACT flashback reveals John's motive in mistrusting Kenneth and weaves an intricate inter-relationship among the characters.

It is here that the audience meets the sisters, Moonyeen and Mary Claire, played by Patricia Madigan and Mary Ellen Baker, as well as Ellen, portrayed as a young woman by Jean Kearse and as a more mature woman by Joyce Fiano.

IN MINOR roles are Sharon Carey, as the ghost of Sarah Wayne, and Mary Mulligan, Janice Bengle and Linda Sapere, as wedding guests.

Filling the shoes of the male characters will be Mike Drons, McQuaid; Don McLane, Flight

REHEARSING for Our Lady of Mercy High School's senior play on Feb. 6 and 7 in the school auditorium are Mary Mulligan, Janice Bengle, Elaine Klingler, Pat Madigan and Jean Kearse.
