High Schools Mark Catholic Book Week

Catholic high schools in Rochester will celebrate National Catholic Book Week Feb. 22-28 with projects in their libraries and classrooms on the theme: Share Truth — Spread Faith according to Sister Joseph Edward, S.S.J., in charge of publicity for the Western New York Catholic Librarian's Conference.

Students at Aquinas, McQuaid, Nazareth, Our Lady of Mercy, and St. Agnes are cooperating with the Catholic Librarian's Conference in carrying out their theme through book displays recommended in the association booklet. At Aquinas and McQuaid the displays are in the main corridors.

THIS YEAR four national Catholic organizations have joined the Catholic Librarian's Association as co-sponsors of Catholic Book Week. They are the National Council of Catholic Women, The National Council of Catholic Men, the Catholic Press Association, and the National Office for Decent Literature.

At Our Lady of Mercy High School the art classes made posters to supplement the library display. Reading lists were posted in each homeroom and are available to any student requesting one. Students have prepared a quiz on Catholic Books and Catholic authors.

Pope Talks To Children
Vatican City — (RNS) — Pope John XXIII in a message broadcast over the Vatican Radio in connection with the worldwide Day of Sick Children, urged all youngsters to "offer their sufferings for the Holy Church, the conversion of sinners, and for lasting peace among nations."

"As Jesus loved with special preference the little ones because of such is the kingdom of heaven. We also wish to be close to them with paternal affection, since during the chosen period of their most cherished hopes, the Via Dolorosa of the Cross has found its way," the Pontiff continued.

"We assure each of these beloved children that Our incessant prayer rises to the Lord to ask Him with great confidence to give back to them quickly their long-for cure, for serenely and strength in their passing trial. At the same time, we ask them to offer their tribulation for the Holy Church, for the conversion of sinners, for lasting peace among nations, and for our own intentions."

Plan Basketball Tournament
PLANS FOR the first Diocesan Basketball Tournament are in progress. The tournament, to be held in March is in charge of, from left, stated, Thomas Dinanuel, publicity and officials; Mark Tuohy, general chairman; Jack Heveron, finances; Charles Mirquet, tickets; standing, Howard Meath, advisor; John North, programs; Thomas White, legal advisor and entertainment and William Meyer, house committee. Diocesan Sports Aquinas, McQuaid High Score Court Victories

McQuaid Jesuit High School handed Franklin High its first defeat of the season in a 69-57 non-league basketball game Saturday. Franklin had won 11 interscholastic League games and defeated Aquinas Institute. The Knights led all the way, with Joe Fustani hitting for 29 points with nine field goals and 11 free throws, setting a new McQuaid individual scoring record.

McQuaid's 69 points was the highest score recorded this season against Franklin.

Aquinas Institute ran to a 84-34 victory over Batavia High School on the Irish court Saturday. John McGrath was top man for Aquinas with 21 points. Also in double figures for the Irish were Bob Yahr with 19, Bill Brown with 12 and Fred Pastorius with 11. Constantino was high for the visitors with 24 points.

Aquinas next game will be against Canisius Prep today at home.
