

Aquinas, McQuaid To Meet In City War Memorial

Aquinas Institute and McQuaid Jesuit High School basketball teams will meet at the Community War Memorial on Saturday, March 7, instead of at R. I. T. as announced today by Rev. William M. Roche, associate superintendent of schools.

It will be the first athletic contest between Rochester's two Catholic boys schools.

"The change in locale for the game is based upon a real need," Father Roche stated, in releasing the revised program for the Catholic High School Basketball Tournament. "It is more than gratifying to hear the many expressions of interest in this game between our two Rochester boys' schools," he added.

Original plans called for the semifinals and final games of the tournament to be played at the Rochester Institute of Technology gymnasium. However, from the first announcement of the game between Aquinas and McQuaid, a keen interest was expressed. As time went on, it became increasingly clear that many who are interested in the two schools would not be able to see the game.

Therefore, in the face of this widespread community interest, the game will be played in the War Memorial. "It is our wish to do all we can to enable parents and loyal followers of both schools to participate in this tournament. The fine facilities of the War Memorial make it possible to take care of the thousands who have expressed a desire to attend," Father Roche added.

The final game, between the winner of the Aquinas-McQuaid game and the winner of the out-of-town eliminations, will be played at R.I.T. on Sunday, March 8, as originally scheduled.

In accord with an ancient custom the three have already received the red biretta of a cardinal from the chiefs of state of the countries in which they were serving when named.

Vatican Bans Marriage Of Princess To Shah

Vatican City—(RNS)—Osservatore Romano, Vatican City newspaper, declared in an editorial that the Church cannot approve of a marriage between Roman Catholic Princess Maria Gabriella of the House of Savoia and Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlavi, who belongs to the Moslem Shiite faith.

The paper's comment came in the wake of reports in the Italian press that an engagement between the couple is pending. This has been denied by members of the former ruling family of Italy.

OSSEVATORE recalled that the Church has always warned against mixed marriages because of the Catholic partner losing his faith. It said the Church grants dispensation for mixed marriages only for grave reasons and when it finds that the Catholic partner runs no risk of being perverted.

"It is quite evident," it said, "that this danger increases in proportion to differences between the religions of the man and wife."

The paper stressed there is a particular danger to the faith of the Catholic partner "if the other partner belongs to a non-Christian religion (for instance, pagan or Moslem) whose doctrines, way of life, ritual usages, etc., are greatly different from and often contrary to Catholicism."

Observer stressed also that in a mixed marriage, the non-Catholic partner must undertake to raise offspring in the Catholic faith. It said the presumption that at least the first male child born after the Shah's marriage would be raised as a Shiite Moslem made the Church's consent to his rumored wedding with the Savoy Princess impossible.
