Pray The Rosary

SACRED MUSIC will be the program of the three choirs of Holy Rosary Church on May 28 at 8:15 p.m. in Nazareth Academy auditorium. From left are Sue Anne Wolf, from the seventh and eighth grade girls choir; Mary Kay Mostravick, adult choir; Lucyanne Conte, of the St. Cecilia Choir comprised of high school girls, and Anthony J. DiPonzo, adult choir.

Church Music Program Listed By Holy Rosary

The three choirs of Holy Rosary Church will present a program of Sacred Music May 28 at 8:15 p.m. in Nazareth Academy auditorium. Gregorian chant will be sung by the Holy Rosary Girls' Choir, which consists of seventh and eighth grade girls. Since the Feast of Corpus Christi will be celebrated on this date; the program will include several chants dedicated to the "Body of Christ," namely, "Jesu Dulcis Memoria" and "Ecce Panis Angelorum." The girls will also render "Mary, the Dawn" by Cross, the "Hail Mary" by Kreckel, and the three-part "Ecce Panis Angelorum" by Polleri.

THE ST. CECILIA Choir, a special volunteer group of girls from various high schools, will offer a cycle of Old Testament Psalms by Bocard in polyphonic style. These will include: "Why Have the Gentiles Raged," "Out of the Depths," "The Lord is My Shepherd," and "I Sleep, But My Heart Watcheth."

Both choirs will unite for "Praise Ye the Lord," a six-voice canonic arrangement of the triumphal hymn of homage to Christ. Both girls' choirs will be directed by Sister Anna Louise, music instructor at Holy Rosary School.

Mrs. Nancy Sylvester will conduct the Holy Rosary Adult Choir, which will climax the program with a complete rendition of Gabrielli's "Missa Brevis." In addition, the choir will sing "Regina Caeli Laetare" arranged by Rt. Rev. Msgr. George V. Predmore and the "Jubilate Deo" by Mozart.

DONALD MEMINGER, Holy Rosary's church organist will supplement the choral program with two compositions for organ. He will play "Carillon-Sortie" by Mulet and "Trumpet Voluntary in D Major" by Purcell.

The public is invited to attend this program. Tickets will be available at the door on the evening of performance or from any member of the choirs for a donation of $.50.

Watching The Screen

'Watusi'

By RAY SMITH

As a sequel to MGM's highly spectacular 1950 production of "King Solomon's Mines," "WATUSI" at the Loew's Theater offers some visually exciting shots of Africa for the WHOLE FAMILY. But as entertainment it falls far short of the original.

The story itself is long drawn out and not particularly gripping. Considerable footage from "Mines" seems to have been edited into this one, and, though it is done expertly, it will cool the interest of those who saw the original. This is particularly true of the famed sequence in which thousands of animals, frightened by a brush fire, stampede across an open plain directly in the path of the story principals. But we must remember that the new generation that has grown up since the first picture should be enthralled by some of the scenes.

GEORGE MONTGOMERY, trying hard to fit into a role that is entirely alien to his background, retraces his late father's steps to the Biblical days of King Solomon. David Farrar, a jungle-wise hunter, is persuaded to join him on the safari. En route, guess what they find? Yep, Taina Elg among warring natives.

After the standard hazards of crocodiles, snakes, and other dangerous fauna; 85 minutes brings down the final curtain with a happy ending in the entrancing land of the Watusi.

"ANNA LUCASTA" and the story of Killer Mears in the "LAST MILE" is the bill at the Palace Theater. Eartha Kitt is starred as Anna with Sammy Davis Jr. adding spark to the proceedings. This offering is for ADULTS ONLY but only for those who aren't looking for a few laughs. The story is heavy and gives a depressing account of family trouble and its results from being driven from the home. Personally, I'm getting a little sick of these "grief" pictures. And the co-feature doesn't make one smile either.

"LAST MILE" is a brutal tale of slayers set in the death-row cellblock of a large prison with nine men awaiting execution. Mickey Rooney is the top name in this movie OBJECTIONABLE FOR ALL. His sadistic expression when he strangles the mean callous guard, Donald Barry, sends chills through your body. We've have enough of these characters. Why glorify them in film? UGH!

The Paramount Theater keeps that part of Clinton Avenue OBJECTIONABLE IN PART FOR ALL with "HORRORS OF THE BLACK MUSEUM." This film in its own sweet nauseating form aims at that patron who is thirsty for gore. Take a tip from this reviewer. If you want a nice night's sleep with no nightmares, turn on TV and see the Disney show.

ELMIRA — You have good FAMILY entertainment at the Elmira Theater starting today (May 22) with the Bob Hope comedy, "ALIAS JESSE JAMES."

HORNELL—The action package at the Majestic Theater over the weekend is "WARLOCK" for ADULTS AND ADOLESCENTS.
