"Round and round it goes"
This "Good Luck Prayer" is twice repeated, as though it were a very important reason for sending the letter on its fifth trip...

"THIS PRAYER has been sent to you for good luck... (around the world business)..."

Reading the letter to the end, we realize that this is no panacea for our troubles. It's ridiculous. Sending it out? Reason and faith, take over...

Trust the Lord with all your heart.
Surely, trust in Him means the spinning of superstition: Thou shalt not have strange gods before Me. This "false god" appears in the form of a letter.

Break the chain and your "good luck" will come, not "on the fourth day," but only "if he will direct thy path."
