

Watching The Screen

Yup!

By RAY SMITH
As the screen doesn't offer many earth-shaking films this week with one hold-over and another previously reviewed in this column, might we report some interesting sidelights on one of the stars who draws us to the theater.

On April 9 of this year Gary Cooper, the actor who can say "Yup" faster than any other, was received into the faith, thus ending a search into Catholic faith which began some ten years ago. Through all this time his good wife Rocky and their daughter Maria have prayed that he might be shown the way.

DURING THE past months the popular screen hero had humbly and sincerely pondered whether he might be deemed worthy and just when he might be considered ready for the great step he realized he must take.

On April 9 Father Harold Ford of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills conditionally baptized and on the following Sunday gave the new convert his first Holy Communion. Born in Helena, Montana, May 7, 1901, Gary was educated at Dunstable, in the English Midlands, where he was baptized in the Church of England.

We congratulate Gary Cooper in his new life's calling writing for THE DIRECTOR of the world, Almighty God.

Walking down Clinton Avenue we notice that the "Eowys" has a 4 r has "THE MYS-TERIANS" a science fiction film for the WHOLE FAMILY.

This Japanese-made flicker, with the complete cast from the land of the rising sun, tells us that the Mysterians are superior beings from the planet Mysteroid. Earth people say "No sorry please. Go home." "No go home!" Bang! Bang!

That's about it in a nut shell, Buck Rogers fans. It's a little corny but what can you expect? Bang!

AS EVERYBODY saves these articles each week, (well, I do, at least) it won't be necessary to repeat that "MAN IN THE MOUNTAIN" at the Palace Theater. "EOWYS" and "ADOLESCENTS" has Alan Ladd curing his neurotic and alcoholic wife.

Foot Anna gets involved in a murder (when isn't he?) and the fishes around trying to figure out who did it. The surprise ending brings this action tale to the usual ending when justice triumphs.

"SAY ONE FOR ME" is still bringing them in at the Paramount Theater with Bing Crosby as the singing Broadway pastor. So, if you haven't seen Father Conroy yet, you have another week to do so.

EMILIA—ATTENTION KIDS FROM 8 to 10, "SLEEPING BEAUTY" is at the Elmiria Theater for the WHOLE FAMILY. For a thoroughly delightful trip to fantasy land, see this one.

ADULTS ONLY can see the comedy "ASK ANY GIRL" at the Colonial Theater over the weekend.

HORNELL—PERFECT! The Majestic Theater really offers wholesome FAMILY entertainment on Sunday with two A-1 movies "RIDE LONESOME" and "HEY BOY, HEY GIRL." Let's show we appreciate such good films not only by a word or letter of thanks to the Manager, James Morris, but by GOING to see them.

Requiem Said Weeps At Greeting For Ethel Barrymore Danny Thomas Ends Tour

Barrymore
Los Angeles.—Ethel Barrymore, known for more than half a century as one of this country's greatest actresses, died June 18 at her Beverly Hills home of a heart ailment—She was 79.

Requiem Mass was offered for the distinguished stage and screen star in Good Shepherd church here. The last rites of the Church were administered to Miss Barrymore at her home by Father William J. Kenney, C.S.P., of St. Paul the Apostle church.

THE FAMED actress was born August 15, 1879. Her father, Maurice Barrymore, and mother, George Drew, were both well known stage personalities of the time. Her brothers John and Lionel, who died in 1942 and 1954 respectively, had equal distinguished theatrical careers.

Miss Barrymore was educated at the Academy of Notre Dame on Rittenhouse Square in Philadelphia.

In 1944 she won the Academy Award as best-screen actress of the year for her performance in "None But the Lonely Heart." Earlier, in 1932, she and her two brothers had starred together in the film "Rasputin and the Empress"—the only time that the three famous Barrymores appeared in the same production.

MISS BARRYMORE was married on March 14, 1909, to Russell G. Coll. There were three children—Samuel, John Drew and Ethel, all of whom survive her. The marriage ended in a civil divorce in 1923.

Prior to her death Miss Barrymore had been relieved for some time. Her last film appearance was in 1954, while she was last seen on television in 1957.

DANNY THOMAS
Toledo, Ohio.—(NC)—The nationwide tour of a man raising funds to build a hospital for underprivileged children who suffer from dreaded leukemia ended here in his hometown.

Danny Thomas, tired from three weeks of engagements in 16 cities across the U.S., went at the greeting he got.

Some 40,000 Toledoans lined the curbs to applaud the TV and night club comedian at a welcoming downtown parade.

THE PERFORMER, whose dramatic story of a pledge to St. Jude has caught the attention of millions, later said that the Memphis, Tenn., hospital named for the patron of desperate cases will be opened by September, 1960.

Ground was broken in November, 1958, for the institution which Thomas pledged as a shrine to St. Jude 18 years previously.

In 1940, Thomas said, he was down on his luck. A friend in Detroit, who insisted that his wife had been cured of cancer through St. Jude's intercession, gave him a prayer leaflet, honoring the saint who was one of the 12 apostles and is sometimes called "Jude Thaddaeus"—the designation given him by St. Mark—to keep him from being confused with Judas the traitor.

Thomas said he visited a church, recited the prayers and ten days later landed a job that changed his life. He promised to build a chapel in honor of St. Jude.

Two years later he read of a southern child who died because of lack of medical care and this tragedy led him to the idea of a hospital. Memphis was suggested as the site by the late Cardinal Samuel Strick of Chicago whose advice Thomas sought. The Cardinal had confirmed him when the prelate was Bishop of Toledo.

LATER, DOCTORS in Chicago suggested that the institution be devoted to research into leukemia, that usually fatal disease characterized by a large excess of white corpuscles in the blood, and sometimes called cancer of the blood.

For several years now, Thomas has played a series of engagements to acquire funds for the hospital. He has been given many gifts he said, such as a $250,000 check from a union of hotel, restaurant and tavern workers.

In addition, he has organized 228 chapters of a group known as Aid to Leukemia Stricken American Children (ALSAC). Its members, chiefly descendants of Arabic-speaking peoples like himself, have promised to raise one million dollars annually to meet the hospital's cost of operation.

Entertainment Magazine To Expand Circulation
Carmel, N. Y.—(NC)—A three-year-old Catholic magazine devoted to promoting wholesome entertainment in cooperation with Church agencies has announced it will expand circulation to include parish pamphlets, racks and schools.

THE MOVE by Catholic Review of Entertainment was announced at its headquarters here by Stephan L. Sanguers, the monthly publication's editor and publisher.

The slick-paper, pocket-size magazine begun in November, 1956, cooperates with the National Legion of Decency and the National Association for Better Radio and Television, plus other groups, in the hope of encouraging Catholics to support good entertainment.

Readings Set On TV Program
"Christ, the Communicator," the final chapter in "Look Up and Live's" current series on "The Sermon on the Mount," will be presented on Sunday, June 28, 10:30-11 a.m., on the CBS Television Network.

The program will show through selected readings from famous world literature, how Christ was able to communicate His message to the world, and how His life was the communication of God to man. Appearing on the program will be Donald Moffatt, Margaret Line, Robert Brown, Alan Bergman and Liz McCall. Monsignor John J. Dougherty will narrate.

"Christ, the Communicator" is being presented on "Look Up and Live" in cooperation with the National Council of Catholic Men. Gene Zimmermann wrote the script. Jack Kune is the producer. The director is Tim Kelley.

Congress Father
Washington—(Rus)—Rep. Louis C. Rabaut (D-Mich.) was named "Congressional Father of the Year" in Washington, D.C. Four of his nine children are members of religious orders of the Roman Catholic Church. One son is a Jesuit priest and three daughters are nuns of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. The 72-year-old veteran congressman has two other sons and three other daughters, 13 grandchildren and 13 granddaughters.

MOZART: Serenade No. 10 (for wind instruments) in B-flat, K 361. Frederick Fennell, Eastman Wind Ensemble, Mercury MG 50178.

The piano sound is recorded with unusual clarity in the Curzon-Kappert-Haus recording of Beethoven's great score, and the performance—particularly in the first two movements—is all that one could desire. There are many who prefer Gounod's version for organ records, but above a certain level of quality such choices are a matter of taste. If we are to split hairs, it is probably fair to say that Fennell has a slight edge in the performance of the finale and that Curzon has a slight edge in the tone of his recording. Either version is excellent. In Brief: An excellent version of a magnificent opus.
