

GOD LOVE YOU!

By MOST REV. FULTON J. SHEEN

God does not answer all prayers the way we want them answered. Divine Wisdom refuses to rubber stamp the egotisms of our poor human mind.

But there are many other prayers that would be answered did we do something else besides pray. Our Lord once told His Apostles that the reason certain devils were not cast out was because fasting was wanting.

Sacrifices added to prayers would make novenas much more fruitful. Then too the object of sacrifice is important. Since our Lord loves nothing better than the spread of His Kingdom on earth, it follows that the sacrifices for the propagation of the faith will most quickly bring a Divine response as this letter indicates:

"A few weeks ago I was inspired by one of your writings to donate a sum of money to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. I have been out of work for the past two months. It has been my habit during these two months to make a long daily visit before the Blessed Sacrament, during which time I offered Him reparation for the many injuries and insults He received (my own included). Among other things, I said the Litany of Repentance and prayed for the conversion of sinners (and one in particular). Yesterday, while visiting the church I was inspired to make the donation to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith NOW. Even the amount of money ($25) was Divine inspiration — and, of course, it meant cutting into my funds, which I want to offer to God in reparation for my sins and in supplication for the conversion of sinners.

To my amazement, the phone rang at 9 o'clock this morning, and it was an influential friend to acquaint me with a position now open along the lines I am familiar with, since I had already passed the required entrance examination. God is good! He always takes care of His friends, although it sometimes takes awhile."

Begin your novena of sacrifices now, adding to them devotion to the Blessed Sacrament and a daily sacrifice for the Holy Father's Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

GOD LOVE YOU TO W.K.C. for $100 "To be applied wherever Our Holy Father feels it will do the most good. Hope it will do some good to someone somewhere" . . . to R.S.T. for $25 "It was a suggestion of our youngest son that instead of a color telephone extension, we send the money to the Missions" . . . to C.C.N. "I do not have much, but that what I have I want to share with those who have still less" . . . to W.D. for $10 "I thank God for His loving care of me in this way, that he in turn might be loved and known."

Most modern American homes have T.V. sets. The presence of the picture of Our Lady of Television in your home will serve as a confirmation of the truth that you have housed Our Lady and her son in your home as well as in your heart. Send your request and a $3 donation to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, and we will send you the lovely statue of OUR LADY OF TELEVISION.

Cut out this column, pin your sacrifice to it and mail it to Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 356 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, N.Y. or your Diocesan Director Rev. George S. Wood, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester 4, New York.

The Weekly Note from Mr. Pepsi

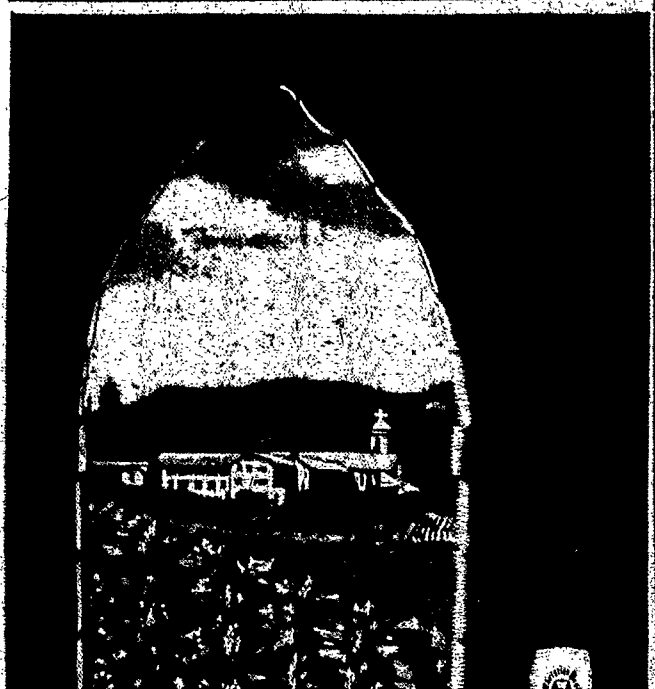

Rochester Commerce Magazine recently published some "Office Rules" drawn up by an employer in 1870. Among them was Office hours: 7 A.M. to 5 P.M. every day except Sunday. On Sunday all employees were required to attend church and contribute liberally!

Advancement was fast, too. The employee who has performed his labors faithfully for five years, and who has been faithful and attentive to his religious duties, will be given an increase of five cents per day, provided a just return in profit from the business permits it.

Times certainly have changed, haven't they? With the change has come more leisure hours, more time for friendship and sociability, and more time to enjoy the good things of life.

When company comes, or just for the family — delicious Meat 'n Tater Pie

At Home With Trudy McNeil

'Meat 'N Tater Pie'

Much has been said and written about planning meals to suit the family's tastes and the budget, but to me there's another important factor that should be considered. Daily meals must appeal to Mom who has to do all the cooking. Repetition of the same recipes week after week can be dull and unexciting.

While to some homemakers, preparing a meal is a creative, rewarding task, to some it's just an uninspiring, necessary part of homemaking.

THE DIFFERENCE in these two approaches to the art of cooking depends to a great extent on the variety of foods you prepare, your willingness to be adventurous with new dishes and your ability to put new variations on an old recipe theme.

Take good old meat and potatoes — what better dinner could there be except, of course if you put them together. And that's just what we have here for you "Meat 'N Tater Pie" — a delicious ground beef mixture baked in a pie plate with a golden brown topping of fluffy mashed potatoes. You'll love "Meat 'N Tater Pie" for company or family meals. It's the kind of dinner you can prepare almost entirely in advance, ready for last minute baking.

The main dish pie, looks so elegant when it comes to the table. Yet it's down to earth, practically makes it something you'll serve again. Accent is used to bring out the fullest flavor of the beef layer. The Accent has no flavor of its own, but it searches out the true beef flavor of the meat and brings it to the fore.

USE ENOUGH Accent so you can taste the difference. One teaspoon per pound of beef. The evaporated milk in the beef mixture adds extra juiciness and enriches the meat with valuable milk nutrients. The cheese, which goes between the meat and potatoes, complements the flavor of both. Instant mashed potato granules make the fluffy potato topping which is swirled over the meat pie in the last few minutes of baking, the cheese melts and the potato peaks become delicately browned.

- MEAT 'N-TATER PIE
- 1 1/2 c. Accent
 - 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
 - 1/2 c. evaporated milk
 - 1/2 c. soft bread crumbs
 - 1 egg
 - 1/2 t. salt
 - 1/2 t. dry mustard
 - 1/2 t. pepper
 - 1/2 t. thyme
 - 1/2 c. minced onion
 - 4 ounces process American cheese
 - 1 envelope instant mashed potato

Sprinkle Accent over beef in mixing bowl. Add remaining ingredients except cheese and instant potatoes. Mix with fork until blended. Turn into a 9 inch pie plate. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees 40 minutes. Remove from oven. In a small bowl, combine 1/2 c. water with 1/2 c. tomato puree. To make the equivalent of tomato juice combine 1 can tomato paste, 3 cans water and 1/2 t. each salt and sugar.

READERS ASK: Question: I have trouble making meningitis. How can I make a smooth, non-weeping one? Answer: Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry, gradually add sugar (using 2 T. for each egg white used) continue beating until sugar is dissolved and mixture holds stiff peaks. Most failures come from under-beating rather than over-beating.

The addition of a little cream of tartar helps to make the egg whites more stable (use about 1/8 t. for 3 to 4 egg whites). When sugar is dissolved mixture will be satiny smooth and glossy appearing. Be sure to beat the egg whites until they form long, slender peaks that don't curl over when the beater is slowly withdrawn from the whites.

Question: What is the difference between tomato sauce, tomato puree and tomato paste?

Answer: Tomato puree, sold in 1 pound cans, is tomato pulp. Whole tomatoes are sieved and concentrated to a consistency between that of tomato juice and tomato paste.

TOMATO PUREE is 1 to 3 times as concentrated as canned tomatoes, TOMATO SAUCE, in 8 and 15 ounce cans, has the same smooth consistency and appearance as tomato puree, but is seasoned with additional vegetables and spices. TOMATO PASTE is the strained, concentrated pulp of tomatoes. Sold in 6 ounce cans, this semi-solid paste contains 4 to 5 times the solid content of canned tomatoes.

You can use tomato paste to substitute for other tomato products in cooking. Combine 1/2 c. of tomato paste with 1/2 c. water to equal 1 c. tomato puree. To make the equivalent of tomato juice combine 1 can tomato paste, 3 cans water and 1/2 t. each salt and sugar.

Question: How can I seal my jelly jars with paraffin to prevent weeping?

Answer: Too thick a layer of paraffin may cause weeping. To remedy remove thick layer of paraffin, wipe off jar, re-seal with paraffin carefully following these directions. Heat the paraffin over low heat until just melted. Do not heat to the smoking point. After glasses have been filled with hot jam or jelly, wipe off edge of jar with a clean cloth, to insure a clean, tight seal. Pour paraffin on jam to a depth of 1/4 inch. Tip glass to coat inside of edge. The next day, add another thin layer 1/4 inch of paraffin. Tip glass again to make a tight seal with the edge of the glass. If the paraffin shrinks away from the edge of the jar, it may have been overheated when it was melted. Remove shrunken paraffin, and re-seal carefully.

Cast Chosen For Famed Passion Play

Oberammergau — (RNS) — Anton Preisinger, the 47-year-old Bavarian innkeeper who played the role of Christ in the Oberammergau Passion Play 10 years ago, was chosen to repeat his portrayal in the 1960 production of the famed drama.

Informed of his election, he pledged to portray the life and death of Christ "with all my Catholic belief."

OTHERS ELECTED by 24 leading villagers for prominent roles in the play included Irrgard Denge, 21-year-old blonde secretary, as the Virgin Mary, and her chief rival for the role, Anneliese Myr, who was picked for Mary Magdalene.

Sculptor Johann Maier, 63, was named to play Peter, while Hans Schwalbhofer, 39, a wood-carving instructor, and Benedict Staudl, a former chef and now proprietor of a new hotel, were chosen for the second time as Judas Iscariot and Caiaphas, respectively.

Expected to draw 750,000 spectators for its 85 performances scheduled May-September, 1960, the eight-hour spectacle has been faithfully performed by villagers every 10 years since 1634, with only a few interruptions. During the Black Plague in 1633, residents in their distress vowed to revive Christ's passion every decade if the devastation would cease.

Manuscripts Discovered

Dublin — (RNS) — Three manuscripts on medieval Canon Law by a 12th century monk, known as Father Gratian, have been found in Dublin by the Rev. Dr. Alphonse Stickler, rector of Salesian University in Rome.

The priest is a prominent member of the Institute for Research and Studies in Medieval Canon Law at Washington, D.C. For several years he has combed universities in Great Britain and Europe searching for manuscripts, particularly those of Father Gratian.

Of the three Gratian manuscripts, he said, one was a document which he did not know existed. Father Stickler found two of the manuscripts at Trinity College and the third in a private collection.

Peace Prayer Opens Congress

Washington — (NC) — The familiar prayer of St. Francis of Assisi ("Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace," etc.) was recited by Father James Lyons of St. Gertrude's church, Chicago, when he served as guest chaplain and opened a session (Sept. 8) of the House of Representatives with prayer.

Mercy Mass Time Changed

Bishop Kearney will celebrate Mass at the Mercy Motherhouse chapel Thursday, Sept. 24, at 11 a.m. instead of the previously announced time.

The Thursday Mass will mark the patronal feast of the more than 400 Mercy nuns of the Rochester Diocese.
