New England Bishop Brady Dies Suddenly

Manchester — (NC) — Pontifical Requiem Mass was offered here for Bishop Matthew F. Brady of Manchester, 68, prominent in national catechetical and educational work and New Hampshire's Bishop since January, 1948.

Bishop Brady was a member of the 1918 ordination class of St. Bernard's Seminary, Rochester.

He was scheduled to give one of the principal talks at the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Convention to be held in Rochester in October.

Cardinal Cushing of Boston, was celebrant at the funeral Mass.

The prelate died (Sept. 20) in Burlington, Vt., where he was attending the 13th New England Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. He collapsed while walking down a staircase in the Hotel Vermont and was dead when a doctor arrived minutes later. The apparent cause was a heart attack.

The prelate was known nationally in CDD work, having become a member of the episcopal committee for the CDD in 1945. He became chairman of the U.S. Bishops' committee for the confraternity in November, 1957, and held the post at the time of his death.

Living With Alligator

Buffalo — (NC) — "The free world trying to coexist with communism is like a human being trying to live in the same stream with an alligator," an official Polish prelate said.

Archbishop Joseph F. Gawlina, spiritual leader of the Polish people in exile and military vicar to the Free Polish Armed Forces, came here on one of his periodical visits to see his flock.

"Communism and freedom just can't exist together," he said. "The very structure of the communist system is aimed at suppressing freedom, so how can these opposing forces live together?"

Barred from returning to his homeland by the Polish Reds, Archbishop Gawlina has his headquarters in Rome, where he continues his fight against communism. He said there is no immediate hope for total freedom in his native land.

"Poland has suffered terribly over the past 20 years first under the persecution of Hitler and then at the hands of Soviet Russia," he said.

"Our will to fight oppression has not flagged, but the Polish people saw what happened in Hungary when those people revolted against their communist oppressors. It would be suicidal to try the same thing in Poland, since there is no guarantee of help from the free world.

"We lost six million fighting oppression in the past 20 years. We can't afford to lose any more," Archbishop Gawlina said.

The Cardinal in a tremendous spiritual leader who owes his freedom from prison due to the will of the people," said Archbishop Gawlina. "But, because of the communist regime, he has to be careful in everything he does."

"Cardinal Wyszynski knows

the sociological problem in Poland as well if not better than any other person. In addition to being a professor of sociology in his earlier years, he was also military chaplain during the war.

During his five-day visit to Buffalo, Archbishop Gawlina was the guest of the Polish clergy in the diocese. He participated in a number of ceremonies honoring Our Lady of Czestochowa at the various Polish parishes in Buffalo and surrounding town.

Let's Invite Pope

New York — (NC) — A New York daily newspaper has suggested that the Pope visit this country to counterbalance the effect of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's U.S. visit.

The New York Journal-American said it would be "a wonderful thing" if Pope John XXIII came to the U.S. for the November 20 dedication of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D.C.

An editorial in the newspaper stated: "After the visit of Russia's Khrushchev, the symbol and exponent of atheism, the appearance of an outstanding man of God and the head of the largest Christian Church should be beneficial for all of us."

The suggestion that Pope John come to this country for the dedication of the National Shrine was first made by the Knights of Columbus during their convention held in St. Louis in August.

PRAYER AND STUDY are principal ingredients of seminary life. Students at St. Bernard's (above) kneel in chapel to pray for benefactors who make their training possible. Side altars line chapel walls for priest professors to say Mass.

Lawyers Ask Nuclear Ban

Luxemburg — (NC) — The Third International Congress of Catholic Lawyers has appealed for a world ban on the use of nuclear weapons.

The lawyers at their meeting here passed a resolution asking that such a ban be part of a general, controlled program of disarmament.

They said such an agreement must involve effective guarantees, because nuclear weapons, by their enormous, uncontrollable destructive power, are a mortal danger to mankind.

School Honors Missionary

Auckland — (NC) — A million-dollar boy's secondary school at New Plymouth, in the farming province of Taranaki, has been dedicated in honor of a missionary killed by Japanese in the Philippines during World War II.

The school was built in honor of Father Francis V. Douglas, S.S.C., of New Zealand who was slain by Japanese troops when he refused to reveal to them what Filipino guerrillas had told him in confession.

New School In Bath — Artist's sketch shows proposed new St. Mary's school to be built in Bath, N.Y. Fund campaign to raise $90,000 gets underway tomorrow evening. General parish appeal takes place Sunday, Oct. 4. Father John P. O'Malley said Bishop Casey will talk to workers Saturday, Oct. 3.

Moscow Raps Saints Days

Moscow — (RNS) — Moscow Radio blasted church feasts and saints' days and called for their abolition, charging they are harmful to Soviet morals and economy, especially causing industrial and agricultural slow-downs.

"In most cases," said the broadcast, "lovers of the celebrations and revelry still associated with saints' feast days have preserved only an addiction to the bottle, drunkenness and brawling.

It warned that the Soviet state "cannot reconcile itself to such a situation in which great harm is done to the country's economy and people's morals."
