Steuben Deanery Women Hear Hospital Chaplain

Hornell—Life can be lived simply and magnificently, as the Blessed Virgin Mary lived it, by glorifying God in all things, the Rev. William H. Hickey told more than 40 women at a First Saturday Communion breakfast.

Father Hickey, chaplain of St. James Mercy Hospital, was principal speaker at the breakfast sponsored by the Steuben Deanery, Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, Saturday in The New Sherwood Hotel.

FATHER HICKEY, who is spiritual director of the Deanery, said that life can become complicated if a person attempts to separate the secular from the sacred, giving a percentage of it to God and keeping another part for himself.

The girls in the office taking dictation of the school teacher drilling her class, the nurse shaking down the thermometer, the patient lying upon the hospital bed, the housewife shopping for the evening meal, all give 100 per cent of their lives to God by imitating Mary, Father Hickey said.

MRS. RAYMOND MORETTI, vice president of the Deanery, presided at the breakfast. She women of the area to attend an extended invitation to the meeting of St. Ann's Mothers' Club Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Pine Room of the school.

Mrs. Theodore Strohman of Rochester, diocesan chairman of the Organization and Development Committee of the DCCW, will be guest speaker.

Mrs. E. A. Muechik and Mrs. Kingdon Harrington were in charge of arrangements.

Prior General Rome—(RNS)—Father Luciano Rubio, O.S.A., of Saginaw was elected Prior General of the Augustinian Order at a meeting of the General Chapter here.

Corning—A shrine to the Virgin Mary designed and built by August Quattrini of 125 E. Corning Rd., was blessed Sunday by the Rev. William Tobin, pastor of St. Patrick's Church.

THE FIGURES of the Virgin, in plaster, stands in a shrine of stone laid by Quattrini. The shrine is surrounded by a stone paved area. Crosses are built in the stone with red brick, and there is a glass cross at the top. Pink roses from Rome, Italy, light at night.

About 150 persons attended the dedication of the shrine on Sunday.
