Rome Cardinal At Canada Jubilee

Quebec City — (RNS) — A Quebec City of Alfredo Cardinal Holy Office, who was named, bishop Maurice Roy of Quebec City, the Canadian hierarchy by Pope John XXIII as Papal Coadjutor, Pro-Secretary of the Sacred Congregation of the Legate. With the cardinal is Archbishop Montmorency Laval came to the country on June 20, 1953 as Vicar Apostolic of New France, comprising Canada, Newfoundland, the Mississippi Valley and Louisiana.

Food Enough For World No Peace Seen In Surrender

Rome — (RNS) — The 1953 increase in the world's agricultural production was more than twice as great as the increase in population, the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization reported.

Worldwide production of food and other agricultural products rose four per cent during the year, while world population increases an average 1.5 per cent yearly.

Prospects for next year's harvest are better than this year, although the rate of expansion will probably be somewhat smaller, FAO stated.

Communist China was not included in the FAO's report on agricultural growth, entitled "The State of Food and Agriculture, 1950". The publication took note of communist claims that agriculture in mainland China had expanded phenomenally during 1953, but it commented:

"While it is too early for a final assessment, it seems likely that the new collective organization in China may have greatly reduced the quantity of production escaping statistical enumeration."

THE BIGGEST gains in the FAO's statistical report were reported by the communist governments of eastern Europe and the Soviet Union. They stood at plus per cent over the previous year's production and were more than double the world average.

All statistics for 1953-54 given in the FAO's 107-page report may be subject to revision, the FAO said.

The FAO blamed last year's worldwide business recession for the failure of agricultural production to rise during the year 1952-53. The recession brought about a leveling or drop in demand for agricultural products used in industry, such as fibers, natural rubber and vegetable oils. Production of foodstuffs rose in 1952-53 despite the recession.

According to FAO figures, world agricultural production has risen about 45 per cent above the pre-war average. The FAO index of agricultural production (based on an average of the year 1952-53 and the year 1954-55) now stands at 112. The pre-war index was 77.

During the same period in which agricultural production rose 45 per cent, the world's population rose about 20 per cent (according to United Nations estimates). Agricultural production has moved ahead twice as fast as population during the past 20 years.

The amount of food (that is, agricultural products excluding tea, coffee, tobacco, inedible oils, fibers and rubber) per person has risen more than 10 per cent over the pre-war average, according to FAO. The FAO index of food produced per person before World War II stands at 95; the preliminary index for 1952-53 stands at 103. These indices are based on an average of the year 1952-53 and the year 1954-55.

The FAO pointed out, however, that per-person production of food "remains much lower in the economically less developed regions than in the more industrialized parts of the world." Much of the increase in food production was not consumed, but rather stored away. Reserve stocks of the world's agricultural produce, which had appeared fairly stable for the past few years, rose about 10 per cent last year.

Los Angeles — (RNS) — No true peace can be achieved by delivering more people into Soviet captivity, the president of the Catholic Association for International Peace has warned.

Harry W. Flannery, CAIP head who is a former Los Angeles news commentator, also affirmed that peace can not be built by conceding to Russia the permanent captivity of satellite nations.

"STAND FIRM" was Mr. Flannery's recommendation in regard to foreign policy and the Berlin question in particular.

"I don't know where we are going to make concessions," he said. "I see no point in it. We have made them since World War II without results."

Mr. Flannery said he sees no chance of a solution in Berlin "unless the Russians decide to relent." He added that the Berlin issue is a phony crisis created by the Russians.

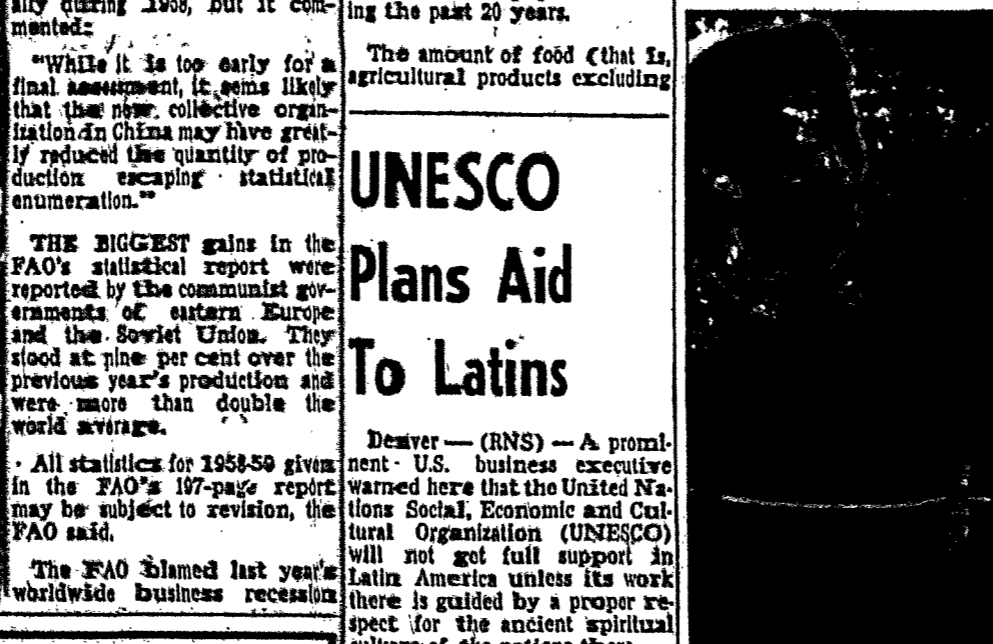

"They bring it up, relent, and then they're heroes," he commented. "I can't see how we can get our troops out of Berlin. This would be the worst thing we could do."

Mr. Flannery said it would be unjust to abandon West Berlin to the Soviets. He added that all the West Germans, people of Berlin best know the nature of communism.

Mr. Flannery contended that "we have failed in our past responsibilities with regard to the captive nations."

He said the West has failed to see to the enforcement of the provisions — such as free elections in these nations — signed with the Soviets during World War II.

Mr. Flannery said the U.S. labor movement has no intention of taking part in trade and cultural exchanges with the Soviets by sending delegations to the Soviet Union or inviting Russian labor representatives to "to do so, he said, would this country "give recognition and dignity" to Russian unions. They aren't free trade unions, the AFL-CIO official explained. "We'd be talking only to representatives of the Russian state."

UNESCO Plans Aid To Latins

Denver — (RNS) — A prominent U.S. business executive warned here that the United Nations Social, Economic and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) will not get full support in Latin America unless its work there is guided by a proper respect for the ancient spiritual culture of the nations there.

Addressing the Seventh Conference of the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO, J. Peter Grace, president of W. R. Grace and Company, said the technical aids, the studies, the centers and the teaching methods which UNESCO is bringing to Latin America today are, of course, most welcome to the professionals in these fields.

However, he stressed, "UNESCO will not gain the deep-seated support and appreciation of Latin America unless its work finds its way into the hearts of the Latin Americans, for these are people of much heart. The ancient universities of Latin America, older than any in our country, are based on religious foundations."

"THE CULTURE and the Intellectual life of her people, to a great extent, still draw upon her ancient spiritual and religious heritage."

Mr. Grace said he saw no reason why UNESCO should not be guided by these "facts of Latin American life," since it is "dedicated by its charter to the diffusion of culture, to education for peace and to the moral solidarity of mankind."
