

Women Schedule Mission Movie

Seneca Falls — St. Patrick's church and altar society will hold their 20th annual banquet Oct. 26 at 8:30 p.m. at the Gould Hotel. Miss Charlene Barbi is the chairman of the banquet and Mrs. Rosalie Morganti is the co-chairman. Invitations will be given by St. John P. O'Brien, pastor of St. Patrick's church and chairman of the altar society.

THE GUESTS of the evening will be two Sisters from the Missionary Sisters of Mary, who are professionally trained to help the work of the church in the field of Africa. This mission is a color introduction by shop Fulton J. Sheen.

This remarkable film is filled with inspiration and drama. It shows how the Sisters, who are trained to be doctors, nurses, teachers and secretaries are helping people in these lands and thereby opening the way for grace of salvation. If not contacted, members of the mission may call Mrs. Morganti or Mrs. Morganti before Oct. 21.

have a potential trouble spot, very likely a wasted life, and very often a criminal. Taking without giving anything in return, excessive selfishness marks every criminal who ever lived.

A SHORT TIME ago a doctor said to me that he believed that many prisoners were there because there was something wrong with their brains, and some day an operation would be performed to cure criminals. I do not believe it. Do you think our Lord would have chosen Judas to be an Apostle if Judas needed some sort of brain surgery?

If an animal begins to prey upon human life or property, you kill it or cage it. If a young man begins to prey upon the church, the community, or the state, he must be caged also. If you notice any signs of delinquency in your child, curb it at once. "Cage" your child if you have to, or we in the Correction Department will have to do it for you.

One of the most confusing aspects of the entire situation is the problem of the child who is only a child, but who is being used by the line of demarcation is the age of 16. Most Americans seem to feel that any punishment before a boy is 16 years old is a most drastic step. I personally believe that the line separating punishment and reprimand is set too rigidly at the age of 16.

After all, this age simply marks the time in a person's life when he can begin to assume full responsibility for his conduct. I would like to see the line drawn more on the basis of moral fault.

FOR EXAMPLE, if a lad witnessed a crime because the boys committing the crime talked him into coming along, I would merely rebuke him — but only the first time. If a similar instance recurred, even the bystander should be punished, because he is morally guilty; he knew what to expect.

Again if a lad performs an action which results only in property damage, I would excuse him provided he had no criminal intent. But again only the first time. A repeated offense would mean criminal intent because he knew what would happen. The repeated ex-cusing of potential adult criminals only lends boldness to their future conduct.

Now there is a form of punishment most effective in Auburn Prison, Elmira Reformatory and other places which believe could save not only boys from becoming criminals but which I believe could save the tax payers of our state. Parents could use it in a limited way. Most of us only wish to teach a lesson lest the fault be repeated. None of us want to use a whip, or physically beat anyone.

I have witnessed the effect of segregation. A badly criminal is put into isolation for a month or so. This means no room with no view, no radio, no visitors except doctor, lawyer or clergyman. I read about judge inflicting this punishment upon a youthful offender for a few weeks. It was the most intelligent action I have read of weeks upon this problem.

I firmly believe that if the boy offender be put into isolation for a time, in proportion to the crime, then he would learn the fear of the law while every good citizen should have personally felt that sending him into the company of other lads as bad as himself, and moreover giving them means of entertainment is a mistake. In the punishment I outline I would give but one look, prayer-book.

We Americans believe in the dignity of the individual; we spend billions of dollars upon prisons and their maintenance; we make good citizens should have personally felt that sending him into the company of other lads as bad as himself, and moreover giving them means of entertainment is a mistake. In the punishment I outline I would give but one look, prayer-book.

A truly religious man of necessity keeps the law, because his religion teaches him respect and fear for the law. If, in this day of broken homes, a child cannot be taught religious sanction for the law of the land, then the State itself, for its own preservation, must teach a fear of the law to its youngest citizens. I believe that if at all possible the job should be done by anybody but the State, but the job must be done.

Loyola Council Sets Card Party

The Loyola Council will hold its annual Card Party on Friday evening, Oct. 16, at 8 p.m. at McQuaid Jesuit High School. Mrs. James Malley, president, has appointed Mrs. Fred C. Ritz, general chairman.

Mrs. Ritz has chosen the following members to assist her in the various committees: Mesdames Paul Nocheleski, George Esterheld, Alfred Caruana, John Posladlo, Joseph Contoy, Joseph Hoffman, and the Misses Jean Casey and Rita Esterheld. Proceeds from this party will be used for the foreign mission.

St. Carmel High Bows To Clyde

Auburn — Clyde Central School gridders downed St. Carmel High School 28-9 Saturday. Nelson Kier starred for the Blue Devils, as he accounted for all 13 points scored in the first half. John Marchetti and Paul Sharp also scored for the highly rated gridders from Clyde.

Carmel suffered severely from injuries took over late in the second half. Led by reserve halfback Joe Schmitt and star halfback Mike Lesch, the Carmelites hit paydirt early in the final period.

In the closing minutes of the game the elusive Lesch hauled in a Bob Hearn pass and scored 49 yards for his second six-point of the game. The Cardinals played covered 63 yards.

Coch Don Brocci's Carmelites had previously tied Bishop McQuaid of Rochester, defeated Penn Yan, and lost to the powerful Mynderse Academy of Seneca Falls.

The young Bachelors in their rookie year in the Wayne-Putnam League, meet Geneva next Saturday.

Mothers' Club
Readies Dance

Auburn — The Mothers' Club of Holy Family Church will hold a dance in the school auditorium on Oct. 24 from 8 until 1 a.m. Music will be furnished by "We Three" and refreshments featuring hot pizza and ham sandwiches will be served.

MRS. PAUL SARGENT and Mrs. Thomas Trivelp are co-chairmen.

Committees include: Mesdames Conle Dougherty, Jean Fitzgerald, Claire Walsh, Peg Delaney, Peg Ryan, Gladys Driscoll, Josephine Cusick, Betty Rogers, Theresa Foster, Ann Wylie, Catherine Cole, Rose Denninger, Dolores Burdett, Ann Grier, Ann McKeon, Charlotte Reardon, Celia Golosuck, Louise Cuskey, Mary Lou Caruana, Betty Pitchers, Maureen Cliffor, Barbara Danrow, Shirley Wrenn, Alice Drew, Carlene Gleason, Arlene Harman, Nancy Shaw, Ellen Orman and Esther Brooks.

At the time she entered the Order she was a member of St. Joseph's Church, Rochester. She was professed in Baltimore on August 2, 1888.

Her first appointment took her to the Most Holy Redemptorist Convent, East 4th Street, New York City, and her last appointment, prior to her retirement, was at St. Mary's Convent, Bryn Mawr, Md. Her various placements in the interim are not accurately recalled, except for her most cherished years spent in Puerto Rico.

IT IS BELIEVED that she was with the first group of nuns who left the country to work with the Redemptorist Fathers at their Mission in Puerto de Rivera. She remained there for some 20 years.

Born Antoinette Dittman, daughter of John and Anna Dittman, in Halstadt, Germany, on January 17, 1875, Sister came to this country in her early teens. Because of language handicap, an attempt at furthering her education had to be relinquished, and her work throughout her active years was confined to domestic duties.

Benefit Card Party
Planned For Carmelites

Annual card party for the benefit of Carmelite Monastery located on Jefferson Road, Pittsford, will be held at the Columbus Civic Center Auditorium on Thursday, Oct. 22, at 8 p.m. Miss Mary T. Nesser, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Orr Sixbey, co-chairman.

Bishop Kearney has written the following: "The annual card party to help support the Carmelites has my sincere support. I am glad to commend this effort on their behalf. This annual event does help considerably in maintaining their convent on Jefferson Road. There they pray night and day for all of us."

Rt. Rev. Msgr. John S. Randall will speak in behalf of the Carmelites.

A BAKED FOOD sale will be held in conjunction with the card party and anyone wishing to donate may do so by contacting members of the committee.

Mrs. Hiram Barnes, ticket chairman, will be assisted by the following committee: Mesdames Leo Fraver, William Gordinier, Joseph Kunz, Fred Rauschenberg, Joseph Schnorr, Frank Shaugnessy, Roy Spiggle, Sally Sullivan, Leo Zeller and the Misses Agnes Carey, Anna Marie Hery, Idell Nesser.

Third Order
Lists Retreat

Auburn — The Third Order of Our Lady of Mount Carmel will conduct a retreat on Sunday, Oct. 18 at the Whitefriars Priory, 108 South Street, Auburn. The day will open with Mass in the chapel at 9 a.m. Rev. Nicholas Canning, O. Carm., spiritual director of the Third Order, will conduct the exercises.

The Third Order has invited any man or woman interested in the Third Order to make the retreat. Reservations may be made by telephoning Miss Catherine R. Ryan at 2-3348.

Among her grand-nephews are Rev. William Geiger, C.S.S.R., of Philadelphia, Frater James Geiger, C.S.S.R., of Esopus, N.Y., and Robert Brader of St. Bernard's Seminary, Rochester.

SISTER'S HEALTH at the present time is quite satisfactory for her 84 years. She still enjoys being alone several hours a day in her "Alma Mater" — the kitchen. Her last visit to Rochester was in June 1954 to attend Father Geiger's first High Mass.

DeSales Rosary Group
Marks 94th Anniversary

Seneca — Annual banquet commemorating the 94th anniversary of the Rosary Society of St. Francis de Sales parish was held recently in Seneca Lake Country Club.

The Rev. E. Leo McManus, professor of English and public speaking at St. Bernard's Seminary, Rochester, and Diocesan moderator of the National Council of Catholic Women, was the speaker.

Welcoming address was given by the president of the Rosary Society, Mrs. Kenneth Fisher. Mrs. Howard Groden was toastmistress, and Mrs. George O'Dea, banquet chairman.

Mrs. Thomas A. Kane who has long been prominently identified in the life of the parish reminisced on the highlights of parish history. Mrs. Kane recently celebrated her 92nd birthday and has lived in the local parish for 70 years.

THE SOCIETY moderator, the Rev. Daniel Torney, welcomed the members and emphasized the close attachment of the women to the parish. He advised mothers to instill in their children a sense of loyalty and appreciation for the parish organizations.

Father Torney discussed plans to begin a spiritual program in the society. He listed forthcoming events for October. Mass will be celebrated every day at 8:15 p.m. and a reception for all members of the society was scheduled. During the last program, members became a part of the Confraternity of the Holy Rosary, a national and international organization. Attention was called to a meeting and program to be conducted by the Legion of Mary held recently in Seneca Lake at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 27 in the school hall.

FATHER McMANUS spoke on the meaning of the Rosary. He underscored the fact that in the Rosary with its 15 decades, "one will find the definition and answers for our role in Christian living."

"We should put aside material values and our easy way of life," he said, "and emphasize our spiritual belief by following the sorrowful mysteries of the Rosary."

Nurses To Hear
Dr. Paul Lalonde

The Rochester Chapter of the Catholic Nurses will hold the fall meeting on Wednesday, October 21st, at 8:15 p.m. at St. Mary's Hospital.

Dr. Paul La Londe will be guest speaker. Dr. La Londe, who works six months every year with the Medical Missionary Sisters of Mary in Tanganyika, will show slides describing the progress made in the missions during the past few years.

THE ROCHESTER chapter of Catholic Nurses has adopted the Medical Missionary Sisters as its mission project. All Catholic Nurses in the Rochester area are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served by Miss Mary Di Candia and Mrs. Helen Stevenson.
