Medical Nuns Heard In Auburn

Auburn — Sister Mary Aloysius and Sister Mary Zita of the Medical Missionaries of Mary were guests at the November meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, Auburn Division, Ancient Order of Hibernians. The Sisters whose American headquarters are in Winchester, Mass., showed films of their congregation's work in the African mission field.

Sister Aloysius spoke briefly on the various kinds of help which every missionary effort needs in order to be effective. She spoke of the necessity of spiritual and material support from those at home.

AT THE CONCLUSION of the talks a plan was announced by Miss Loretta A. Donahue, auxiliary president, for the formation of a group in Auburn to assist the sisters. This group of volunteers will promise to give one dollar a year to assist in the medical missionary work. The Rev. John B. Crowley, Rev. James C. Lane and Rev. Paul Brennan were guests of the organization. Father Lane is chaplain of the auxiliary.

A program, in which the participants were costumed in the fashions of the 1920's and sang songs associated with that era, was presented by the following: Mrs. Frederick Herrings, Miss Madeline MacEvoy, Miss Kathleen McEvoy, Miss Dorothy Clifford, Mrs. Marie Farrell, Mrs. Anne Greer, Miss Elizabeth Russell and Mrs. David Cadwell. Mrs. Anna Maywalt was accompanied. Miss Loretta A. Donahue opened the program with a musical number and was master of ceremonies.

The meeting was preceded by a turkey dinner served to members of the auxiliary and guests.

THE ROSARY and Altar Society met Nov. 2 at Columbus Hall. Mrs. Julian Humiston, president, of Ontario-Seneca-Yates Denery, D.C.W. spoke on the importance of the denery to Catholic women of this area. Miss Frances Merriman spoke on club organization.
