The Weekly Note from Mr. Pepsi

We are fast approaching the Christmas holiday season. This is the time of year when all our thoughts turn to our fellow man . . . when we begin thinking of appropriate gifts for others . . . when we feel within ourselves a real love for the man next door, and the fellow down the street.

But, in this modern society of ours, the feeling of brotherhood is often confined only to the month of December—and leaves us upon the dawn of the new year. Certainly, we do not need the sight of a Santa Claus or gaily wrapped gifts to bring out a feeling of fellowship for others. Certainly, the sight of a lonely child is just as heartbreaking in June as in December . . .

And because loneliness forever seeks the friendless — our holiday gifts come due each day — and not just on Christmas.
