Nelligan directed the building of a new rectory and in 1913, he undertook the construction of a new school. The school was completed in 1914 at a cost in excess of $85,000. Father Nelligan died September 24, 1931, and the Most Reverend John F. O'Hara, third Bishop of Rochester, appointed the Rev. Philip E. Golding pastor of Holy Apostles.

The Golden Jubilee of the founding of the parish was celebrated under Father Golding's direction May 4, 1958. The Most Reverend Edward J. Sheehan, Archbishop, Bishop of Rochester, presided at the solemn Mass and the Rev. William F. Ryan, professor of English Literature at St. Bernard's Seminary, preached the sermon.

Father Golding died on February 5, 1961 and the Rev. George V. Predmore was named by Bishop Kearney to succeed him March 17, 1961.

Father Predmore directed the renovation and redecoration of the church in 1947. The new convent was erected in 1950.

To take care of the increased registration in the school and to modernize the school and bring it up to the standards of today, a campaign was launched in the spring of 1959 which brought in a pledge of over $24,000. During the summer, the school was completely renovated and the new addition is now being built.

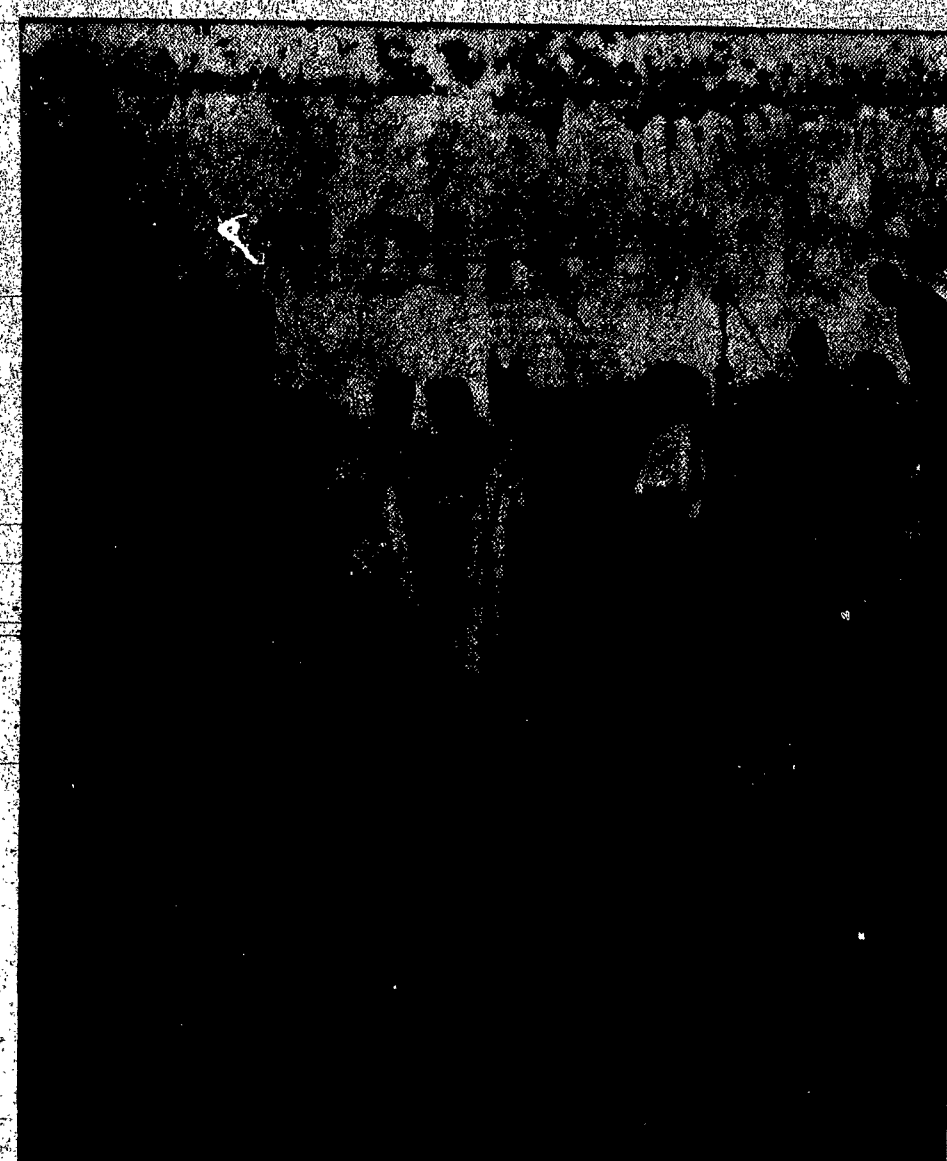

Assistant pastors have included Fathers William J. Ayers, W. Darcy Bolger, William H. Cassidy, Bernard B. Cleary, Patrick C. Connell, William B. Connell, William J. Devereaux, Walter A. Education, Role For Church

In his address, delivered after the congregation had joined the Sistine Chapel choir in singing the "Credo," Pope John admonished believers against being discouraged by the seeming triumph of concupiscence and sin in the world. He stressed that this "concerns only those who are weak and cowardly."

Calling on the faithful to remain firm in their belief in the "eternal destiny" promised by Our Lord, the Pope urged them meanwhile to practice the theological virtues of faith, hope and charity.

Declaring that charity remains the central point of ecclesiastical administration, he said that "too often" worldly thinking "inspires unjust thought on the part of those who cannot appreciate the value of the charity that the priest brings and will continue to bring to his ministry."

Pope John chided especially those who have urged that the clergy should withdraw from the society and dedicate themselves exclusively to liturgical functions.

THE SYNOD completed the drafting of a constitution for the Diocese of Rome which many believe will be adopted as a model for other dioceses in Italy and elsewhere. The articles approved by the synod must be reviewed by the Pope before a new constitution is finally promulgated.

The final working session dealt mainly with articles concerning rules for Catholics on birth control, abortion, sterilization and artificial insemination. Other articles stipulated that Catholic couples married in civil ceremonies must be branded as "public sinners." The synod also discussed articles barring priests from performing marriages for persons embracing Communist, materialistic or anti-Christian principles.

Race Bias Feared In New Nation

Cape Town — (RNS) — Misgivings about possible racial and religious inequalities in the South African Republic should a republic be advocated by the European population of the Union of South Africa when a referendum on the subject is held later this year — were expressed here by two Catholic archbishops.

Voicing their views in the Southern Cross national Catholic weekly published in Cape Town, were Archbishop John C. Garner of Pretoria, and Archbishop Denis E. Hurley of Durban.

"WHATEVER THE result of the referendum," Archbishop Garner said, "the Church can function equally well in a republic or a monarchy, provided the form of government is just showing justice to people of all colors, creeds, as well as justice to minorities, whether racial, political or religious."

Archbishop Hurley said that the 53-year-old director of the Lawrence radiation laboratory at the University of California spoke at the 106th annual Fordham College Alumni Association dinner, held in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Algiers

Prelate Aids Peace Quest

Algiers — (NC) — The Arch-God will protect the city of Algiers, the Archbishop of Algiers assured Algerians.

At the beginning of the eight-day rebellion, Archbishop Duval had joined the chief rabbi of Algiers and the leader of the Protestant community here in a joint appeal for prayer, city, Otun, meanwhile, large radio appeal asking the Algerians to pray for peace and concord.

Speaking over Radio Algiers (Jan. 27), Archbishop Duval said: "After contacting high military authorities, I am in a position to state before God and men that an armed attack against the Algerian stronghold is not the question. Therefore, I appeal for calmness and I give permission for Missions to all my request for prayer: that persons 'prevented' for concord and for peace from going to church" that day.

On Sunday, January 31, the rebel forces set up an outdoor altar within their barricaded area and asked that Mass be said. You that an armed attack against the Algerian stronghold is not the question. Therefore, I appeal for calmness and I give permission for Missions to all my request for prayer: that persons 'prevented' for concord and for peace from going to church" that day.

There were also special devotions for the intention of peace in France proper.

Parishians had a procession to the Basilica of the Sacred Heart on top of Montmarie.

Bishops Jolt Trujillo

San Juan — (NC) — The bishops of the Dominican Republic issued a strong defense of human rights and deplored "the sufferings which now afflict so many of their people."

In their first joint pastoral letter, touching on political questions since the advent of the Trujillo family rule 30 years ago, the bishops said they could not "remain indifferent to the grievous blow which has afflicted so many Dominican homes."

The pastoral does not spell out "the evils we lament," but Leonidas Trujillo, head of the regime since 1930, or his brother, President Hector B. Trujillo, but they said they had sent an "official letter" to the "highest authority of the country" asking avoidance of "excesses" which they said can "only bring harm to those who commit them."

The hierarchy said violations of such rights as freedom of conscience, press and assembly are a serious offense against God and against the dignity of man and cause irreparable harm to society.

The bishops did not mention the Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo, head of the regime since 1930, or his brother, President Hector B. Trujillo, but they said they had sent an "official letter" to the "highest authority of the country" asking avoidance of "excesses" which they said can "only bring harm to those who commit them."

Padre Pio, Fatima

End Of World Prophecy Denied

Rome — (NC) — The Capuchins' Superior General has flatly denied rumors that famed stigmatic Padre Pio has made prophecies about the imminent destruction of the world.

Rumors in Italy and in other countries attribute to Padre Pio the prophecy that two-thirds of the world's population will be destroyed by July 21.

Padre Pio, a native of Pietrelcina, is a stigmatic Capuchin monk who has been the subject of a book, "The Stigmatic," by Father Neuberger, a native of Milwaukee, Wis., quoted Padre Pio as saying that he has "never made nor ever intended to make a prophecy."

Declaring that such rumors are "purely imaginary," he said that he has "never made nor ever intended to make a prophecy."

Textbooks Win Reluctant OK

Orleans City — Taxpayers' books may be provided to parochial school pupils, Judge Ralph M. Holmes "reluctantly" ruled this week.

Reversing a 1957 U.S. Supreme Court decision authorizing bus rides for such pupils makes textbooks "permissible" too.

He stated his "emphatic dissent" with his own ruling, however.

Test A Bombs In Space

New York — (NC) — Dr. Edward Teller, known as "the father of the hydrogen bomb," has called for the U.S. to continue testing nuclear weapons by exploding them in space and underwater.

SUCH TESTING, the world-famous physicist said, will not leave any trace of radioactivity in the atmosphere. He suggested that the U.S. should permanently discontinue nuclear tests in the atmosphere, as opposed to space, and challenge the Russians to do likewise. The atmosphere is the mass of air immediately around the earth.

The 53-year-old director of the Lawrence radiation laboratory at the University of California spoke at the 106th annual Fordham College Alumni Association dinner, held in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.
