February Party Month

Our hearts can still be young and gay, at least on St. Valentine's Day. If you are doing any entertaining this month, there is no need to lack for a motif. Valentine's Day, Lincoln's Birthday and George Washington's birthday will give you ideas for color, food and novelties.

In the folklore of all people there's an astounding number of proverbs and sayings and signs about the weather. For instance, on the 2nd of February we have Ground Hog Day. Many people believe that if the ground hog sees his shadow on this day he'll be frightened and return to his burrow; won't venture out again for 6 weeks so . . . 6 weeks more of winter.

BOY SCOUT WEEK from the 8th to the 12th of February gives us a good opportunity to talk about and recognize fine young men. From the 8th of February, 1910 when the Boy Scout organization was incorporated in the U.S. until today when the membership is well over 3 million, the Boy Scouts have been doing a great job. For themselves and for all of us.

If your youngster is planning to entertain his fellow scouts this week or if you're trying to think of something different to prepare for Sunday afternoon when young folks drop in try making chocolate cinnamon toast. Youngsters love it. Serve it with milk or hot cocoa. Or just alone.

CHOCOLATE CINNAMON TOAST
¼ c. instant cocoa mix
⅓ c. sugar
1 t. cinnamon
Buttered hot toast

Combine instant cocoa, sugar and cinnamon; mix well. Sprinkle on hot buttered toast. Serve at once. Store leftover mixture in covered jar. Makes about ½ c. topping, or enough for 30 slices toast. FOR A CROWD, mix the dry ingredients with 5 tablespoons butter, melted. Spread at once on unbuttered toast. Mixture must be used at once as it becomes thick on standing.

CUPID is the little man we see on Valentine's Day. He was the Roman God of Love. The Greeks called him Eros. Shakespeare had an explanation of why Cupid is usually painted blind. He wrote in A MIDSUMMER-NIGHT'S Dream: "Love looks not with the eyes, but with the mind. And therefore is winged Cupid painted blind."

PINK, PERT, AND PRETTY

For February entertaining here's a nice salad, suitable for Valentine's Day or for Washington's Birthday. These dainty salads are a blend of tangy buttermilk, and cherry gelatin to which orange juice and a whisk of almond flavoring have been added. The mixture is chilled until partially set. Then fresh, plump cherries, crunchy celery and chopped nuts are folded in. Cherry Jubilee Salads are even better than they sound when served on crisp, curly endive with a complement of tangy sour cream dressing. Here's the recipe.

CHERRY JUBILEE SALADS
Individual Heart-Shaped Molds — 10

1 lb. can frozen cherries, thawed
¼ c. cherry juice
½ c. orange juice
1 pkg. cherry flavored gelatin
½ c. sugar
1 T. lemon juice
½ t. almond extract
¼ t. salt
1½ c. buttermilk
1 c. finely chopped celery
½ c. chopped almonds

Drain cherries. Heat ¼ c. cherry juice with the orange juice and dissolve cherry gelatin in it. Add sugar, lemon juice, almond extract, salt and buttermilk. Blend. Allow to chill until partially set. Add drained cherries, celery and almonds, and fill molds. Refrigerate until set and serve with sour cream dressing.

SOUR CREAM DRESSING: Combine 1 c. Dairy Sour Cream with 2 T. vinegar, ¼ t. salt, ¼ t. sugar and ¼ c. mayonnaise. Mix all ingredients except mayonnaise which is folded in last.

ON THE 22nd of FEBRUARY we celebrate the birthday of GEORGE WASHINGTON. An appropriate and refreshing COCONUT MACAROON drink to serve at gatherings in February is CHERRY-BERRY PUNCH. Make 2 quarts of it, or about 16 servings, this way.

Combine 1 package of cherry soft drink powder, ½ c. sugar, 2 c. cranberry juice and water and ice cubes to make 6 cups. Stir until soft drink powder and sugar are dissolved.

CHEWS make a very good nibbling cookie to go with CHERRY-BERRY PUNCH. It's especially tasty with the new Angel Flake Coconut. To make 15 cookies: Beat 1 egg white with a dash of salt until foamy. Add ½ c. sugar, a little at a time and continue to beat until mixture will hold stiff peaks. Fold in 1½ c. coconut and ½ t. vanilla. Drop from teaspoon onto lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. HAPPY FEBRUARY ENTERTAINING.

Jurist's Advice

Sacrifice, Key To Marriage

Los Angeles — (NC) — Successful marriage is a school of sacrifice, an experienced conciliation court jurist said here.

Judge Louis H. Burke told 1,500 men to ask themselves if "love", as they lived it, required sacrifice.

"If it doesn't," he said, "then it generally means that one gets little out of marriage because that's exactly what one puts into it."

The Los Angeles jurist, who wrote the book "With This Ring . . ." from his conciliation court experiences, spoke at the annual Holy Name Union breakfast here.

He blueprinted, in detail, a pattern for successful marriage from the romantic days of courtship to the often complex days of child rearing.

"We must never suffer our mutual attachment to become casual or commonplace under the chill of monotony or to languish with neglect or to degenerate into mere selfish passion."

MARRIED PEOPLE, said Judge Burke, should acquire the habit of ending each day by calling a definite halt on the day's work and problems.

"Once this time has been reached we must resolutely keep out everything unpleasant and give to each other the comfort, encouragement and loving solace we daily need so that refreshed and strengthened we can face cheerfully the tasks and troubles of the morrow," the jurist said.

"This daily measure of mutual interest, support and love is just as necessary for our happiness and welfare as are food and drink, and given this daily portion, we will be much less likely to forget and to wound each ohter."

Judge Burke gave the men a delineation of the four needs of a child for his spiritual, mental and physical development:

1 — "The love and active interest of each parent.

2 — "A home, however humble, where harmony prevails.

3 — "Our good example in leadership in his moral and spiritual development.

4 — "The assurance that he and each child in the home is treated fairly and impartially and that no one is loved more than the other."

Stengel Says Learn English

Manchester — (NC) — Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, who, among other things, has been called "th' Olda Perfesser," was given an opportunity to demonstrate his classroom ability at Bishop Bradley High School here.

He came here for the annual baseball dinner of the Union-Leader Fund, Inc., and stayed to lecture a class of seniors in of all things—English.

In a 20-minute talk to the students, he advised: "Don't copy my Stengelese. Learn to speak English the best you can. It will help you greatly in later years. People will understand you better."

Germans Aid Formosa

Taipei — (RNS)—Two Catholic churches are to be built in Formosa with the help of a collection taken up in the Diocese of Essen, Germany, recently.

The collection resulted from a pastoral letter in which Bishop Franz Hengsbach of Essen urged his flock to help meet the need for new churches in this country.

THE WEEKLY NOTE FROM MR. PEPSI:
We are all guilty. We all expect too much, and at the same time exhibit too little smiling friendship.
And, frowning, we say, "He didn't even remember my name!" Yet, how often have we simply "forgotten"—been "too busy within ourselves" to remember? We know—ourselves — how much a small smile is appreciated. So should we — in order to receive friendship — offer a smile with our handshake.
The power of a smile can not be measured. Nor can the value of friendship be weighed.
