Self-Denial

By MARY HINLEY DALY

Let's start this Lent with a self-denial. Let's start with a self-denial of the things that are not God. Let's start with a self-denial of the things that are not life. Let's start with a self-denial of the things that are not love.

It is interesting to note, in a Catholic family, this effect of Lent. The other 46 weeks of the year are spent more or less on the natural plane. There is no self-denial. There is no sacrifice. There is no giving up. There is no Lent.

WE ARE BOUND, those between the ages of 21 and 49, to observe the laws of fast and abstinence — and the abstinence applies to children over seven years. With the relaxing of the fast — and the doing away of it altogether in one country — the responsibility of parents to teach their children the meaning of the individual conscience.

The Little Ladies

By LOUISE WILSON

At bedtime, the day and night emulsion like Skin Dew which does its job of bringing the complexion back to its natural smooth, glowing state. The complexion is brought back to its natural smooth, glowing state.

THE FLOWERS THAT BLOOM IN THE SPRING have a special meaning. They are a symbol of life and hope. They are a symbol of the things that are not God. They are a symbol of the things that are not life. They are a symbol of the things that are not love.

THE LITTLE LADIES at the left are a group of young women who are dedicated to the service of God and the people. They are known for their piety and their devotion to their duties. They are a valuable part of the Church and the community.
