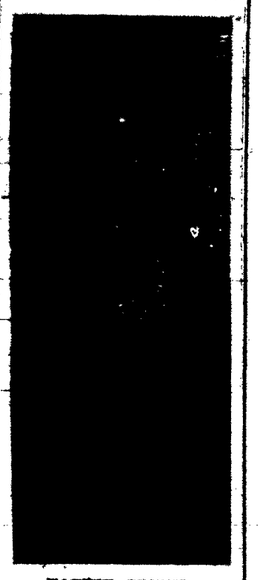
Tanganyika Mission Priest Visits Here

A priest with a brogue from Ireland came from Africa's Tanganyika to say thanks to Dr. Paul S. Lalonde, Rochester dentist.

THE MISSION priest said the doctor worker from "dawn to dark" during his six months battle against toothaches in the bush clinics of east Africa.

Rev. Michael Timlin, a Palloting Father born in County Mayo, Ireland, has just completed five years in the nation he described as "an island of peace in a restless continent." He sees a "great future" for the Church in Tanganyika which counts 1,000,000 faithful, an additional 1,000,000 under instruction, in a total population of 9,000,000.

He said Dr. Lalonde's work with the Medical Missionary nuns is a "fantastic" accomplishment in the face of handicaps thought to be insurmountable.



FATHER TIMLIN
Thanks from Tanganyika
