THE WEEKLY NOTE FROM MR. PEPSI:

This June's graduate will enter the modern business world with the optimism of youth and the wise words of ages past echoing in his mind.

He will find the competition keener and the pace much faster than did his father before him. Yet he will find, as men before him have found, that any reward which he can claim will be accomplished only on his own merit.

... Each day is a commencement of life — that today will be better than yesterday.

Frank G. Staropoli, Pres.
