Roses

By SUZANNE WIGG

Everything's coming up roses this week in the album department and right on cue, too since this is the time of the year when most people in this part of the state are flocking to Newark, New York to view the fabulous Jackson & Perkins Rose Festival.

ONE OF THE new albums to arrive is called "The Golden Dozen." It contains twelve of the most famous songs by the ever-popular composer, Jule Styne. Two of the composer's smash Broadway musicals are featured in the album, "Bells Are Ringing" and "Gypsy."

So, opening up with "Everything's Coming Up Roses" (one of the brightest new tunes of the present Broadway era) by the Kirby Stone Four, the album progresses with one hit after another each sung by the artist who made it a big seller record-wise.

"Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend" is sung by Carol Channing. "Three Coins In The Fountain" by Doris Day; "A Kiss On The Rainbow" by Johnny Mathis; "Just In Time" by Tony Bennett; "The Party's Over," by Polly Bergen, "Small World" by Johnny Mathis and "Together, Wherever We Go" by the Four Lads are some of the greats also contained on this platter.

From dance bands to movie scoring to popular songs to Broadway musicals to producer has been the career of Jule Styne and everything has come up roses for this — one of our most prolific and gifted composers.

MR. STYNE has contributed more than his share of melodious interludes to the pleasure of the world. His songs are on everyone's lips for they contain a buoyant quality and cover a wide range of musical emotion. (Columbia)

Another rose album to appear this week is a sort of pun in the album title. It is called "Life Is Just A Bowl of Nerves." With Katie Lee doing the vocals and Ray Martin taking care of the instrumental part of things, the album is a gentle dig at the fast-moving, hectic world we live in.

Katie Lee, an established folksinger, uses her vocal art in combining the style of folk singer with the taste of the satirist in these twelve gaudy songs which were written especially for the album. Some of the titles of these songs can give an idea of what it's all about. "Life Is Just A Bowl Of Nerves," "Ballad For Group Therapy," "The Insecure Tango," "Don't Wife," "The Get Well March" and "Be Miserable." The album pokes much fun at today's troubled world and couch therapy that it kind of makes one forget one's troubles. (RCA)

Watching The Screen

All Boy

by RAY SMITH

A whole new generation is ready for a long-awaited visual crack at "THE ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN" at the Loew's Theatre for the WHOLE FAMILY. Most parents who got to know "Huck" when they were young, will want their children to become acquainted with the original all-American boy, and many will decide to re-acquaint themselves in the process.

Two runaways, the boy Huck and the slave Jim, make their way down river on a raft, Huck to get away from his brutal father, Jim to seek freedom in the free state of Illinois. Whether on land or water, the boy's ready imagination keeps them one jump ahead of their pursuers and their captors.

Their adventure-filled escape is freely with a picturesque exaggerated lot of people, varying in helpfulness from the King and the Duke, rascally con men who force Huck and Jim to become their accomplices for a time, to a kindly riverboat captain who gives the lad pointers on navigating the big stream, and an easy-going carnival owner who makes the two fugitives part of his side show.

UNITED IN GOOD fortune or in trouble, the feeling of responsibility and affection between boy and slave is the strongest thread in this touching story. Eddie Hodges, though a little young for the role, makes a good Huck, whose boyish curiosity gets him into scrapes and whose wiles get him out. Archie Moore is a warm hearted manly figure as his devoted Jim. Well-detailed period touches set up a highly colorful background, and through it all, the wide Mississippi just keeps rolling along, a beautiful and impressive sight.

Archie Moore, the light heavy-weight champion of the world, gets my vote for bringing to the 100 minute film moments of real warmth and tenderness. Remember, all you members of the family, it's at the Loew's Theatre.

Sheer spectacle, gore, and quasi-historical action to excite those still willing to meet such films on their own primitive level can be seen by ADULTS AND ADOLESCENTS at the Palace Theatre under the sweet-sounding name of "HANNIBAL." The movie with Victor Mature and Rita Gam off to an interesting start in scenes illustrating the difficult and costly crossing of the snowy Alps (I'm changing my vacation), but slows down to an elephant's pace in romantic passages at the heart of the picture. For 103 minutes you won't be spell-bound but it's at least a time - killer.

The Paramount Theatre drew a blank this week after a wonderful seven days of fine entertainment. Now we have the "B" movie "The Rat Race" which should be enjoyed by those of the same species.

ELMIRA — 218 B.C. is the year to remember as "HANNIBAL" rides into the Colonial Theatre over the weekend for ADULTS and ADOLESCENTS. Kindly refer to the above, honorable reader. Watch out for next Wednesday when "The Rat Race" makes its "B" showing at the same Theatre. "THE MOUNTAIN ROAD" is still being driven by ADULTS and ADOLESCENTS for some good action and adventure.

HORNELL—"THE BRIDGES OF TOKO-RI" are built again at the Majestic Theatre FOR ADULTS and ADOLESCENTS. It's war and a lot of action. A big musical is coming your way on Wednesday in the A-II category under the name of "PORGY AND BESS."
